

America has been redistributing upward for after all, "trickle-down" economics turned out to be trickle up, but we outdid ourselves in 2013. At a time of record inequality and decreasing mobility, America conducted a Great Redistribution upward.

Results from a new study on ained via e was in bberies

America has been redistributing upward for after all, "trickle-down" economics turned out to be trickle up, but we outdid ourselves in 2013. At a time of record inequality and decreasing mobility, America conducted a Great Redistribution upward.

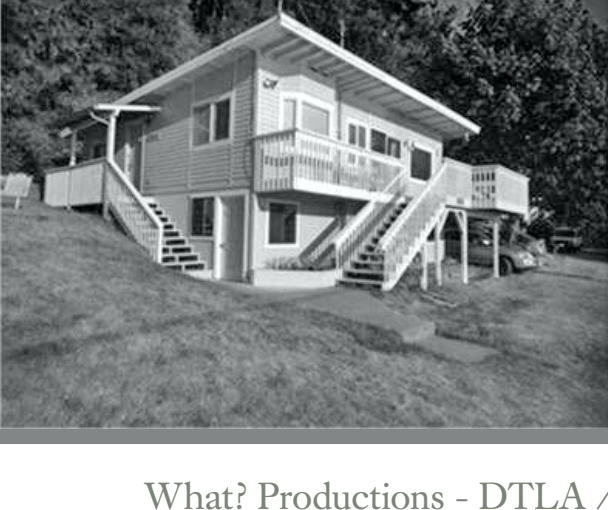

Results from a new study on

ice officer smashed Creators - Conde N

makers - Los Angeles 13: Assistant Producer of Feature - Indie Filmmakers - Los Angeles 14: AV Production Tech - Freelance - SAG Foundation - Los Angeles 15: Gaffer - Pixel Films Studios - Aliso Viejo 16: Researcher / Copy Writer - The Golden Closet - North Hollywood 17: On Set Sound Recorder - MasterMind Picturehouse - Burbank CA 18: 1st AC, Gaffer, Grip - Hot Tub Films - Los Angeles 19: Anime Animator - Derek Si-thidej - Los Angeles 20: Visual FX Artist - Ugly Brown Chair Productions - Encino 21: Script Supervisor - But Now

What? Productions - DTLA / San Fernando Valley 22: Music Composer - Kid-Pseudo Media - long beach 23: Producer - Freelance - Los Angeles 24: Producer - Shuhe Wang - Los Angeles 25: Documentary Director - Tzu Chi Foundation - San Dimas 26: Lifestyle & Event Photographer - Spark LA - Los Angeles 27: Editor - Remainder One - Los Angeles 28: Polishing Editor - Shoniqua Shandai Pictures - Los Angeles 29: Assistant Director (AD) - Man Of Silver Productions - Los Angeles 30: Sound Editor - Ob-ervation Pictures - West Side 31: Film Crew - Mandolin Casting - Los Angeles, Ca 32: First Assistant Director - Silver Entertainment - Los Angeles 33: Sound Operator - Just Giggle It - South Pasadena 34: C4D Animator - Merit/Andrew - Irvine 35: Gaffer,Key Grip,Craft Services - GOE, LLC - Los Angeles 36: Web Designer - We Are Famous - Culver City 37: Music Video/Short Film Crew - Independent - Los Angeles 38: Producer - Student Film - Los Angeles 39: General Crew - ScarlettOh Productions - Oceanside 40: Dolly Grip - American Film Institute - Los Angeles 41: Promo Director - na - Los Angeles 42: Cinematographers - NYFA Student - Los Angeles 43: Graphic Artist - Birds Eye Film - Miami, FL 44: Animator/artist, editors, etc - The Remnant

- Long Beach /LA 45: Soundguy&boom operator. - New York Film Academy - Los Angeles 46: Production Designer - Short film - Hollywood 47: DP & Sound, with equipment - Uncle John Productions - Los Angeles 48: Editor - VM Productions - Los Angeles 49: Underwater Crew NEEDED - UCLA Thesis Film - Westwood 50: Production assistant - Lone Ranger Films - Los Angeles 51: Art Decorator Feature Film Set - Indie Filmmakers - Los Angeles 52: VFX artist - Independent - Los Angeles, San Francisco 53: Script Supervisor - ASCA Films - Los Angeles 54: Director of Photography - Kristin Findley - Los Angeles 55: Production Designer - Art center college of design - Pasadena 56: Production Assistant - AFI - Los Angeles 57: Production Designer - Student Film - Los Angeles 58: Script Supervisor Feature Film - Indie Filmmakers - Los Angeles 59: Feature Screenplay Writer (Music Film) - KJ Anderson Studios - Los Angeles 60: Bilingual Final Cut X Editor - CREXELS - Downtown Los Angeles 61: Director of Photography - Spectrum Productions

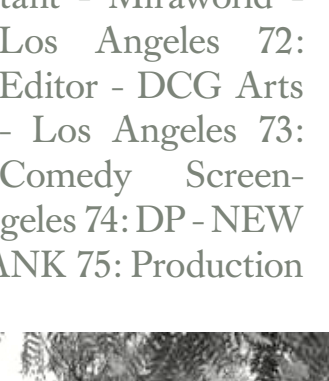

- Los Angeles 62: DP, Producer, Pdtm. Designer - Torre - North Hollywood 63: Grip, electrics, camera assist AFI Short - American film institute - Los Angeles 64: DP - The Present Future - LA 65: Production Designer - Columbia College Hollywood - Shooting - Thousand Oaks 66: Art department - Lumen Actus, LLC - Anaheim 67: Executive Producer - Bam!PRODUCED., LLC - Los Angeles 68: DOP for Micro Horror Feature - BDE LLC - Los Angeles, CA 69: Production Team/Producer - Lotus Kitty Inc - Los Angeles 70: Field Producer/Shooter - Legends Rising - Los Angeles 71: Production Assistant - Miraworld - Los Angeles 72: Editor - DCG Arts - Los Angeles 73: Comedy Screenwriter - Whale Productions - Los Angeles 74: DP - NEW YORK FILM ACADEMY - BURBANK 75: Production Intern - Katy Cole - Los Angeles 76: General Crew - Boxttruck Boyz - Hollywood 77: co-writer - New York Film Academy - Burbank 78: Special Effects Make-Up Artist - New View Pictures - San Fernando Valley 79: Location Manager - Brain Bug - Los Angeles, CA 80: Construction Coordinator - Grant Larson Productions - Los Angeles 81: Make up Artist (Horror) - Alexandre Wilson - Burbank 82: MILITARY VETERAN FILM CREW - Veteran Films - Los Angeles 83: Production Assistant - NBCUniversal - Stamford, CT 84: AVID Comedy Clip Editor - NBCUniversal - STAMFORD 85: Digital Sales Designer - NBC Sports - Stamford 86: Master Control Technician - Middle East Broadcasting - Springfield 87: VISUAL FX - CGI ARTIST - TOTEM FILMS & VIDEO PRODUC-TION - Work from your home 88: DSLR Operator - Boykins Entertainment - Orlando 89: Rental House Manager Needed - Moving Picture Electronic Services - South Florida 90: Editor Producer - Turner Broadcasting System Inc - Miami 91: Motion Graphics Artist - Vision Media, Inc. - West Broward 92: Various Crew Positions - O CHELSY PRODUCTIONS - Homestead Florida 93: boom operator - N/A - Orlando 94: Make Up/Hair Artist - Fine Light entertainment - Miami 95: Gaffer - Fine Light entertainment - Miami 96: Sound Mixer - FLE - Miami 97: PA - Fine Light Entertainment - Miami 98: Sound Mixer - D & A Films Reality - MiamiBeach 99: Assistant/Intern - Dog Files - Orlando/Clermont 1 0 0 : Metadata Writing and QC - Crawford Metaforce - Working from home/Remote 101: production audio - naked mountain productions - Atlanta 102: Cameraaman Apprenticeship: ATTL - Go To Team - Atlanta, GA 103: Camera Assistant - Chopper-Shoot Productions - Chicago 104: Production Assistant - Life Focus Communications - Orland Park 105: Production Manager/AD - Dreaming Tree Films - Chicago

106: Camera Operator - Pethanjali Yoga - Bethesda MD 20814 107: Master Control Technician - Middle East Broadcasting - Springfield 108: Producer/Associate Producees - Ask Dr. Nandi - Farmington Hills

109: Wedding Videographer - Wilson Sarkis Photography - West Bloomfield 110: Online editor/script doctor - EverGate Studios - Stl 111: Camera Operator, AC, PA - HIDE - Springfield, 112: Production Assistant - Memories In Motion - Las Vegas 113: Production Assistant - NBCUniversal - Stamford, CT 114: Post Production Producer - N/A - BROOKLYN 115: Digital Distribution Tech - FilmRise - Brooklyn 116: Freelance Video-Shooter/Producer - Tom'sGuide/Purch - NYC/Chelsea FlatIron District 117: Sound person w/ equipment - Independent - New York 118: Gaffer for low budget - Halcyon Valor Productions - Union City 119: Feature Film Editor - Electromesh Productions - New York City 120: Make-up Artist - Digital Film Academy - New York City 121: Production Assistant - The Production - Englewood, NJ 122: Set Designer / Assistant - independent - NEW YORK 123: Line Prod. Wardrobe, Makeup - Confidential - New York City 128: Production Assistant - black-STORY - BROOKLYN 125: Seeking Agent - CONFIDENTIAL - Brooklyn 126: Lighting and Grip Rental Agent - ARRI Rental - Secaucus 127: Production/Editing Intern Wanted - CatScape Productions - New York 128: Sound ADR & Mixing, Indie IMDB - Big Apple - nyc 129: PRODUCTION MGR SPECIAL EVENTS - Viacom Inc. - New York 130: VP, PRODUCTION, SPIKE SPORTS, - Viacom Inc. - New York 131: Micro-Budget Producer - Los Banditos Yanguis - Brooklyn, NY 132: Producer - TBA - NYC 133: Department Heads and Key Crew - Transfiguration Films - NYC 134: Studio Manager - Juniper Jones DUMBO, Brooklyn 135: Student DP ,Lights,&Sound - studentz - UWS, New York, NY 136: Graphics Artist and Editor - AT&T - Bedminster NJ 137: Audition (Camera) Technician - Freelance - Screen

Actors Guild Foundation - New York 138: Shooter/Editor - Stokes Creative Group, Inc. - Nyack, NY 139: Makeup artist - Quin & Co - Brooklyn, NY 140: Internship - Braven Films - Manhattan 141: Freelance Junior Art Buyer - FCB Health - New York 142: Screenwriter - Gramercy Films - NYC 143: The Director Of Photography - Giraffeg4 Systems LLC - NY 144: Production Designer/Set Design - New York Film Academy - New York 145: Production Interns - MNA Productions Inc. - Manhattan 146: Production Assistant - M-Squared Creative - Tarrytown 147: Light & Sound Tech for Theatre - VDay Taconic - NY 148: Assistant Editor - JECCO Productions - Long Island 149: Editorial Producer Weekend - Complex - New York City 150: DP & Editor - BC Productions - NYC 151: Assistant Editor - Decon - New York 152: Cinematographer - Red Camera - VERAME-AT - New York 153: Observer/Volunteer - Troma Entertainment, Inc. - New York 154: Drone Operator with equipment - SuedeTV bergen county 155: illustrator - private - nyc 156: Junior Creative Director - MultiVu Creative - Manhattan 157: Craft Service/catering - Lo Budget film - Brooklyn Ny 158: Post Production Flash Animator - Project Fathom - Brooklyn 159: Script Writer - Concepts TV Productions-Morris County 160: Production Internship - Glass Shack Films - Manhattan 161: Account Coordinator/Manager - Deluxe Media - Manhattan 162: Sound - True Blue Productions - NYC to Atlantic City 163: Grips and Production Assistants - Motopony Productions - Brooklyn 164: DP, Audio - Hollow Hills - New York, NY 165: Freelance Video Editor - Video SEO Pro - White Plains, NY 166: Production Designer and Production staff - Cakewalk Productions - NYC 167: Senior Avid Editor - private - Manhattan 168: AC - Anonymous Production Company - Buffalo 169: Graphic Designer - Definite Films - New York 170: Camera Operators - NRG Film Company - Central Jersey 171: Motion Graphics Artist Intern - Merge Creative Media,LLC - New York city 172: Prod Crew for Comedy Webseries - Paigesfunny Productions - New York 173: Internship - A Crime to Remember LLC - New York, New York 174: Sound - Hunter Productions - Wayne 175: VFX Artist - Troma Entertainment, Inc - Anywhere

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

Harvard Grad Student - Manhattan 198: Art Director - Light - New York 199: A.D's and D.O.P's - Confidential - New York City 200: ALL CREW POSITIONS-Web Series - Independent - New York City,Brooklyn,Queens 201: Cartoon Animator - Blazur Films - Fairfield County 202: Seeking Animated Series - CARTUNA - BROOKLYN 203: Background Painter - Box Animation - New York 204: Wardrobe Supervisor - The Depths LLC - Union City, NJ 205: Crew - Independent - Cape Vincent, NY 206: Editor - Small Media Extra Large - NY 207: Film Camera and lighting, Operator - Stove Top Productions - Williamsburg 208: UNPAID Asst. Editor - N/A - Brooklyn 209: Entire crew and talent - Where's the Lake Productions - Parsippany 210: Editor, ScriptSupervisor,Still - A Reason LLC - New York City 211: Make-up Artist - L & H Productions, LLC - Manhattan 212: Editor - Trygon Pictures LLC - nationwide 213: Multiple Positions - Twenty Twelve Productions - Brooklyn 214: Gaffer with some equipment - Feature Film - Brooklyn and

160: Production Internship - Glass Shack Films - Manhattan 161: Account Coordinator/Manager - Deluxe Media - Manhattan 162: Sound - True Blue Productions - NYC to Atlantic City 163: Grips and Production Assistants - Motopony Productions - Brooklyn 164: DP, Audio - Hollow Hills - New York, NY 165: Freelance Video Editor - Video SEO Pro - White Plains, NY 166: Production Designer and Production staff - Cakewalk Productions - NYC 167: Senior Avid Editor - private - Manhattan 168: AC - Anonymous Production Company - Buffalo 169: Graphic Designer - Definite Films - New York 170: Camera Operators - NRG Film Company - Central Jersey 171: Motion Graphics Artist Intern - Merge Creative Media,LLC - New York city 172: Prod Crew for Comedy Webseries - Paigesfunny Productions - New York 173: Internship - A Crime to Remember LLC - New York, New York 174: Sound - Hunter Productions - Wayne 175: VFX Artist - Troma Entertainment, Inc - Anywhere

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

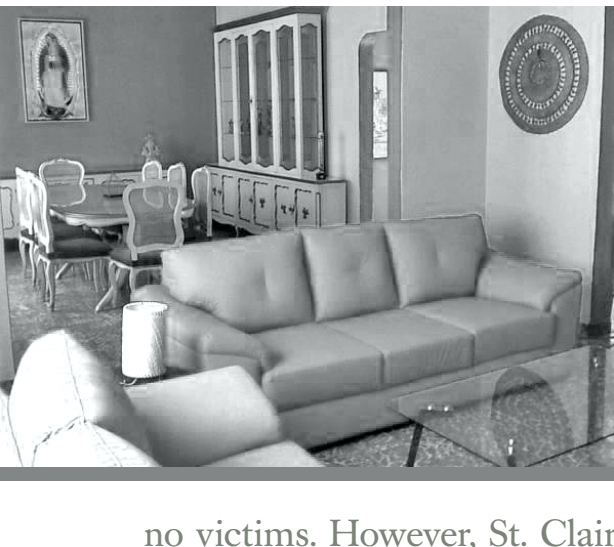

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 185: Makeup Artist. - Land Dog Films - Brooklyn 186: Location Manager - Game 7 Films - NYC 187: Line Producer - Game 7 Films - New York City 188: Location Scout - Production Company - Central NJ 189: Office Manager - Maha Partners - Midtown 190: Production+Editing assistant - Callejero Films Inc - Brooklyn 191: PRODUCTION INTERN - Meltzer Media Productions - MANHATTAN 192: Editor - Confidential - Manhattan 193: Production Assistants - These Three Girls Webseries - New York 194: Evening Receptionist - Jump - NoHo 195: Editor - Vitale Productions - NYC 196: VFX Artist - Shoulder-Hill Entertainment - NYC 197: PA/AE -

176: Interns/Volunteers - Katra Film Series - NYC 177: Video Production Specialist - Legal Services of New Jersey - Edison 178: Development Intern - NYC Production Company - New York 179: Account (Client Ser) Manager - Deluxe Media Services - Manhattan West Village 180: Editor - Iron Rose Productions - New York 181: CREW MEMBERS DP, Sound, Editor - 21ST CENTURY VISION FILMS - New York 182: Shooter - Juice Groove Films - NYC 183: Still Photo Lighting Assistant - March of Dimes - White Plains NY & Norwalk CT 184: Makeup Artist - Psych Ward Films - Bayport, NY 18

within the vicinity of a robbery. Arthur Sargeant, 48 allegedly shot the man in the back, and although the suspect was taken to the hospital, he was never arrested or charged with a crime. In this area of St. Louis, the neighborhoods are patrolled by agents who are still hired by no victims. However, St. Clair County State's Attorney Brendan Kelly said that he will be charged to the same extent that an average citizen would. This week, 49-year-old Arthur Sargeant of the St. Louis Police Department was charged with driving under the influence of cocaine, and one count of aggravated battery with a firearm. A state police investigation revealed that he may have been high when she shot a man in the back during a burglary investigation.

“For more than seven years, the government has collected the phone records of every American under Section 215 of the Patriot Act, without ever having the justify the program's legality in a public and adversarial court hearing,” Brett Max Kaufman, a legal fellow with the ACLU National Security Project, wrote for the ACLU blog after the lawsuit was filed on Nov. 2013. The ruling issued by the court says that a provision of the USA Patriot Act permitting “the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) to collect business records deemed relevant to a counter terrorism investigation cannot be legitimately interpreted to permit the systematic bulk collection of domestic calling records.” Let's know about Section 215 of the Patriot Act: Section 215 of the Patriot Act legally authorizes the law enforcement to collect “any tangible things” that the government proves are linked or connected to an investigation into any suspected terrorist. However, the latest verdict by U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals now ruled that the mass collection of telephone metadata program run by the NSA - Not Authorized by Section 215 of the Patriot Act. Section 215 “cannot bear the weight the government asks us to assign to it, and that it does not authorize the telephone metadata program,” writes Judge Gerard E. Lynch. “Such expensive development of government repositories of formerly private records would be an unprecedented contraction of the privacy expectations of all Americans.” Good Day, I am Nathan L. Arenson. Steve Tran is donating a grant of 550,000 United State Dollars to you as part of his humanitarian project. Contact him via email at (stevetrandonation@gmail.com) for further details. Best Regards, Nathan L. Arenson For: Steve Tran Foundation The World Health Organization declared Liberia free of Ebola on Saturday, making it the first of the three hardest-hit

West African countries to bring a formal end to the epidemic. The outbreak of Ebola virus disease in Liberia is over, the W.H.O. said in a statement read by Dr. Alex Ntale Gasasira, the W.H.O.s representative to Liberia, in a packed conference room at the emergency command center in Monrovia, the capital. Just prior to Dr. Gasasira's statement, Luke Bawo, an epidemiologist, showed a map depicting all of Liberia in green with the number 42 superimposed on it. This represented that two maximum incubation periods of the virus, a total of 42 days, transmission of the virus has ended. According to the W.H.O., there were more than 3,000 confirmed Ebola cases in Liberia, and a further 7,400 suspected or probable cases, with more than 4,700 deaths estimated to have occurred since the outbreak was declared there in March of 2014. Among the dead were 189 health care workers. The first nettime message was sent on 31 May 1995,[1] almost twenty years ago. A lot has happened since then, and we're proud of how well this list, and the larger nettime 'neighborhood,' has traced many of these epochal changes. The list's alumni/ae is a who's who of critical culture across an incredible range of fields. They -- really, *you-- have helped to redefine activism, shape national and international legal and economic reforms, lead international cultural festivals and some of the world's most famous museums, produce astonishing works of art, write fiction and nonfiction that's won awards and redefined entire disciplines, and build crucial free and open-source software, to name just a few things. And those are just the 'heroic' stories. There are many more obscure ones that, if anything, are even more impressive, as even a quick glance at nettime's Wikipedia entry will show. A few nettimers have passed away, and we miss them dearly, still. Moreover, most like-minded projects of a similar age have either vanished or, alternatively, have succeeded by forsaking their alternative status for the discursive bonds of institutional security. Nettime stands alone as a deliberately, even radically independent project. Its migration over the years -- in-berlin.de, desk.nl, material.net, waag.net, and now kein.org and bitnik.org -- tells just one part of that story. But if times have changed, Nettime has not. At a time when an email address as such is becoming a generational marker (for many younger people it's little more than a tool of the man), the very idea of a mailing list is itself an anachronism. It's slow -- sometimes slower than a mailed letter would be, at this point. It takes time to read and write. And there's no images, no memes, no numbers, stats or ranks, no friends or followers -- in short, there's not much to like about it. 'Tactical' media has gone viral -- it's mainly absorbed in its own anthologies -- while 'viral' media have become a cliché for marketers and other assorted bottom-feeders. Nettime is still devoted to criticism of the net, in a way. But how could that matter when it's debatable whether 'the net' even exists. Hasn't everyone else moved on to the post-digital? 'Posttime,' anyone? In this and many other ways, nettime has been 'graying.' It's wedded to a particular Euro-American moment, the so-called summer of the Internet, which has since turned to winter. Nettime's once-radical embrace of the ex-East -- or, if you like, of the ex-West -- barely extends to Hungary now, and has nothing to say to the decisive conflicts around Russia's borders, obviously (but not only) in Ukraine. Its early tacit prohibition on ritualized debates about Israel and Palestine has grown into a complete failure to address the profoundly important dynamics across parts of the world conventionally -- and reductively -- called 'Muslim' or 'Arab.' These areas are too often consigned to the 'timelessness' of conflict, but there's every reason to believe that their liberatory struggles could ultimately define the future of the 'WEIRD' nations. China? Barely a peep about it. Africa? Nettime is nowhere-ville. The seas, the skies, the circulatory flows? Nada. And how about nongeographical 'areas' where the most moving cultural changes are happening -- in the flowering of new forms of subjectivity around the world and the new forms of sovereignty they're giving rise to. Silence. But, really, who cares what a bunch of straight white cis guys -- which is 95% of the list's traffic -- think about those things? Really. We briefly hoped that we might begin to address these questions and more with a twentieth-anniversary conference in Bucharest. Not a 'revival tour' of nettime's ageing heroes but, instead, some broader kind of gathering around newer, open questions. Unfortunately, that didn't pan out. Nettime is not mobile and there is no app for that. After considering these and other options, and trying to imagine how we could 'upgrade' nettime's creaky infrastructure so that it'd at least have a chance, we've reluctantly come to the conclusion that it would be better to make a graceful exit. So we've decided to fold up shop on 30 May, the day before the list would turn twenty. Nettime has a troubled history when it comes to unsubscribing people -- plus, since we're stuck in 1995 and *none of this this is automated -- so we're asking that each of you to pitch in by unsubscribing yourself before that date. You can find the link to do so here: Personally, we -- Ted

Byfield and Felix Stalder -- would like to say that it's been a pleasure and an honor to moderate the list for the last seventeen-odd years. It's been a part of our lives, and we'll miss it very much. However, this crime is not Rios Montt's, alone. The genocide would have been impossible without the United States, which had run the show in Guatemala since 1954 and had armed the general to the teeth. The U.S. corporate media like to call President Ronald Reagan the “Great Communicator” but, in Guatemala, he was the Great Exterminator, encouraging and financing General

Rios Montt's orgy of mass murder. Reagan described the racist butcher as “a man of great personal integrity and commitment” who was “getting a bum rap.” All told, a quarter million or more Guatemalans died in the 40 years since the CIA robbed them of their democracy and independence.

The Maya were targeted for extermination because of their ethnicity.” In 1999, when the civil war was over, President Bill Clinton apologized for the harm done to Guatemala by the United States. But by then, Clinton had already set in motion a far larger genocide in the Democratic Republic of Congo -- a U.S.-sponsored holocaust that has so far claimed 6 million lives. In a just world, Slick Willie would join an auditorium full of Obama, Bush and Clinton administration operatives who, over the space of 16 years, made eastern Congo the charnel house of the planet. Susan Rice would have a place of prominence in this vast assemblage of criminals, as among the most culpable for the worst bloodbath since World War Two. In fact, there is no auditorium big enough to hold the all the living Americans who should justly be charged with genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. There are too many -- great crowds of them from each administration, especially in the last ten years, since the invasion of Iraq. Imperialism in its last stages maintains an ever-lengthening Kill List. Guatemala is coming to grips with its past, in a trial that will probably last a few months. The United States has an infinity of crimes to answer for. Using the timeline on the right side of the window will allow you to reach back to a certain point in time. The timeline shows all the times of your backups on the drive. If you don't know exactly when you deleted that photo you can use the back arrow to tell Time Machine to travel through time to show you when that folder last changed. You can also search for a file using a Finder window. From the Finder, enter Time Machine and then enter a search term in the search field. Use the back arrow to have Time Machine search through your backups. To restore a file, select the file or folder and click the “Restore” button. If you are not sure if you are restoring the right file, you can use Quick Look to preview the contents. Highlight the file and press the Space Bar to take a closer look. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change: specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). The United States was provided with strong military support by countries such as Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Spain, while the no-fly zone to oust Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi was led by France and the UK in 2011 and aided by Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Canada, among others. When Congolese women and children screamed in agony, United Nations Ambassador Susan Rice said, literally, that the U.S. should “look the other way” -- knowing full well that a people were being annihilated. She is no different than the high Nazi officials who were hanged for waging aggressive war and the slaughter of millions, almost 70 years ago. “If the Nurem-burg rules of international justice were in force today, the highest officials in London and Washington would face death by hanging for their monstrous crimes.” And now, after 16 years of unspeakable carnage, the world's greatest military power, equipped with the most sophisticated means of information gathering ever devised, whose soldiers train and equip the Rwandans and Ugandans who are responsible for tens of thousands of murders a month, claims to have only the most limited knowledge of how six million people wound up dead -- half of them children below the age of five. Today, many paintings that are displayed in the gallery are also contemplated online on platforms such as Instagram. This is a widely discussed phenomenon, but what is often overlooked in painting discourse is the role played by works created and experienced on the computer and the internet. This kind of digital painting has existed for decades: for example, the 1970s software SuperPaint already included many features found in modern paint applications. “Brushes” acknowledges this long history while focusing on practices that have emerged in recent years. Every day, hundreds of traumatized and persecuted families are crying to Europe. With no peace in sight to wars like Syria, their choice to board a boat may be the only one they have. All they want is safety. The UN says nearly one million people need urgent help, and increasing safe and legal routes is the best way to reduce the numbers risking their lives, and curb violent people trafficking. In coarse black lines, hand-scratched metal, fragmented text and visceral colour, the Toronto-based artist traces the trajectory of heavy industry, high technology, military night and maciactal folly as they clear-cut their way through blighted landscapes and a besieged human psyche. From his working-class roots in Windsor, the self-aware and wry-humoured Scott has remained consistent and eerily prescient in raw-edged drawings and found-object installations that plot a vector from Space Age optimism -- mankind's giant leap” in the 20th century to the nihilism of unceasing war and terror in the 21st. In just over 35 years. As refugees are stranded at train stations, attacked by riot police, and killed during the perilous journey across the Mediterranean, Europe's failure to address the rising humanitarian crisis is being met with global outrage and sorrow. Now, many are also looking across the Atlantic to the United States, where observers say key responsibility for the crisis lies--not only because the country is lagging in its humanitarian response, but also because its war policies lie at the root of the ongoing displacement. What's more, many have pointed out that aid dollars pale in comparison to U.S. military spending. Yacoub El Hillo, the top United Nations humanitarian official in Syria, recently noted to the New York Times that while the U.S. government spends $68,000 an hour on warplanes targeting ISIS, the UN grapples with dramatic funding shortfalls in which it has less than 50 percent of what it needs to care for Syrians uprooted by war. Chevron's deliberate dumping of 18 billion gallons of toxic waste water and 17 million gallons of crude into the Ecuadorian Amazon created a massive health crisis and remains one of the worst oil-related environmental crimes in history. A federal grand jury returned an indictment charging Gill DeWayne Garrett, 29, of Versailles, Kentucky, with unlawful distribution of a controlled substance that resulted in an overdose death, anlieve that their liberatory struggles could ultimately define the future of the 'WEIRD' nations. China? Barely a peep about it. Africa? Nettime is nowhere-ville. The seas, the skies, the circulatory flows? Nada. And how about nongeographical 'areas' where the most moving cultural changes are happening -- in the flowering of new forms of subjectivity around the world and the new forms of sovereignty they're giving rise to. Silence. But, really, who cares what a bunch of straight white cis guys -- which is 95% of the list's traffic -- think about those things? Really. We briefly hoped that we might begin to address these questions and more with a twentieth-anniversary conference in Bucharest. Not a 'revival tour' of nettime's ageing heroes but, instead, some broader kind of gathering around newer, open questions. Unfortunately, that didn't pan out. Nettime is not mobile and there is no app for that. After considering these and other options, and trying to imagine how we could 'upgrade' nettime's creaky infrastructure so that it'd at least have a chance, we've reluctantly come to the conclusion that it would be better to make a graceful exit. So we've decided to fold up shop on 30 May, the day before the list would turn twenty. Nettime has a troubled history when it comes to unsubscribing people -- plus, since we're stuck in 1995 and *none of this this is automated -- so we're asking that each of you to pitch in by unsubscribing yourself before that date. You can find the link to do so here: Personally, we -- Ted

Byfield and Felix Stalder -- would like to say that it's been a pleasure and an honor to moderate the list for the last seventeen-odd years. It's been a part of our lives, and we'll miss it very much. However, this crime is not Rios Montt's, alone. The genocide would have been impossible without the United States, which had run the show in Guatemala since 1954 and had

armed the general to the teeth. The U.S. corporate media like to call President Ronald Reagan the “Great Communicator” but, in Guatemala, he was the Great Exterminator, encouraging and financing General

Rios Montt's orgy of mass murder. Reagan described the racist butcher as “a man of great personal integrity and commitment” who was “getting a bum rap.” All told, a quarter million or more Guatemalans died in the 40 years since the CIA robbed them of their democracy and independence.

The Maya were targeted for extermination because of their ethnicity.” In 1999, when the civil war was over, President Bill Clinton apologized for the harm done to Guatemala by the United States. But by then, Clinton had already set in motion a far larger genocide in the Democratic Republic of Congo -- a U.S.-sponsored holocaust that has so far claimed 6 million lives. In a just world, Slick Willie would join an auditorium full of Obama, Bush and Clinton administration operatives who, over the space of 16 years, made eastern Congo the charnel house of the planet. Susan Rice would have a place of prominence in this vast assemblage of criminals, as among the most culpable for the worst bloodbath since World War Two. In fact, there is no auditorium big enough to hold the all the living Americans who should justly be charged with genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. There are too many -- great crowds of them from each administration, especially in the last ten years, since the invasion of Iraq. Imperialism in its last stages maintains an ever-lengthening Kill List. Guatemala is coming to grips with its past, in a trial that will probably last a few months. The United States has an infinity of crimes to answer for. Using the timeline on the right side of the window will allow you to reach back to a certain point in time. The timeline shows all the times of your backups on the drive. If you don't know exactly when you deleted that photo you can use the back arrow to tell Time Machine to travel through time to show you when that folder last changed. You can also search for a file using a Finder window. From the Finder, enter Time Machine and then enter a search term in the search field. Use the back arrow to have Time Machine search through your backups. To restore a file, select the file or folder and click the “Restore” button. If you are not sure if you are restoring the right file, you can use Quick Look to preview the contents. Highlight the file and press the Space Bar to take a closer look. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change: specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). The United States was provided with strong military support by countries such as Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Spain, while the no-fly zone to oust Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi was led by France and the UK in 2011 and aided by Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Canada, among others. When Congolese women and children screamed in agony, United Nations Ambassador Susan Rice said, literally, that the U.S. should “look the other way” -- knowing full well that a people were being annihilated. She is no different than the high Nazi officials who were hanged for waging aggressive war and the slaughter of millions, almost 70 years ago. “If the Nurem-

burg rules of international justice were in force today, the highest officials in London and Washington would face death by hanging for their monstrous crimes.” And now, after 16 years of unspeakable carnage, the world's greatest military power, equipped with the most sophisticated means of information gathering ever devised, whose soldiers train and equip the Rwandans and Ugandans who are responsible for tens of thousands of murders a month, claims to have only the most limited knowledge of how six million people wound up dead -- half of them children below the age of five. Today, many paintings that are displayed in the gallery are also contemplated online on platforms such as Instagram. This is a widely discussed phenomenon, but what is often overlooked in painting discourse is the role played by works created and experienced on the computer and the internet. This kind of digital painting has existed for decades: for example, the 1970s software SuperPaint already included many features found in modern paint applications. “Brushes” acknowledges this long history while focusing on practices that have emerged in recent years. Every day, hundreds of traumatized and persecuted families are crying to Europe. With no peace in sight to wars like Syria, their choice to board a boat may be the only one they have. All they want is safety. The UN says nearly one million people need urgent help, and increasing safe and legal routes is the best way to reduce the numbers risking their lives, and curb violent people trafficking. In coarse black lines, hand-scratched metal, fragmented text and visceral colour, the Toronto-based artist traces the trajectory of heavy industry, high technology, military night and maciactal folly as they clear-cut their way through blighted landscapes and a besieged human psyche. From his working-class roots in Windsor, the self-aware and wry-humoured Scott has remained consistent and eerily prescient in raw-edged drawings and found-object installations that plot a vector from Space Age optimism -- mankind's giant leap” in the 20th century to the nihilism of unceasing war and terror in the 21st. In just over 35 years. As refugees are stranded at train stations, attacked by riot police, and killed during the perilous journey across the Mediterranean, Europe's failure to address the rising humanitarian crisis is being met with global outrage and sorrow. Now, many are also looking across the Atlantic to the United States, where observers say key responsibility for the crisis lies--not only because the country is lagging in its humanitarian response, but also because its war policies lie at the root of the ongoing displacement. What's more, many have pointed out that aid dollars pale in comparison to U.S. military spending. Yacoub El Hillo, the top United Nations humanitarian official in Syria, recently noted to the New York Times that while the U.S. government spends $68,000 an hour on warplanes targeting ISIS, the UN grapples with dramatic funding shortfalls in which it has less than 50 percent of what it needs to care for Syrians uprooted by war. Chevron's deliberate dumping of 18 billion gallons of toxic waste water and 17 million gallons of crude into the Ecuadorian Amazon created a massive health crisis and remains one of the worst oil-related environmental crimes in history. A federal grand jury returned an indictment charging Gill DeWayne Garrett, 29, of Versailles, Kentucky, with unlawful distribution of a controlled substance that resulted in an overdose death, an-

lieve that their liberatory struggles could ultimately define the future of the 'WEIRD' nations. China? Barely a peep about it. Africa? Nettime is nowhere-ville. The seas, the skies, the circulatory flows? Nada. And how about nongeographical 'areas' where the most moving cultural changes are happening -- in the flowering of new forms of subjectivity around the world and the new forms of sovereignty they're giving rise to. Silence. But, really, who cares what a bunch of straight white cis guys -- which is 95% of the list's traffic -- think about those things? Really. We briefly hoped that we might begin to address these questions and more with a twentieth-anniversary conference in Bucharest. Not a 'revival tour' of nettime's ageing heroes but, instead, some broader kind of gather-

ing around newer, open questions. Unfortunately, that didn't pan out. Nettime is not mobile and there is no app for that. After considering these and other options, and trying to imagine how we could 'upgrade' nettime's creaky infrastructure so that it'd at least have a chance, we've reluctantly come to the conclusion that it would be better to make a graceful exit. So we've decided to fold up shop on 30 May, the day before the list would turn twenty. Nettime has a troubled history when it comes to unsubscribing people -- plus, since we're stuck in 1995 and *none of this this is automated -- so we're asking that each of you to pitch in by unsubscribing yourself before that date. You can find the link to do so here: Personally, we -- Ted

ing around newer, open questions. Unfortunately, that didn't pan out. Nettime is not mobile and there is no app for that. After considering these and other options, and trying to imagine how we could 'upgrade' nettime's creaky infrastructure so that it'd at least have a chance, we've reluctantly come to the conclusion that it would be better to make a graceful exit. So we've decided to fold up shop on 30 May, the day before the list would turn twenty. Nettime has a troubled history when it

Byfield and Felix Stalder -- would like to say that it's been a pleasure and an honor to moderate the list for the last seventeen-odd years. It's been a part of our lives, and we'll miss it very much. However, this crime is not Rios Montt's, alone. The genocide would have been impossible without the United States, which had run the show in Guatemala since 1954 and had

armed the general to the teeth. The U.S. corporate media like to call President Ronald Reagan the “Great Communicator” but, in Guatemala, he was the Great Exterminator, encouraging and financing General

Rios Montt's orgy of mass murder. Reagan described the racist butcher as “a man of great personal integrity and commitment” who was “getting a bum rap.” All told, a quarter million or more Guatemalans died in the 40 years since the CIA robbed them of their democracy and independence.

The Maya were targeted for extermination because of their ethnicity.” In 1999, when the civil war was over, President Bill Clinton apologized for the harm done to Guatemala by the United States. But by then, Clinton had already set in motion a far larger genocide in the Democratic Republic of Congo -- a U.S.-sponsored holocaust that has so far claimed 6 million lives. In a just world, Slick Willie would join an auditorium full of Obama, Bush and Clinton administration operatives who, over the space of 16 years, made eastern Congo the charnel house of the planet. Susan Rice would have a place of prominence in this vast assemblage of criminals, as among the most culpable for the worst bloodbath since World War Two. In fact, there is no auditorium big enough to hold the all the living Americans who should justly be charged with genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. There are too many -- great crowds of them from each administration, especially in the last ten years, since the invasion of Iraq. Imperialism in its last stages maintains an ever-lengthening Kill List. Guatemala is coming to grips with its past, in a trial that will probably last a few months. The United States has an infinity of crimes to answer for. Using the timeline on the right side of the window will allow you to reach back to a certain point in time. The timeline shows all the times of your backups on the drive. If you don't know exactly when you deleted that photo you can use the back arrow to tell Time Machine to travel through time to show you when that folder last changed. You can also search for a file using a Finder window. From the Finder, enter Time Machine and then enter a search term in the search field. Use the back arrow to have Time Machine search through your backups. To restore a file, select the file or folder and click the “Restore” button. If you are not sure if you are restoring the right file, you can use Quick Look to preview the contents. Highlight the file and press the Space Bar to take a closer look. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change: specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). The United States was provided with strong military support by countries such as Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Spain, while the no-fly zone to oust Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi was led by France and the UK in 2011 and aided by Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Canada, among others. When Congolese women and children screamed in agony, United Nations Ambassador Susan Rice said, literally, that the U.S. should “look the other way” -- knowing full well that a people were being annihilated. She is no different than the high Nazi officials who were hanged for waging aggressive war and the slaughter of millions, almost 70 years ago. “If the Nurem-

burg rules of international justice were in force today, the highest officials in London and Washington would face death by hanging for their monstrous crimes.” And now, after 16 years of unspeakable carnage, the world's greatest military power, equipped with the most sophisticated means of information gathering ever devised, whose soldiers train and equip the Rwandans and Ugandans who are responsible for tens of thousands of murders a month, claims to have only the most limited knowledge of how six million people wound up dead -- half of them children below the age of five. Today, many paintings that are displayed in the gallery are also contemplated online on platforms such as Instagram. This is a widely discussed phenomenon, but what is often overlooked in painting discourse is the role played by works created and experienced on the computer and the internet. This kind of digital painting has existed for decades: for example, the 1970s software SuperPaint already included many features found in modern paint applications. “Brushes” acknowledges this long history while focusing on practices that have emerged in recent years. Every day, hundreds of traumatized and persecuted families are crying to Europe. With no peace in sight to wars like Syria, their choice to board a boat may be the only one they have. All they want is safety. The UN says nearly one million people need urgent help, and increasing safe and legal routes is the best way to reduce the numbers risking their lives, and curb violent people trafficking. In coarse black lines, hand-scratched metal, fragmented text and visceral colour, the Toronto-based artist traces the trajectory of heavy industry, high technology, military night and maciactal folly as they clear-cut their way through blighted landscapes and a besieged human psyche. From his working-class roots in Windsor, the self-aware and wry-humoured Scott has remained consistent and eerily prescient in raw-edged drawings and found-object installations that plot a vector from Space Age optimism -- mankind's giant leap” in the 20th century to the nihilism of unceasing war and terror in the 21st. In just over 35 years. As refugees are stranded at train stations, attacked by riot police, and killed during the perilous journey across the Mediterranean, Europe's failure to address the rising humanitarian crisis is being met with global outrage and sorrow. Now, many are also looking across the Atlantic to the United States, where observers say key responsibility for the crisis lies--not only because the country is lagging in its humanitarian response, but also because its war policies lie at the root of the ongoing displacement. What's more, many have pointed out that aid dollars pale in comparison to U.S. military spending. Yacoub El Hillo, the top United Nations humanitarian official in Syria, recently noted to the New York Times that while the U.S. government spends $68,000 an hour on warplanes targeting ISIS, the UN grapples with dramatic funding shortfalls in which it has less than 50 percent of what it needs to care for Syrians uprooted by war. Chevron's deliberate dumping of 18 billion gallons of toxic waste water and 17 million gallons of crude into the Ecuadorian Amazon created a massive health crisis and remains one of the worst oil-related environmental crimes in history. A federal grand jury returned an indictment charging Gill DeWayne Garrett, 29, of Versailles, Kentucky, with unlawful distribution of a controlled substance that resulted in an overdose death, an-

lieve that their liberatory struggles could ultimately define the future of the 'WEIRD' nations. China? Barely a peep about it. Africa? Nettime is nowhere-ville. The seas, the skies, the circulatory flows? Nada. And how about nongeographical 'areas' where the most moving cultural changes are happening -- in the flowering of new forms of subjectivity around the world and the new forms of sovereignty they're giving rise to. Silence. But, really, who cares what a bunch of straight white cis guys -- which is 95% of the list's traffic -- think about those things? Really. We briefly hoped that we might begin to address these questions and more with a twentieth-anniversary conference in Bucharest. Not a 'revival tour' of nettime's ageing heroes but, instead, some broader kind of gather-

ing around newer, open questions. Unfortunately, that didn't pan out. Nettime is not mobile and there is no app for that. After considering these and other options, and trying to imagine how we could 'upgrade' nettime's creaky infrastructure so that it'd at least have a chance, we've reluctantly come to the conclusion that it would be better to make a graceful exit. So we've decided to fold up shop on 30 May, the day before the list would turn twenty. Nettime has a troubled history when it comes to unsubscribing people -- plus, since we're stuck in 1995 and *none of this this is automated -- so we're asking that each of you to pitch in by unsubscribing yourself before that date. You can find the link to do so here: Personally, we -- Ted

Byfield and Felix Stalder -- would like to say that it's been a pleasure and an honor to moderate the list for the last seventeen-odd years. It's been a part of our lives, and we'll miss it very much. However, this crime is not Rios Montt's, alone. The genocide would have been impossible without the United States, which had run the show in Guatemala since 1954 and had

armed the general to the teeth. The U.S. corporate media like to call President Ronald Reagan the “Great Communicator” but, in Guatemala, he was the Great Exterminator, encouraging and financing General

Rios Montt's orgy of mass murder. Reagan described the racist butcher as “a man of great personal integrity and commitment” who was “getting a bum rap.” All told, a quarter million or more Guatemalans died in the 40 years since the CIA robbed them of their democracy and independence.

The Maya were targeted for extermination because of their ethnicity.” In 1999, when the civil war was over, President Bill Clinton apologized for the harm done to Guatemala by the United States. But by then, Clinton had already set in motion a far larger genocide in the Democratic Republic of Congo -- a U.S.-sponsored holocaust that has so far claimed 6 million lives. In a just world, Slick Willie would join an auditorium full of Obama, Bush and Clinton administration operatives who, over the space of 16 years, made eastern Congo the charnel house of the planet. Susan Rice would have a place of prominence in this vast assemblage of criminals, as among the most culpable for the worst bloodbath since World War Two. In fact, there is no auditorium big enough to hold the all the living Americans who should justly be charged with genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. There are too many -- great crowds of them from each administration, especially in the last ten years, since the invasion of Iraq. Imperialism in its last stages maintains an ever-lengthening Kill List. Guatemala is coming to grips with its past, in a trial that will probably last a few months. The United States has an infinity of crimes to answer for. Using the timeline on the right side of the window will allow you to reach back to a certain point in time. The timeline shows all the times of your backups on the drive. If you don't know exactly when you deleted that photo you can use the back arrow to tell Time Machine to travel through time to show you when that folder last changed. You can also search for a file using a Finder window. From the Finder, enter Time Machine and then enter a search term in the search field. Use the back arrow to have Time Machine search through your backups. To restore a file, select the file or folder and click the “Restore” button. If you are not sure if you are restoring the right file, you can use Quick Look to preview the contents. Highlight the file and press the Space Bar to take a closer look. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change: specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). The United States was provided with strong military support by countries such as Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Spain, while the no-fly zone to oust Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi was led by France and the UK in 2011 and aided by Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Canada, among others. When Congolese women and children screamed in agony, United Nations Ambassador Susan Rice said, literally, that the U.S. should “look the other way” -- knowing full well that a people were being annihilated. She is no different than the high Nazi officials who were hanged for waging aggressive war and the slaughter of millions, almost 70 years ago. “If the Nurem-

burg rules of international justice were in force today, the highest officials in London and Washington would face death by hanging for their monstrous crimes.” And now, after 16 years of unspeakable carnage, the world's greatest military power, equipped with the most sophisticated means of information gathering ever devised, whose soldiers train and equip the Rwandans and Ugandans who are responsible for tens of thousands of murders a month, claims to have only the most limited knowledge of how six million people wound up dead -- half of them children below the age of five. Today, many paintings that are displayed in the gallery are also contemplated online on platforms such as Instagram. This is a widely discussed phenomenon, but what is often overlooked in painting discourse is the role played by works created and experienced on the computer and the internet. This kind of digital painting has existed for decades: for example, the 1970s software SuperPaint already included many features found in modern paint applications. “Brushes” acknowledges this long history while focusing on practices that have emerged in recent years. Every day, hundreds of traumatized and persecuted families are crying to Europe. With no peace in sight to wars like Syria, their choice to board a boat may be the only one they have. All they want is safety. The UN says nearly one million people need urgent help, and increasing safe and legal routes is the best way to reduce the numbers risking their lives, and curb violent people trafficking. In coarse black lines, hand-scratched metal, fragmented text and visceral colour, the Toronto-based artist traces the trajectory of heavy industry, high technology, military night and maciactal folly as they clear-cut their way through blighted landscapes and a besieged human psyche. From his working-class roots in Windsor, the self-aware and wry-humoured Scott has remained consistent and eerily prescient in raw-edged drawings and found-object installations that plot a vector from Space Age optimism -- mankind's giant leap” in the 20th century to the nihilism of unceasing war and terror in the 21st. In just over 35 years. As refugees are stranded at train stations, attacked by riot police, and killed during the perilous journey across the Mediterranean, Europe's failure to address the rising humanitarian crisis is being met with global outrage and sorrow. Now, many are also looking across the Atlantic to the United States, where observers say key responsibility for the crisis lies--not only because the country is lagging in its humanitarian response, but also because its war policies lie at the root of the ongoing displacement. What's more, many have pointed out that aid dollars pale in comparison to U.S. military spending. Yacoub El Hillo, the top United Nations humanitarian official in Syria, recently noted to the New York Times that while the U.S. government spends $68,000 an hour on warplanes targeting ISIS, the UN grapples with dramatic funding shortfalls in which it has less than 50 percent of what it needs to care for Syrians uprooted by war. Chevron's deliberate dumping of 18 billion gallons of toxic waste water and 17 million gallons of crude into the Ecuadorian Amazon created a massive health crisis and remains one of the worst oil-related environmental crimes in history. A federal grand jury returned an indictment charging Gill DeWayne Garrett, 29, of Versailles, Kentucky, with unlawful distribution of a controlled substance that resulted in an overdose death, an-

lieve that their liberatory struggles could ultimately define the future of the 'WEIRD' nations. China? Barely a peep about it. Africa? Nettime is nowhere-ville. The seas, the skies, the circulatory flows? Nada. And how about nongeographical 'areas' where the most moving cultural changes are happening -- in the flowering of new forms of subjectivity around the world and the new forms of sovereignty they're giving rise to. Silence. But, really, who cares what a bunch of straight white cis guys -- which is 95% of the list's traffic -- think about those things? Really. We briefly hoped that we might begin to address these questions and more with a twentieth-anniversary conference in Bucharest. Not a 'revival tour' of nettime's ageing heroes but, instead, some broader kind of gather-

ing around newer, open questions. Unfortunately, that didn't pan out. Nettime is not mobile and there is no app for that. After considering these and other options, and trying to imagine how we could 'upgrade' nettime's creaky infrastructure so that it'd at least have a chance, we've reluctantly come to the conclusion that it would be better to make a graceful exit. So we've decided to fold up shop on 30 May, the day before the list would turn twenty. Nettime has a troubled history when it comes to unsubscribing people -- plus, since we're stuck in 1995 and *none of this this is automated -- so we're asking that each of you to pitch in by unsubscribing yourself before that date. You can find the link to do so here: Personally, we -- Ted

Byfield and Felix Stalder -- would like to say that it's been a pleasure and an honor to moderate the list for the last seventeen-odd years. It's been a part of our lives, and we'll miss it very much. However, this crime is not Rios Montt's, alone. The genocide would have been impossible without the United States, which had run the show in Guatemala since 1954 and had

armed the general to the teeth. The U.S. corporate media like to call President Ronald Reagan the “Great Communicator” but, in Guatemala, he was the Great Exterminator, encouraging and financing General

Rios Montt's orgy of mass murder. Reagan described the racist butcher as “a man of great personal integrity and commitment” who was “getting a bum rap.” All told, a quarter million or more Guatemalans died in the 40 years since the CIA robbed them of their democracy and independence.

The Maya were targeted for extermination because of their ethnicity.” In 1999, when the civil war was over, President Bill Clinton apologized for the harm done to Guatemala by the United States. But by then, Clinton had already set in motion a far larger genocide in the Democratic Republic of Congo -- a U.S.-sponsored holocaust that has so far claimed 6 million lives. In a just world, Slick Willie would join an auditorium full of Obama, Bush and Clinton administration operatives who, over the space of 16 years, made eastern Congo the charnel house of the planet. Susan Rice would have a place of prominence in this vast assemblage of criminals, as among the most culpable for the worst bloodbath since World War Two. In fact, there is no auditorium big enough to hold the all the living Americans who should justly be charged with genocide, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. There are too many -- great crowds of them from each administration, especially in the last ten years, since the invasion of Iraq. Imperialism in its last stages maintains an ever-lengthening Kill List. Guatemala is coming to grips with its past, in a trial that will probably last a few months. The United States has an infinity of crimes to answer for. Using the timeline on the right side of the window will allow you to reach back to a certain point in time. The timeline shows all the times of your backups on the drive. If you don't know exactly when you deleted that photo you can use the back arrow to tell Time Machine to travel through time to show you when that folder last changed. You can also search for a file using a Finder window. From the Finder, enter Time Machine and then enter a search term in the search field. Use the back arrow to have Time Machine search through your backups. To restore a file, select the file or folder and click the “Restore” button. If you are not sure if you are restoring the right file, you can use Quick Look to preview the contents. Highlight the file and press the Space Bar to take a closer look. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change: specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). The United States was provided with strong military support by countries such as Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Spain, while the no-fly zone to oust Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi was led by France and the UK in 2011 and aided by Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Canada, among others. When Congolese women and children screamed in agony, United Nations Ambassador Susan Rice said, literally, that the U.S. should “look the other way” -- knowing full well that a people were being annihilated. She is no different than the high Nazi officials who were hanged for waging aggressive war and the slaughter of millions, almost 70 years ago. “If the Nurem-

nounced U.S. Attorney Kerry B. Harvey for the Eastern District of Kentucky, Special Agent in Charge Joseph Regan for the DEA and Chief John Wilhoit of the Versailles Police Department. Since the early Nineteenth century, childhood has been viewed as both a privileged condition for creative inspiration (mostly in the arts) and a decisive phase in the development of adult subjectivity (usually in scientific fields). Such centrality of childhood acquired particular importance in the Twentieth century. At the time, in fact, political systems - and especially dictatorships - began to understand children as a crucial national resource and therefore tried to exercise influence on them through educational policies and a wide range of cultural means. At the root of this phenomenon lies the awareness that children's cognitive development is based on processes of assimilation and accommodation of external inputs. Consequently, future adults may have their thoughts and perceptions shaped by many tools, from toys to the language of education. By encompassing the notion of dictatorship both absolute forms of power, such as totalitarianisms, and military dictatorships, the aim of this interdisciplinary conference is to investigate how last century dictatorial regimes tried to control and mould children, focusing on the mechanisms and instruments devised for that purpose. Species Summary: Least Storm-Petrel (1 California) Brown Booby (3 California, 2 Iowa) Brown Booby (Atlantic) (1 Iowa) Common Greenshank (1 Alaska) Ruff (1 Alaska) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (2 Alaska) Craveri's Murrelet (2 California) Slaty-backed Gull (1 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (1 Florida) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Common Chiffchaff (Siberian) (2 Alaska) White Wagtail (9 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (7 Alaska)

Rufous-capped Warbler (1 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) Little Bunting (3 Alaska) A storm system in the northern U.S. will bring a variety of weather across several states from the Northern Rockies to the Upper Midwest on Saturday. Several inches of early-season snow are forecast in the higher elevations of Idaho and western Montana. Locally-heavy rain will accompany strong thunderstorms in the northern Plains and Upper Midwest. This last one is a MASSIVE Cooking library with over 1400 files totaling close to 9 hours recorded over the course of 7 years. For those of you who work on cooking shows, dump 'n stirs, or just have a cooking segment in a TV show or film, this is for you! Every kind of cutting, chopping, dumping, pouring, stirring, whisking, tapping, banging, scraping, opening, tossing, grating, mincing, pounding, and much much more. Boils, sizzles, flames, etc. Just about every cooking and food prep sound you'd need. We are working on a separate "consuming" library (drinking, slurping, biting) but this includes a number of bites, chunks, and crunches. Also, we have a Set-downs, Sips, and Pours add-on library coming soon that will focus on beer, wine, liquor, & water. community is a form of communism.' Even taking the train is too communal for them. Americans have been led to believe that only individuals matter, that every person should fend for him/herself, that winner-take-all, is the ultimate goal, and that the winners have no responsibility to others. To the capitalist, everything is a potential market. Education, health care, even the right to water.

But with every market failure it becomes more clear that basic human rights can't be bought and sold like cars and cell phones. The pursuit of profit, when essential needs are part of the product, means that not everyone will be able to pay the price. Some will be denied those essential needs. He's a multi-millionaire businessman who's lived in nearly a dozen countries, and today owns more than 100,000 acres of land on 3 continents He survived the Argentinian currency collapse in 2001, the largest sovereign debt default in history, and even made a 700% return in the aftermath He weathered the Asian financial crisis of the 1990s - and managed a 20-to-1 return amidst the economic shift What could happen? You could have lots of bank failures. You could have a stock market crash. All this money that the government has created has bulled up the stock market to new highs. So, the next step is likely to be down. A lot of people have assets in the stock market, and if they don't, their pension funds are in the stock market. Most of the cities in this country have and most of the states in this country have gigantic pension liabilities that are underfunded, underfunded even though the stock market is at all-time highs and the bond market is in a super bubble." Now, when interest rates inevitably go up from these artificially suppressed levels where they are now, the bond market is going to collapse, the stock market is going to collapse, and with it, the real estate market is going to collapse. These pension funds are going to be wiped out. Then what's going to happen? This is a very bad situation. The U.S. is digging itself in deeper and deeper. Catastrophic droughts and raging wild-fires ravaging much of the continent could either serve as a climate wake-up call or entrench denial and inaction. Too many firms on Wall Street using high-speed trading to try to make a quick buck. But it's risky and unproductive. Banks can execute thousands of stock trades a second thanks to sophisticated computer algorithms. Wall Street can keep doing this if it wants-but they'll have to pay a tax on every one of those trades. And this tax on Wall Street speculation would be enough to pay for my plan to make tuition free at every public college or university. Brad Magazine is a Toronto-based contemporary art and criticism periodical devoted to providing a forum for significant ideas in visual art and culture. Each quarterly issue explores a new theme through original art writing, criticism and artists' projects. Brad is published by Brad The Visual Arts Foundation, a registered charitable organization established to present ideas, advance education and document contemporary visual art and artist culture. Brad doesn't acknowledge the financial support of the Government of Canada through the Canada Periodical Fund, the Canada Council for the Arts and the Ontario Arts Council for his publishing activities. We have to understand, that all compromises from the capital to the social class is first determined from the money reserves. And if they do not have it, then all "social protection" is finished. The actors have a big problem. They are dependent of the workers and do not like it. USA moved the industrial base out of the land. In Germany we see the same. And "national economy", like what we know from Adam Smith, is ignored. It exist, but stay never in the foreground. It is obvious that art cannot teach anyone anything, since in four thousand years humanity has learnt nothing at all. We should long ago have become angels had we been capable of paying attention to the experience of art, and allowing ourselves to be changed in accordance with the ideals it expresses. Art only has the capacity, through shock and catharsis, to make the human soul receptive to good. It's ridiculous to imagine that a people can be taught to be good. Art can only give food - a jolt - the occasion - for psychic experience. Cucumbers grown in Mexico have been linked to one death and 284 other cases of salmonella in the U.S., officials said yesterday. Heavy rains have caused extensive damage to roads in the north of the state of Oaxaca and in one case a washout has cut off thousands of families. Species Summary: Tufted Duck (1 Newfoundland and Labrador) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (9 California) Brown Booby (9 California, 2 Iowa, 2 Virginia) Gray-tailed Tattler (1 Alaska) Common Greenshank (1 Alaska) Marsh Sandpiper (1 Alaska) Ruff (2 Alaska, 8 California) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (3 Alaska, 2 Alberta) Curlew Sandpiper (1 Oregon) Slaty-backed Gull (1 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (1 Florida) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Tufted Flycatcher (2 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Common Chiffchaff (Siberian) (9 Alaska) White Wagtail (12 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (8 Alaska) Western Spindalis (1 Florida) Little Bunting (2 Alaska) Scattered strong/isolated severe thunderstorms are expected to develop over eastern portions of the northern Plains and Mid-Missouri Valley Sunday afternoon. The storms and accompanying severe risk should spread across the Upper Mississippi Valley and may spread as far eastward as the western U p p e r G r e a t L a k e s . T h o u g h l i g a m e n t t e a r s a n d b r o k e n bones are well-known, all of those violent hits football players take could be leading to hypertension and potentially chronic and traumatic brain injuries. As images from the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina are replayed around the world, they are still as shocking as they were ten years ago. Many of us watched in disbelief as we saw how the world's richest and most powerful state seemed unable, then unwilling, to rescue its own citizens sending in trigger-happy troops who shot at the hurricane's victims instead. Coming so soon after the Iraq war, the hapless Bush administration appeared unable to respond to any crisis without resort to the military. As the waters receded, America's deep-seated racism and inequality was laid bare for the whole world to see. Dystopian preparations by the state are reflected in the corporate arena. Where we see a future climate crisis, many companies see only opportunity: oil firms looking forward to melting ice caps delivering new accessible fossil fuels; security firms touting the latest technologies to secure borders from climate refugees; or investment fund managers speculating on weather-related food prices to name but a few. The NWS Storm Prediction

Center expects severe weather to be possible on Monday in the Central U.S. The area of greatest concern covers portions of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, northern Missouri, northwest Illinois and southwest Wisconsin. The primary threats for this region will be damaging winds, hail and heavy rainfall which may cause localized flash flooding. A thief in Paris managed to steal some paintings from the Louvre. After careful planning, he got past security, stole the paintings and made it safely to his van. However, he was captured only two blocks away when his van ran out of gas. When asked how he could mastermind such a crime and then make such an obvious error, he replied, "Monsieur, that is the reason I stole the paintings." "I had no Monet to buy Degas to make the Van Gogh." See if you have De Gaulle to send this on to someone else. I sent it to you because I figured I had nothing Toulouse. For most insects (and other small animals), the praying mantis is a creature out of their worst nightmare; a deadly predator with giant compound eyes, a nasty set of high-speed spiky grasping limbs, and an appetite to boot. But Chordeiles formosanus is a parasite that would give mantis nightmares - it is a hairworm. The worm starts out as a microscopic larva hidden inside the body of small insects - the mantis' usual prey - but once it is ingested by a mantis, it can then grow to several centimetres long inside its abdomen. By the time it is ready to bid farewell to its reluctant host, which comes when it reaches sexual maturity, the worm has already taken up most of the space within the mantis, leaving it a half-empty husk. The modus operandi of a horsehair worm is to then get into the water, which involves the host taking a dunk - whether it wants to or not. Apart from commanding the mantis to go for a terminal end to their relationship, during the worm's development, it takes a massive toll. After all, one does not simply host a giant worm inside one's abdomen without any consequences. Their workplaces became war zones, and gun battles once punctuated union protests. In past decades, organizers have been beaten, stabbed and shot while seeking better pay and safer conditions deep underground. But more recently the United Mine Workers in Kentucky have been in retreat, dwindling like the black seams of coal in the Appalachian mountains. And now the last union mine in Kentucky has been shut down. We resist political rhetoric by asking questions of language, of history and of context. We resist surveillance by pointing the camera back at the watchers. We resist the recurring bile of racism, sexism and bigotry by subverting stereotypes by creating new forms of beauty and a more interconnected sense of identity. We resist the predatory nature of capital and the upward linearity of growth and accumulation by challenging notions of value and currency with alternative definitions of wealth and new expressions of personal freedom. WWP-19Mast: wish to run cables up mast for light & VHF. Found a couple web descriptions but none for P-19. Expect to drill two holes, top and bottom but would like to remove at least one end cap to facilitate cable runs; photo attached of base. will appreciate comments, cautions, instruction or websites. 400 million comments - one quarter of India's population - have no electricity. But as far as the United States and the World Trade Organization (WTO) are concerned, they can keep sitting in the dark. Last month, the news was leaked that a WTO dispute panel had found that India's subsidies for solar power contravene WTO trade rules. India must now remove the subsidies or face trade sanctions. The United States filed the WTO complaint in 2013. The US alleged that India's subsidies for the Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission (NSM) discriminate against foreign suppliers of solar components. The WTO decision confirms yet again that neoliberalism always favors trade over environmental protection. The Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) contains all the same features which enabled the WTO's decision against India's solar subsidies. Species Summary: White-faced Storm-Petrel (2 Massachusetts) Blue-footed Booby (11 California) Brown Booby (10 California, 1 Louisiana, 2 Virginia) Brown Booby (Brewster's) (10 California) Collared Plover (2 Texas) Gray-tailed Tattler (1 Alaska) Ruff (16 California, 2 Oregon) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (7 Alaska, 2 Alberta) Red-necked Stint (2 Alaska) Great Skua (1 Maine) Slaty-backed Gull (4 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (1 Florida) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Aplomado Falcon (1 Texas) Tufted Flycatcher (1 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Common Chiffchaff (Siberian) (3 Alaska) White Wagtail (8 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (7 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (1 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) White-collared Seedcater (1 Texas) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Little Bunting (1 Alaska)

hough it is the third temple on the pilgrim's journey, by virtue of being the most eastern temple is often where most pilgrims begin their pilgrimage, and I was no exception. Located in the hills of Bizen, it is inland north of Hinase, Okayama. Known, among other things, for its rather fine gate, constructed in 1801, I was disappointed to find it encased in scaffolding and tarps Account Executive $55K Lancaster, PA Sr. Product Manager $120K Chicago, IL Commercial Lines Producer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

Summary: Tufted Duck (1 Newfoundland and Labrador) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (9 California) Brown Booby (9 California, 2 Iowa, 2 Virginia) Gray-tailed Tattler (1 Alaska) Common Greenshank (1 Alaska) Marsh Sandpiper (1 Alaska) Ruff (2 Alaska, 8 California) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (3 Alaska, 2 Alberta) Curlew Sandpiper (1 Oregon) Slaty-backed Gull (1 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (1 Florida) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Tufted Flycatcher (2 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Common Chiffchaff (Siberian) (9 Alaska) White Wagtail (12 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (8 Alaska) Western Spindalis (1 Florida) Little Bunting (2 Alaska) Scattered strong/isolated severe thunderstorms are expected to develop over eastern portions of the northern Plains and Mid-Missouri Valley Sunday afternoon. The storms and accompanying severe risk should spread across the Upper Mississippi Valley and may spread as far eastward as the western U p p e r G r e a t L a k e s . T h o u g h l i g a m e n t t e a r s a n d b r o k e n

bones are well-known, all of those violent hits football players take could be leading to hypertension and potentially chronic and traumatic brain injuries. As images from the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina are replayed around the world, they are still as shocking as they were ten years ago. Many of us watched in disbelief as we saw how the world's richest and most powerful state seemed unable, then unwilling, to rescue its own citizens sending in trigger-happy troops who shot at the hurricane's victims instead. Coming so soon after the Iraq war, the hapless Bush administration appeared unable to respond to any crisis without resort to the military. As the waters receded, America's deep-seated racism and inequality was laid bare for the whole world to see. Dystopian preparations by the state are reflected in the corporate arena. Where we see a future climate crisis, many companies see only opportunity: oil firms looking forward to melting ice caps delivering new accessible fossil fuels; security firms touting the latest technologies to secure borders from climate refugees; or investment fund managers speculating on weather-related food prices to name but a few. The NWS Storm Prediction

Center expects severe weather to be possible on Monday in the Central U.S. The area of greatest concern covers portions of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, northern Missouri, northwest Illinois and southwest Wisconsin. The primary threats for this region will be damaging winds, hail and heavy rainfall which may cause localized flash flooding. A thief in Paris managed to steal some paintings from the Louvre. After careful planning, he got past security, stole the paintings and made it safely to his van. However, he was captured only two blocks away when his van ran out of gas. When asked how he could mastermind such a crime and then make such an obvious error, he replied, "Monsieur, that is the reason I stole the paintings." "I had no Monet to buy Degas to make the Van Gogh." See if you have De Gaulle to send this on to someone else. I sent it to you because I figured I had nothing Toulouse. For most insects (and other small animals), the praying mantis is a creature out of their worst nightmare; a deadly predator with giant compound eyes, a nasty set of high-speed spiky grasping limbs, and an appetite to boot. But Chordeiles formosanus is a parasite that would give mantis nightmares - it is a hairworm. The worm starts out as a microscopic larva hidden inside the body of small insects - the mantis' usual prey - but once it is ingested by a mantis, it can then grow to several centimetres long inside its abdomen. By the time it is ready to bid farewell to its reluctant host, which comes when it reaches sexual maturity, the worm has already taken up most of the space within the mantis, leaving it a half-empty husk. The modus operandi of a horsehair worm is to then get into the water, which involves the host taking a dunk - whether it wants to or not. Apart from commanding the mantis to go for a terminal end to their relationship, during the worm's development, it takes a massive toll. After all, one does not simply host a giant worm inside one's abdomen without any consequences. Their workplaces became war zones, and gun battles once punctuated union protests. In past decades, organizers have been beaten, stabbed and shot while seeking better pay and safer conditions deep underground. But more recently the United Mine Workers

in Kentucky have been in retreat, dwindling like the black seams of coal in the Appalachian mountains. And now the last union mine in Kentucky has been shut down. We resist political rhetoric by asking questions of language, of history and of context. We resist surveillance by pointing the camera back at the watchers. We resist the recurring bile of racism, sexism and bigotry by subverting stereotypes by creating new forms of beauty and a more interconnected sense of identity. We resist the predatory nature of capital and the upward linearity of growth and accumulation by challenging notions of value and currency with alternative definitions of wealth and new expressions of personal freedom. WWP-19Mast: wish to run cables up mast for light & VHF. Found a couple web descriptions but none for P-19. Expect to drill two holes, top and bottom but would like to remove at least one end cap to facilitate cable runs; photo attached of base. will appreciate comments, cautions, instruction or websites. 400 million comments - one quarter of India's population - have no electricity. But as far as the United States and the World Trade Organization (WTO) are concerned, they can keep sitting in the dark. Last month, the news was leaked that a WTO dispute panel had found that India's subsidies for solar power contravene WTO trade rules. India must now remove the subsidies or face trade sanctions. The United States filed the WTO complaint in 2013. The US alleged that India's subsidies for the Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission (NSM) discriminate against foreign suppliers of solar components. The WTO decision confirms yet again that neoliberalism always favors trade over environmental protection. The Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) contains all the same features which enabled the WTO's decision against India's solar subsidies. Species Summary: White-faced Storm-Petrel (2 Massachusetts) Blue-footed Booby (11 California) Brown Booby (10 California, 1 Louisiana, 2 Virginia) Brown Booby (Brewster's) (10 California) Collared Plover (2 Texas) Gray-tailed Tattler (1 Alaska) Ruff (16 California, 2 Oregon) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (7 Alaska, 2 Alberta) Red-necked Stint (2 Alaska) Great Skua (1 Maine) Slaty-backed Gull (4 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (1 Florida) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Aplomado Falcon (1 Texas) Tufted Flycatcher (1 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Common Chiffchaff (Siberian) (3 Alaska) White Wagtail (8 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (7 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (1 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) White-collared Seedcater (1 Texas) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Little Bunting (1 Alaska)

hough it is the third temple on the pilgrim's journey, by virtue of being the most eastern temple is often where most pilgrims begin their pilgrimage, and I was no exception. Located in the hills of Bizen, it is inland north of Hinase, Okayama. Known, among other things, for its rather fine gate, constructed in 1801, I was disappointed to find it encased in scaffolding and tarps Account Executive $55K Lancaster, PA Sr. Product Manager $120K Chicago, IL Commercial Lines Producer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

ducer $84K Glastonbury, CT Sales Representative $60K Houston, TX Senior Director, Global Operations $275K Gaithersburg, MD General Manager $120K Phoenix, AZ Regional Manager $72K New York, NY Human Resources Manager $90K Atlanta, GA Sr. Scrum Master

$120K Plano, TX Controller $90K Santa Ana, CA Vice President, Operations $215K Milwaukee, WI Director of Sales $136K Chantilly, VA Business Development Executive $70K North Carolina Plant Process Engineer $100K Kansas City, KS Operations Manager $115K Lenexa, KS Project Manager $90K Baltimore, MD Account Manager $95K New York, NY CRM Cloud Manager $160K San Francisco, CA Genetic Sales Representative $73K Salt Lake City, UT Global Director $200K Tarrytown, NY Sr. Financial Analyst $81K Warwick, RI Market Director $90K Milwaukee, WI Sales Manager $75K Chattanooga, TN Major Account District Manager $84K La Palma, CA Sr. Software Developer $98K Dallas, TX Outside Sales Rep $110K Dallas, TX Project Manager $102K Sarasota, FL Division Manager $119K Alabama Client Relationship Manager $90K Denver, CO Employee Experience Manager $135K San Francisco, CA Project Manager $120K Santa Monica, CA Logistics Manager $80K Boston, MA Facility Manager $80K Fort Wayne, IN Senior Account Manager $140K Hampton, NH Sr. Director, Marketing Operations $218K New York Facility Manager $105K Houston, Texas National Sales Manager $120K New Jersey Quality Supervisor $65K Ladson, SC Director of Developer Evangelism $125K New

Port Richey, FL Pharmacy Sales Specialist $75K Minneapolis, MN Sr. Product Engineer $97K Chicago, IL Business Manager, Automotive $150K Detroit, MI Director of Field Marketing $135K Kansas City, MO CFO $200K Los Angeles, CA Sales Executive $105K Denver, CO Sr. Manager, Human Resources $120K Cincinnati, OH Director International HR $150K New York, NY Associate VP, Marketing $185K Bloomfield, CT Senior Systems Engineer $100K New York, NY Manager Software Development $137K Raleigh, NC CRM Systems Analyst $85K Arizona Territory Manager $80K Kentucky Business Development Director $85K Oakland, CA Business Architect $105K Raleigh, NC Billing Manager $95K New York, NY Senior Claims Specialist $95K New York, NY Sr. Engineer $83K Indianapolis, IN Audit Manager $125K Charlotte, NC Regional VP of Operations $110K Louisville, KY Business Development Manager $78K Tilton, NH Sr. Manager $145K Detroit, MI Director of

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

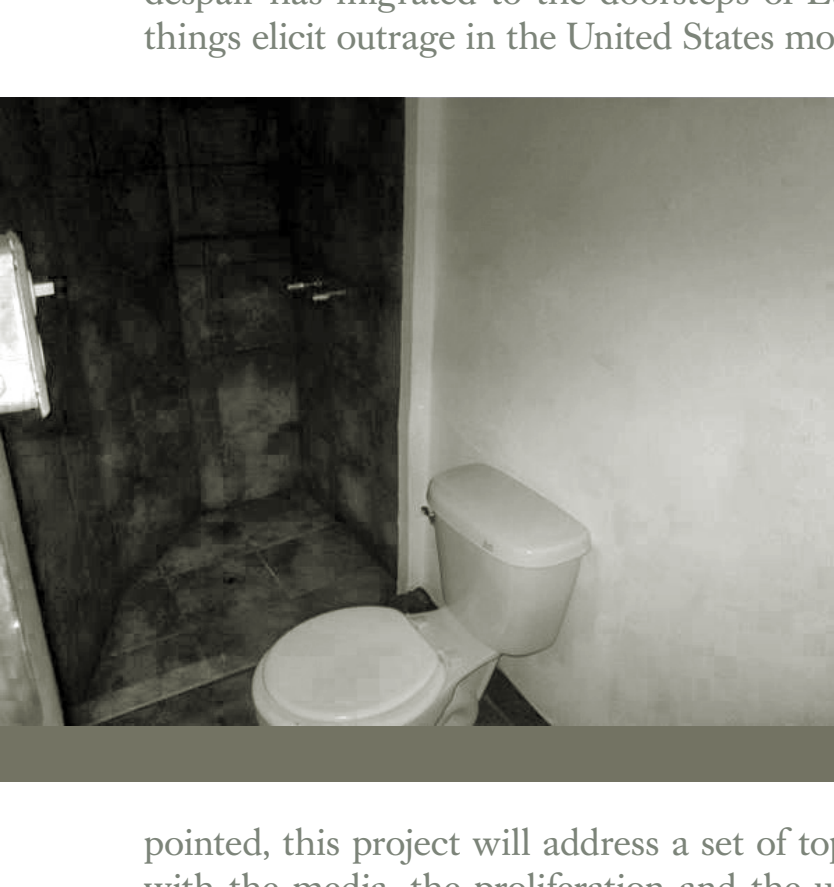

Middle Mississippi River Valley. In this area, damaging winds, hail and localized flooding are possible. By analysing tactics and strategies of resistance connected with the "Snowden Affair" in physical and digital life, this conference event brings together hackers, artists and critical thinkers, who apply and work on the concept of social justice from different angles. The goal is not to bring clear instructions, but to imagine possible alternatives into the development of shared forms of post-digital resistance. The conference programme involves journalists, artists, researchers and activists who analyse whistleblowing from a critical perspective bringing an insider critique of contemporary politics and state surveillance networks. Furthermore, it reflects on the long-term sustainability of whistleblowing practices, and the importance of establishing networks of trust, to protect possible sources and guarantee the rights of speaking out beyond fears, paranoia and the politics of war. Peace, in the sense of the absence of war, is of little value to someone who is dying of hunger or cold. It will not remove the pain of torture inflicted on a prisoner of conscience. It does not comfort those who have lost their loved ones in floods caused by cept of social justice from different angles. The goal is not to bring clear instructions, but to imagine possible alternatives into the development of shared forms of post-digital resistance. The conference programme involves journalists, artists, researchers and activists who analyse whistleblowing from a critical perspective bringing an insider critique of contemporary politics and state surveillance networks. Furthermore, it reflects on the long-term sustainability of whistleblowing practices, and the importance of establishing networks of trust, to protect possible sources and guarantee the rights of speaking out beyond fears, paranoia and the politics of war. Peace, in the sense of the absence of war, is of little value to someone who is dying of hunger or cold. It will not remove the pain of torture inflicted on a prisoner of conscience. It does not comfort those who have lost their loved ones in floods caused by senseless deforestation in a neighboring country. Peace can only last where human rights are respected, where people are fed, and where individuals and nations are free. Everything you want is on the other side of fear. Most people quite rightly smell the opportunism of politicians trying to exploit a tragedy. This mass migration from the Middle East and beyond is a direct result of the neocon foreign policy of regime change, invasion, and pushing "democracy" at the barrel of a gun. Death and despair has migrated to the doorsteps of Europe. Few things elicit outrage in the United States more than the suggestion that the overseas horrors flooding its news media were actually caused by the United States. Starting from the three areas already pointed, this project will address a set of topics related with the media, the proliferation and the unfolding of images in cyberspace, the new modalities of screens and their implications in spectatorship and audiences. The substantial increase of urban screens is also a potential field of investigation and reflection on new forms of interaction and collaborative environments in public spaces.

ten conveying a sense of political inquiry. Species Summary: Arctic Loon (1 Alaska) Flesh-footed Shearwater (7 California) White-faced Storm-Petrel (1 Massachusetts) Blue-footed Booby (4 California) Brown Booby (Louisiana, 1 Louisiana, 1 Massachusetts, 10 Virginia, 6 Washington) Brown Booby (Brewster's) (2 California) Colared Plover (1 Texas) Ruff (14 California) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (9 Alaska) Curlew Sandpiper (1 Oregon) Slaty-backed Gull (1 Alaska) White-eared Hummingbird (2 Arizona) Tufted Flycatcher (2 Arizona) Sky Lark (1 Alaska) Black-capped Gnatcatcher (1 Arizona) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (4 Alaska) Tropical Parula (1 Texas) Rufous-capped Warbler (4 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (3 Arizona) The proposed Phillips 66 Oil Train Redstart facility in San Luis Obispo County would ship 3 million gallons per day of volatile and toxic crude by rail in outdated and unsafe oil tank cars into California, including to and fro the Inland Empire and LA Harbor, all the way through Downtown LA and the San Fernando Valley. The Revised Draft Environmental Impact Report concludes that the proposed Phillips 66 rail spur would cause significant and unavoidable rail accident hazard risks along the main rail line that could result in oil spills, fires, and explosions near populated areas. We removed the end cap by drilling out rivets. Did our particular project. Then, re-riveted the end cap back into place. Easy to do with no problems. The End Bird nests offer an ideal situation to manipulate ectoparasites and study how they impact hosts. Several methods are available to eliminate parasites from nests and each has its own suite of advantages and disadvantages. For example, recent toxicity research has revealed that some commonly used insecti-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

Operations $170K Holden, LA Enterprise Project Manager $170K New York, NY Managing Director, Solutions Architecture $175K Phoenix, AZ Controller $100K Memphis, TN VP of Operations $190K Sarasota, FL Good luck in your search this week! Dear buyer, Have a nice working day. But i am sorry to disturb you again. i sent message to tell you that your item was sent back to us by the post office today. because Airpor security is very strict, i am willing to resend it for you. i am so sorry for inconvenience. i am a honest seller, just hope you can understand. pls don't leave me any low DSR, do you ? i will appreciate it. hope we can have a long pleasant business relationship in the future. nice weekend best wishes Your Sincerely -soonhua2010 The NWS Storm Prediction Center expects severe weather to be possible in portions of the Central and Southern U.S. on Tuesday. The area of greatest concern extends from the Southern Plains to the

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina, Buiani, Roberta, Breuleux Yan, Broeckmann Andreas, Burbano Andres, Century Michael, Chapman, Owen, Chattopadhyay Budhaditya, Clausen Barbara, Cohen Hart, Dal Farra Ricardo, Darroch Michael, De Fren Alison, Diamond Sara, Emerson Lori, Fernandez Maria, Franco Francesca, Gagnon Monika Kin, Grau Oliver, Halpern Orit, Hamilton Kevin, Hauser Jens, Hayward Mark, Heyer Paul, Holtgen Stefan, Howes David, Jim Alice Ming Wai, Jolly Martyn, Kaikini Srajana, Kwastek Katja, Lapointe Francois-joseph, Leeker Martina, Lehmann, Annette, Lewis Jason, Lichty Patrick, Loader Alison, Ma Jung-yeon, Malina Roger, Marategui, Jose-carlos, Martinovic Jelena, Mccray Patrick, Menotti G. Gabriel, Morfin Jo Ana, Munsterparikka Jussi, Paul Christiane, Olsson Jesper, Orrghen Anna, Ozog Maciej, Penny Simon, Miyazaki, Shintaro, Sim Cheryl, Sndergaard, Morten, Seiser, Michaela, Thibault Ghislain, Wershler Darren, West Ruth, Zarina Solvita Marie-

cides may not be suitable for use in experiments with nestlings. This highlights the need for investigators to control for the effects of methods used to eliminate nest parasites within experimental designs. Methods that can be used across treatment groups are also often needed to study the effects of variation in parasite intensity. To aid investigators in deciding which method(s) to use, we provide a comprehensive review of available methods for eliminating nest ectoparasites and also describe a new heat gun method. We tested the effectiveness of the heat-gun method with nests of Barn Swallows (Hirundo rustica) to which 100 nest mites were added and then quantified the number of surviving mites and other naturally occurring arthropods. We found that fully heated nests had significantly fewer mites and other arthropods than partially heated or control nests. Use of the heat gun had no negative effects on nestling growth or mortality rates. In studies of avian nest ectoparasites, investigators need to consider methods that can be used across treatment groups to ensure that unaccounted for toxicity effects are not influencing results and leading to underestimation of the often subtle effects of ectoparasites on birds. Bardiot Clarisse, Barker Michel, Beiguelman Giselle, Born Georgina

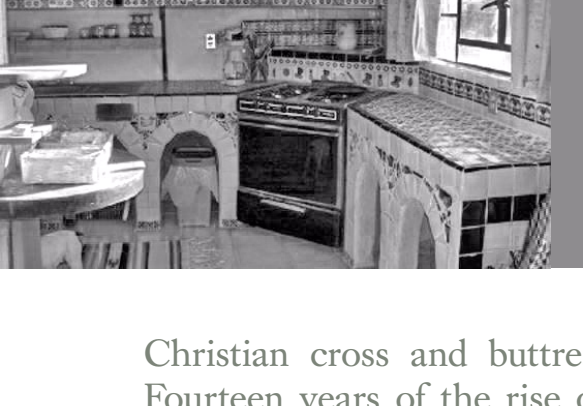

thoughts and words there are only feelings and sensations, heartbreak, regret, longing and fondness for the places and missing people of this world, and my own life. Abstraction at its best. The gears are freed up, spinning, sometimes quickly and sometimes slowly, I am just highs in the 90s will be prevalent across much of Calif, as well as across the southern Plains and Ohio Valley and into the mid-Atlantic and New England, where temperatures could reach 15-20 degrees above normal, perhaps record highs. None are more hopelessly enslaved than those who falsely believe they are free. When even one American—who has done nothing wrong—is forced by fear to shut his mind and close his mouth—then all Americans are in peril.

The neon prescription of endless “regime change” is spreading chaos across the Middle East and now into Europe, yet the neocons still control the mainstream U.S. narrative and thus have diagnosed the problem as not enough “regime change.” Here lies the virus of fascism, wrapped in the American flag, held aloft by the Christian cross and buttressed by white supremacy. Fourteen years of the rise of the warrior corporation, the transformation of war and intelligence gathering into profit-making activities. During the Korean War, the United States bombed virtually all of North Korea and a good bit of the South, killing millions of people. It dropped massive quantities of Napalm. It bombed dams, bridges, villages, houses. This was all-out mass-slaughter. But there was something the U.S. government didn't want known, something deemed unethical in this genocidal madness. It is well documented that the United States dropped on China and North Korea insects and feathers carrying anthrax, cholera, encephalitis, and bubonic plague. This was supposed to be a secret at the time, and the Chinese response of mass vaccinations and insect eradication probably contributed to the project's general failure (hundreds were killed, but not millions). But members of the U.S. military taken prisoner by the Chinese confessed to what they had been a part of, and confessed publicly when they got back to the United States. U.S. cluster bombs in Yemen, U.S. drone strikes in Pakistan, U.S. guns in Syria, U.S. white phosphorus and Napalm and depleted uranium used in recent years, U.S.

torture in prison camps, U.S. nuclear arsenals being expanded, U.S. coups empowering monsters in Ukraine and Honduras, U.S. lies about Iranian nukes, and indeed U.S. antagonization of North Korea as part of that never-yet-ended war -- all of these things can be best confronted by people aware of a centuries-long pattern of lying. Ashley Nicole Richards 24, of Houston, Texas, has been convicted of creating and distributing videos depicting the torture and killing of puppies, chickens and kittens, announced U.S. Attorney Kenneth Magidson for the Southern District of Texas. Richards entered a guilty plea today, admitting she produced and distributed what is referred to as animal crush videos. Species Summary: Smew (1 Utah) Flesh-footed Shearwater (5 California) White-faced Storm-Petrel (3 Massachusetts) Blue-footed Booby (1 California) Brown Booby (2 California, 4 Washington) Brown Booby (Brewster's) (1 California) Collared Plover (2 Texas) Ruff (6 California, 1 Oregon) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (2 Alaska) Slaty-backed Gull (5 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (2 Florida) Plain-capped Starthroat (4 Arizona) Tufted Flycatcher (3 Arizona) Brown Shrike (1 Alaska) Sinaloa Wren (2 Arizona) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (4 Arizona) I am Mr Tan Wong, I have an important business deal to discuss with you involving transfer of $24,500,000.00 that will be of great benefit for both of us. Reply if interested for more details Regards Mr Tan Wong Attn: Sir, The South Africa Government in Coalition with the United nation have come to a compromised to pay all defrauded and victim of financial fraud, ranging from lottery, inheritance or over inflated contracts the sum of USD1.5M dollars. Your email were among the contact of listed defrauded victim and you

1 Oregon) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (2 Alaska) Slaty-backed Gull (5 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (2 Florida) Plain-capped Starthroat (4 Arizona) Tufted Flycatcher (3 Arizona) Brown Shrike (1 Alaska) Sinaloa Wren (2 Arizona) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (4 Arizona) I am Mr Tan Wong, I have an important business deal to discuss with you involving transfer of $24,500,000.00 that will be of great benefit for both of us. Reply if interested for more details Regards Mr Tan Wong Attn: Sir, The South Africa Government in Coalition with the United nation have come to a compromised to pay all defrauded and victim of financial fraud, ranging from lottery, inheritance or over inflated contracts the sum of USD1.5M dollars. Your email were among the contact of listed defrauded victim and you are entitle to a compensation of the above sum. Please respond back with your details for more explanation Cordially, your DR Steve Mark, For United Nations Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Researchers found that frogs in suburban areas had twice the ratio of females to males compared with frogs in forested areas. They tested water from suburban and forest ponds for endocrine-disrupting chemicals-hormone-mimicking compounds that trigger these changes at very low levels and found them in only one of six of the forested ponds, but in nearly every (11 of 13) of the suburban ones. The number of migrant families being detained are increasing as profits go up for Corrections Corporation of America. Leaked NSA documents last year revealed that... Under the “Passenger tracking operation”, the Canadian spy agency was tracking passengers even days after they left the airport terminal just by capturing their device MAC addresses from the free Wi-Fi service at a major Canadian airport. The documents also revealed that the federal intelligence agency was collecting MAC addresses in the United States Airports as well, and literally at other thousands of public places in the U.S. Mobile Check Deposits are subject to verification and not available for immediate withdrawal. In the Mobile Banking app, select “Help & Support,” then “Mobile Check Deposit” for details, including funds availability, deposit limits, proper disposal of checks, restrictions and terms and conditions. Wireless carrier fees may apply. Requires at least a 2-megapixel camera. This feature is not available on the mobile website. The Mobile Banking app is available on iPad, iPhone, and Android devices. Hello, Thank you for ordering with us. We are a small business, so every customer is very important to us. Your item is being sent directly from China so as advertised the delivery time can be quite long. The description includes the estimated date. To USA or Au, the delivery time is about 25-35 days. To Europe about 25-38 days. To Brazil/Russia, 35-55 days. Other Countries, 25-35 days. Due to the long distance and some weather-related reason, your package may be delayed 10-15 days. Hope you get what you paid for, however, international deliveries are occasionally lost in transit. If this occurs please message us and we will take

full responsibility. This is simply a delivery notification if you don't please do not reply if you don't have a question or a problem. If you have any questions or problems please remember to reply to this message to speed up the resolution process and avoid any confusion. For best regards, Tina. Pls kindness Notice: Thank you for your support. We are now on Chinese New Year holiday from Jan-24th to Feb-15th Deposits are subject to verification and funds may not be available immediately. Once the deposit has been received, you'll be able to view the pending transaction online or on your phone. Checks received by the applicable cut off time on a business day are usually available in your account the next business day. Once you've made your deposit, you'll get an email confirmation that we've received your deposit and are processing it. If there is any problem with the transaction, like insufficient funds or potential fraud, you'll receive a letter in the mail asking you to bring the check to a banking center to resolve the issue. There is a monthly limit for Mobile Check Deposits and it's displayed when you select your deposit account. Once you've hit that limit, you can't deposit another check with the App until the limit is reset at the beginning of the next month. The cut-off time for Mobile Check Deposits are based off of the time zone in which the account was opened. Checks received by the following cut off times on a business day are considered deposited on that day. Eastern and Central: 9 P.M. Eastern time Mountain and Pacific: 8 P.M. Pacific time There is no additional fee for using Mobile Check Deposit service, but we recommend that you check with your service provider to see if there are any wireless carrier fees. I am offering an affordable custom in-home tv mounting service.. Price to install starts at $75 per TV I have a gift of visualizing perfection in home entertainment.. Let me purchase the perfect full motion TV mount for your home. Whether it's hanging from the ceiling on the back porch or constructed beautifully over the fireplace, I can do it. Worried about where you're going to put cable boxes? I can mount floating shelves. Hate the look of all those cords dangling from below the TV? I can hide them!! All TV mounts are made to hold up to 160lbs of flat screen TV... I have mounted as little as a 19 inch TV to a 80 inch TV. I am able to mount the new Curved TV's as well.. Please contact me anytime with new questions you may have!! More pictures of my work can be seen on my business Facebook page. Facebook.com/mountinmann62 I am able to mount TVs onto: Drywall Concrete Brick Metal Studs Wood Studs I can mount multiple TVs in your home, apartment, condo, or business!! Great reviews from all customers on Facebook, Yelp and Angie's List!! Free Estimates!! Please contact me anytime on my cell or email. 85zero-8one4-64two8 James Blake, a former professional tennis player once ranked No. 4 in the world, was reportedly slammed to the ground and handcuffed outside his hotel Wednesday by police who mistook him for someone else. All the officers involved were white and they mistook Blake, who is black, for a suspect involved in an identity theft ring. Blake was waiting for a car to take him to the U.S. Open when the alleged incident occurred. “You'd think they could say, ‘Hey, we want to talk to you. We are looking into something,’” Blake said. “I was just standing there. I wasn't running. It's not even close (to be okay). It's blatantly unnecessary. You would think at some point they would get the memo that this isn't okay, but it seems that there's no stopping it.” The elite actually want more refugees to further divide society, and thrive on the destruction they have created. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change - specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). It is not us, as a collective, who is responsible for this catastrophic state of affairs. It is a relatively small number of people, each of whom is quite insane. And it is these people who drive the decisions being made in our world that have, for example, created the current refugee crisis in Europe. These people seek power, profit and personal privilege at the expense of the rest of us. They decide to destroy countries or regions because, in their insane worldview, it ‘benefits’ them to do so. The military destruction of a region might give them the power to share in the control of a resource or market. It might make them a profit... The discourse in which these people are engaged is incredibly limited. It is always about control. If we are not sufficiently aware, we can become preoccupied in just dealing with one or more symptoms of their insanity. Elites want more refugees partly because it helps to distract us from analysing and resisting what they are doing overall. With all-out economic collapse threatening to destroy what is left of the middle class and leave hordes of starving masses fighting for survival, things are already looking pretty grim. The additional element of desperate refugees only worsens this, and guarantees that most will be left helpless and dependent upon government - which cannot be relied upon - when the crisis tips over into true emergency. Panicked super rich buying boltholes with elite airstrips to escape if poor rise up, detailing how alive at Davos and other confabs have been quietly planning their escape from the society they helped to splinter and destroy: Super rich hedge fund managers are buying ‘secret boltholes’ where they can hide out in the event of civil uprising against growing inequality, it has been claimed. Nervous financiers from across the globe have begun purchasing financing strips, homes and land in areas such as New Zealand so they can flee should people rise up. Linda Weston, 55, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, pleaded guilty today to all charges in a racketeering and hate crimes case that involved holding disabled adults captive in locked closets, basements and attics in Philadelphia's Tacony section and in other states. Weston pleaded guilty to racketeering conspiracy, kidnapping resulting in the death of the victim, forced human labor, involuntary servitude, multiple counts of murder in aid of racketeering, hate crime, violent crime in aid of racketeering, sex trafficking, kidnapping, theft of government funds, wire fraud, mail fraud, use of a firearm in furtherance of a violent crime and false statements. U.S. District Court Judge Cynthia M. Rufe scheduled a sentencing hearing for Nov. 5, 2015. Weston faces life in prison plus 80 years consecutive, restitution, fines, supervised release and special assessments. Children just as innocent and precious as Aylan are being driven into the sea in Libya, incinerated by drone in Pakistan, or starved to death in Yemen all the time, and it is all on your dime. Washington bears full responsibility for the gravest refugee crisis since WW II. Julian Assange paints a picture of systemic US torture and killing as well as the destruction of the lives and livelihoods of billions of people right around the world. Essentially, the U.S. is doing in the Americas, what it is doing in Africa, the Middle East, and the Asia-Pacific regions: using its military to block independent development. As the girl's family screamed for help, Egyptian soldiers reportedly referred to female refugees as “whores” and one prodded the girl's dying body with his boots. Backed by American dollars, they brutalized their own people in the name of fighting communism or terrorism. They were feted by American presidents and invited to state dinners in Washington, even as they jailed and tortured anyone they deemed a threat to their way of life. Those employed by government in the United States in August of this year outnumbered those employed in the manufacturing sector by almost 1.8 to 1, according to data published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Gas station clerk scares off robber, The Times Picayune, New Orleans, La. A man entered a Shell station in New Orleans, La. and attempted to rob the cashier, by claiming he was carrying a gun. The cashier responded by retrieving a gun and leveling it at the thief, prompting the criminal to flee. I previously posted photos of a few of the Fudo Myo statues at Myo-o In located high on Wakasugi Mountain in Fukuoka, a temple founded at a waterfall where Kukai practised austerities after his trip to China. Several of the other early Shingon patriarchs also visited here. At some point in the 14th Century the temple was destroyed and was not really revived and reconstructed

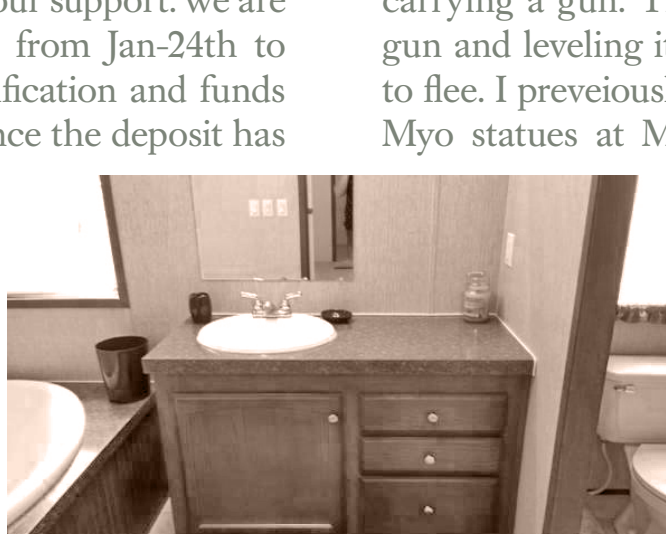

full responsibility. This is simply a delivery notification if you don't please do not reply if you don't have a question or a problem. If you have any questions or problems please remember to reply to this message to speed up the resolution process and avoid any confusion. For best regards, Tina. Pls kindness Notice: Thank you for your support. We are now on Chinese New Year holiday from Jan-24th to Feb-15th Deposits are subject to verification and funds may not be available immediately. Once the deposit has been received, you'll be able to view the pending transaction online or on your phone. Checks received by the applicable cut off time on a business day are usually available in your account the next business day. Once you've made your deposit, you'll get an email confirmation that we've received your deposit and are processing it. If there is any problem with the transaction, like insufficient funds or potential fraud, you'll receive a letter in the mail asking you to bring the check to a banking center to resolve the issue. There is a monthly limit for Mobile Check Deposits and it's displayed when you select your deposit account. Once you've hit that limit, you can't deposit another check with the App until the limit is reset at the beginning of the next month. The cut-off time for Mobile Check Deposits are based off of the time zone in which the account was opened. Checks received by the following cut off times on a business day are considered deposited on that day. Eastern and Central: 9 P.M. Eastern time Mountain and Pacific: 8 P.M. Pacific time There is no additional fee for using Mobile Check Deposit service, but we recommend that you check with your service provider to see if there are any wireless carrier fees. I am offering an affordable custom in-home tv mounting service.. Price to install starts at $75 per TV I have a gift of visualizing perfection in home entertainment.. Let me purchase the perfect full motion TV mount for your home. Whether it's hanging from the ceiling on the back porch or constructed beautifully over the fireplace, I can do it. Worried about where you're going to put cable boxes? I can mount floating shelves. Hate the look of all those cords dangling from below the TV? I can hide them!! All TV mounts are made to hold up to 160lbs of flat screen TV... I have mounted as little as a 19 inch TV to a 80 inch TV. I am able to mount the new Curved TV's as well.. Please contact me anytime with new questions you may have!! More pictures of my work can be seen on my business Facebook page. Facebook.com/mountinmann62 I am able to mount TVs onto: Drywall Concrete Brick Metal Studs Wood Studs I can mount multiple TVs in your home, apartment, condo, or business!! Great reviews from all customers on Facebook, Yelp and Angie's List!! Free Estimates!! Please contact me anytime on my cell or email. 85zero-8one4-64two8 James Blake, a former professional tennis player once ranked No. 4 in the world, was reportedly slammed to the ground and handcuffed outside his hotel Wednesday by police who mistook him for someone else. All the officers involved were white and they mistook Blake, who is black, for a suspect involved in an identity theft ring. Blake was waiting for a car to take him to the U.S. Open when the alleged incident occurred. “You'd think they could say, ‘Hey, we want to talk to you. We are looking into something,’” Blake said. “I was just standing there. I wasn't running. It's not even close (to be okay). It's blatantly unnecessary. You would think at some point they would get the memo that this isn't okay, but it seems that there's no stopping it.” The elite actually want more refugees to further divide society, and thrive on the destruction they have created. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change - specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). It is not us, as a collective, who is responsible for this catastrophic state of affairs. It is a relatively small number of people, each of whom is quite insane. And it is these people who drive the decisions being made in our world that have, for example, created the current refugee crisis in Europe. These people seek power, profit and personal privilege at the expense of the rest of us. They decide to destroy countries or regions because, in their insane worldview, it ‘benefits’ them to do so. The military destruction of a region might give them the power to share in the control of a resource or market. It might make them a profit... The discourse in which these people are engaged is incredibly limited. It is always about control. If we are not sufficiently aware, we can become preoccupied in just dealing with one or more symptoms of their insanity. Elites want more refugees partly because it helps to distract us from analysing and resisting what they are doing overall. With all-out economic collapse threatening to destroy what is left of the middle class and leave hordes of starving masses fighting for survival, things are already looking pretty grim. The additional element of desperate refugees only worsens this, and guarantees that most will be left helpless and dependent upon government - which cannot be relied upon - when the crisis tips over into true emergency. Panicked super rich buying boltholes with elite airstrips to escape if poor rise up, detailing how alive at Davos and other confabs have been quietly planning their escape from the society they helped to splinter and destroy: Super rich hedge fund managers are buying ‘secret boltholes’ where they can hide out in the event of civil uprising against growing inequality, it has been claimed. Nervous financiers from across the globe have begun purchasing financing strips, homes and land in areas such as New Zealand so they can flee should people rise up. Linda Weston, 55, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, pleaded guilty today to all charges in a racketeering and hate crimes case that involved holding disabled adults captive in locked closets, basements and attics in Philadelphia's Tacony section and in other states. Weston pleaded guilty to racketeering conspiracy, kidnapping resulting in the death of the victim, forced human labor, involuntary servitude, multiple counts of murder in aid of racketeering, hate crime, violent crime in aid of racketeering, sex trafficking, kidnapping, theft of government funds, wire fraud, mail fraud, use of a firearm in furtherance of a violent crime and false statements. U.S. District Court Judge Cynthia M. Rufe scheduled a sentencing hearing for Nov. 5, 2015. Weston faces life in prison plus 80 years consecutive, restitution, fines, supervised release and special assessments. Children just as innocent and precious as Aylan are being driven into the sea in Libya, incinerated by drone in Pakistan, or starved to death in Yemen all the time, and it is all on your dime. Washington bears full responsibility for the gravest refugee crisis since WW II. Julian Assange paints a picture of systemic US torture and killing as well as the destruction of the lives and livelihoods of billions of people right around the world. Essentially, the U.S. is doing in the Americas, what it is doing in Africa, the Middle East, and the Asia-Pacific regions: using its military to block independent development. As the girl's family screamed for help, Egyptian soldiers reportedly referred to female refugees as “whores” and one prodded the girl's dying body with his boots. Backed by American dollars, they brutalized their own people in the name of fighting communism or terrorism. They were feted by American presidents and invited to state dinners in Washington, even as they jailed and tortured anyone they deemed a threat to their way of life. Those employed by government in the United States in August of this year outnumbered those employed in the manufacturing sector by almost 1.8 to 1, according to data published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Gas station clerk scares off robber, The Times Picayune, New Orleans, La. A man entered a Shell station in New Orleans, La. and attempted to rob the cashier, by claiming he was carrying a gun. The cashier responded by retrieving a gun and leveling it at the thief, prompting the criminal to flee. I previously posted photos of a few of the Fudo Myo statues at Myo-o In located high on Wakasugi Mountain in Fukuoka, a temple founded at a waterfall where Kukai practised austerities after his trip to China. Several of the other early Shingon patriarchs also visited here. At some point in the 14th Century the temple was destroyed and was not really revived and reconstructed

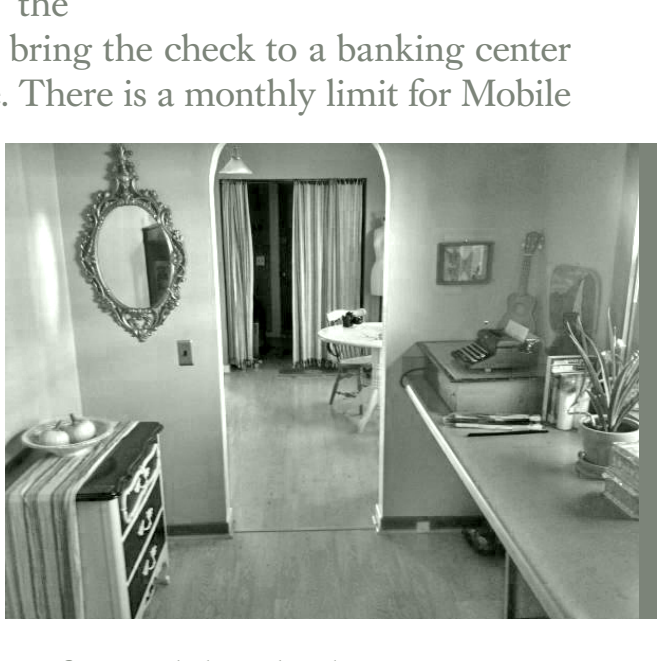

full responsibility. This is simply a delivery notification if you don't please do not reply if you don't have a question or a problem. If you have any questions or problems please remember to reply to this message to speed up the resolution process and avoid any confusion. For best regards, Tina. Pls kindness Notice: Thank you for your support. We are now on Chinese New Year holiday from Jan-24th to Feb-15th Deposits are subject to verification and funds may not be available immediately. Once the deposit has been received, you'll be able to view the pending transaction online or on your phone. Checks received by the applicable cut off time on a business day are usually available in your account the next business day. Once you've made your deposit, you'll get an email confirmation that we've received your deposit and are processing it. If there is any problem with the transaction, like insufficient funds or potential fraud, you'll receive a letter in the mail asking you to bring the check to a banking center to resolve the issue. There is a monthly limit for Mobile Check Deposits and it's displayed when you select your deposit account. Once you've hit that limit, you can't deposit another check with the App until the limit is reset at the beginning of the next month. The cut-off time for Mobile Check Deposits are based off of the time zone in which the account was opened. Checks received by the following cut off times on a business day are considered deposited on that day. Eastern and Central: 9 P.M. Eastern time Mountain and Pacific: 8 P.M. Pacific time There is no additional fee for using Mobile Check Deposit service, but we recommend that you check with your service provider to see if there are any wireless carrier fees. I am offering an affordable custom in-home tv mounting service.. Price to install starts at $75 per TV I have a gift of visualizing perfection in home entertainment.. Let me purchase the perfect full motion TV mount for your home. Whether it's hanging from the ceiling on the back porch or constructed beautifully over the fireplace, I can do it. Worried about where you're going to put cable boxes? I can mount floating shelves. Hate the look of all those cords dangling from below the TV? I can hide them!! All TV mounts are made to hold up to 160lbs of flat screen TV... I have mounted as little as a 19 inch TV to a 80 inch TV. I am able to mount the new Curved TV's as well.. Please contact me anytime with new questions you may have!! More pictures of my work can be seen on my business Facebook page. Facebook.com/mountinmann62 I am able to mount TVs onto: Drywall Concrete Brick Metal Studs Wood Studs I can mount multiple TVs in your home, apartment, condo, or business!! Great reviews from all customers on Facebook, Yelp and Angie's List!! Free Estimates!! Please contact me anytime on my cell or email. 85zero-8one4-64two8 James Blake, a former professional tennis player once ranked No. 4 in the world, was reportedly slammed to the ground and handcuffed outside his hotel Wednesday by police who mistook him for someone else. All the officers involved were white and they mistook Blake, who is black, for a suspect involved in an identity theft ring. Blake was waiting for a car to take him to the U.S. Open when the alleged incident occurred. “You'd think they could say, ‘Hey, we want to talk to you. We are looking into something,’” Blake said. “I was just standing there. I wasn't running. It's not even close (to be okay). It's blatantly unnecessary. You would think at some point they would get the memo that this isn't okay, but it seems that there's no stopping it.” The elite actually want more refugees to further divide society, and thrive on the destruction they have created. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change - specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). It is not us, as a collective, who is responsible for this catastrophic state of affairs. It is a relatively small number of people, each of whom is quite insane. And it is these people who drive the decisions being made in our world that have, for example, created the current refugee crisis in Europe. These people seek power, profit and personal privilege at the expense of the rest of us. They decide to destroy countries or regions because, in their insane worldview, it ‘benefits’ them to do so. The military destruction of a region might give them the power to share in the control of a resource or market. It might make them a profit... The discourse in which these people are engaged is incredibly limited. It is always about control. If we are not sufficiently aware, we can become preoccupied in just dealing with one or more symptoms of their insanity. Elites want more refugees partly because it helps to distract us from analysing and resisting what they are doing overall. With all-out economic collapse threatening to destroy what is left of the middle class and leave hordes of starving masses fighting for survival, things are already looking pretty grim. The additional element of desperate refugees only worsens this, and guarantees that most will be left helpless and dependent upon government - which cannot be relied upon - when the crisis tips over into true emergency. Panicked super rich buying boltholes with elite airstrips to escape if poor rise up, detailing how alive at Davos and other confabs have been quietly planning their escape from the society they helped to splinter and destroy: Super rich hedge fund managers are buying ‘secret boltholes’ where they can hide out in the event of civil uprising against growing inequality, it has been claimed. Nervous financiers from across the globe have begun purchasing financing strips, homes and land in areas such as New Zealand so they can flee should people rise up. Linda Weston, 55, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, pleaded guilty today to all charges in a racketeering and hate crimes case that involved holding disabled adults captive in locked closets, basements and attics in Philadelphia's Tacony section and in other states. Weston pleaded guilty to racketeering conspiracy, kidnapping resulting in the death of the victim, forced human labor, involuntary servitude, multiple counts of murder in aid of racketeering, hate crime, violent crime in aid of racketeering, sex trafficking, kidnapping, theft of government funds, wire fraud, mail fraud, use of a firearm in furtherance of a violent crime and false statements. U.S. District Court Judge Cynthia M. Rufe scheduled a sentencing hearing for Nov. 5, 2015. Weston faces life in prison plus 80 years consecutive, restitution, fines, supervised release and special assessments. Children just as innocent and precious as Aylan are being driven into the sea in Libya, incinerated by drone in Pakistan, or starved to death in Yemen all the time, and it is all on your dime. Washington bears full responsibility for the gravest refugee crisis since WW II. Julian Assange paints a picture of systemic US torture and killing as well as the destruction of the lives and livelihoods of billions of people right around the world. Essentially, the U.S. is doing in the Americas, what it is doing in Africa, the Middle East, and the Asia-Pacific regions: using its military to block independent development. As the girl's family screamed for help, Egyptian soldiers reportedly referred to female refugees as “whores” and one prodded the girl's dying body with his boots. Backed by American dollars, they brutalized their own people in the name of fighting communism or terrorism. They were feted by American presidents and invited to state dinners in Washington, even as they jailed and tortured anyone they deemed a threat to their way of life. Those employed by government in the United States in August of this year outnumbered those employed in the manufacturing sector by almost 1.8 to 1, according to data published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Gas station clerk scares off robber, The Times Picayune, New Orleans, La. A man entered a Shell station in New Orleans, La. and attempted to rob the cashier, by claiming he was carrying a gun. The cashier responded by retrieving a gun and leveling it at the thief, prompting the criminal to flee. I previously posted photos of a few of the Fudo Myo statues at Myo-o In located high on Wakasugi Mountain in Fukuoka, a temple founded at a waterfall where Kukai practised austerities after his trip to China. Several of the other early Shingon patriarchs also visited here. At some point in the 14th Century the temple was destroyed and was not really revived and reconstructed

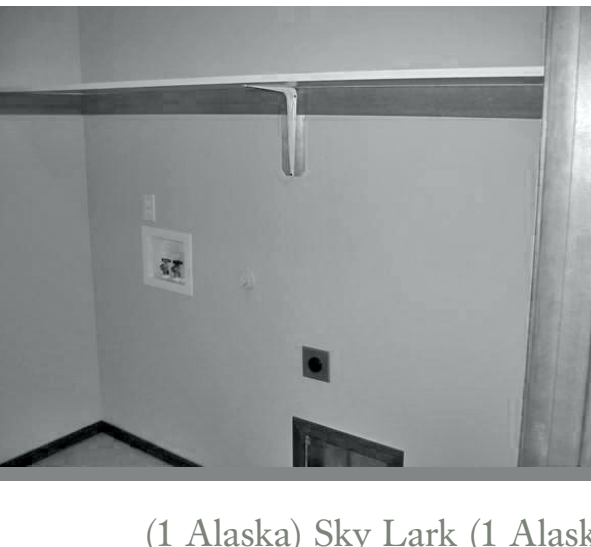

full responsibility. This is simply a delivery notification if you don't please do not reply if you don't have a question or a problem. If you have any questions or problems please remember to reply to this message to speed up the resolution process and avoid any confusion. For best regards, Tina. Pls kindness Notice: Thank you for your support. We are now on Chinese New Year holiday from Jan-24th to Feb-15th Deposits are subject to verification and funds may not be available immediately. Once the deposit has been received, you'll be able to view the pending transaction online or on your phone. Checks received by the applicable cut off time on a business day are usually available in your account the next business day. Once you've made your deposit, you'll get an email confirmation that we've received your deposit and are processing it. If there is any problem with the transaction, like insufficient funds or potential fraud, you'll receive a letter in the mail asking you to bring the check to a banking center to resolve the issue. There is a monthly limit for Mobile Check Deposits and it's displayed when you select your deposit account. Once you've hit that limit, you can't deposit another check with the App until the limit is reset at the beginning of the next month. The cut-off time for Mobile Check Deposits are based off of the time zone in which the account was opened. Checks received by the following cut off times on a business day are considered deposited on that day. Eastern and Central: 9 P.M. Eastern time Mountain and Pacific: 8 P.M. Pacific time There is no additional fee for using Mobile Check Deposit service, but we recommend that you check with your service provider to see if there are any wireless carrier fees. I am offering an affordable custom in-home tv mounting service.. Price to install starts at $75 per TV I have a gift of visualizing perfection in home entertainment.. Let me purchase the perfect full motion TV mount for your home. Whether it's hanging from the ceiling on the back porch or constructed beautifully over the fireplace, I can do it. Worried about where you're going to put cable boxes? I can mount floating shelves. Hate the look of all those cords dangling from below the TV? I can hide them!! All TV mounts are made to hold up to 160lbs of flat screen TV... I have mounted as little as a 19 inch TV to a 80 inch TV. I am able to mount the new Curved TV's as well.. Please contact me anytime with new questions you may have!! More pictures of my work can be seen on my business Facebook page. Facebook.com/mountinmann62 I am able to mount TVs onto: Drywall Concrete Brick Metal Studs Wood Studs I can mount multiple TVs in your home, apartment, condo, or business!! Great reviews from all customers on Facebook, Yelp and Angie's List!! Free Estimates!! Please contact me anytime on my cell or email. 85zero-8one4-64two8 James Blake, a former professional tennis player once ranked No. 4 in the world, was reportedly slammed to the ground and handcuffed outside his hotel Wednesday by police who mistook him for someone else. All the officers involved were white and they mistook Blake, who is black, for a suspect involved in an identity theft ring. Blake was waiting for a car to take him to the U.S. Open when the alleged incident occurred. “You'd think they could say, ‘Hey, we want to talk to you. We are looking into something,’” Blake said. “I was just standing there. I wasn't running. It's not even close (to be okay). It's blatantly unnecessary. You would think at some point they would get the memo that this isn't okay, but it seems that there's no stopping it.” The elite actually want more refugees to further divide society, and thrive on the destruction they have created. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change - specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). It is not us, as a collective, who is responsible for this catastrophic state of affairs. It is a relatively small number of people, each of whom is quite insane. And it is these people who drive the decisions being made in our world that have, for example, created the current refugee crisis in Europe. These people seek power, profit and personal privilege at the expense of the rest of us. They decide to destroy countries or regions because, in their insane worldview, it ‘benefits’ them to do so. The military destruction of a region might give them the power to share in the control of a resource or market. It might make them a profit... The discourse in which these people are engaged is incredibly limited. It is always about control. If we are not sufficiently aware, we can become preoccupied in just dealing with one or more symptoms of their insanity. Elites want more refugees partly because it helps to distract us from analysing and resisting what they are doing overall. With all-out economic collapse threatening to destroy what is left of the middle class and leave hordes of starving masses fighting for survival, things are already looking pretty grim. The additional element of desperate refugees only worsens this, and guarantees that most will be left helpless and dependent upon government - which cannot be relied upon - when the crisis tips over into true emergency. Panicked super rich buying boltholes with elite airstrips to escape if poor rise up, detailing how alive at Davos and other confabs have been quietly planning their escape from the society they helped to splinter and destroy: Super rich hedge fund managers are buying ‘secret boltholes’ where they can hide out in the event of civil uprising against growing inequality, it has been claimed. Nervous financiers from across the globe have begun purchasing financing strips, homes and land in areas such as New Zealand so they can flee should people rise up. Linda Weston, 55, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, pleaded guilty today to all charges in a racketeering and hate crimes case that involved holding disabled adults captive in locked closets, basements and attics in Philadelphia's Tacony section and in other states. Weston pleaded guilty to racketeering conspiracy, kidnapping resulting in the death of the victim, forced human labor, involuntary servitude, multiple counts of murder in aid of racketeering, hate crime, violent crime in aid of racketeering, sex trafficking, kidnapping, theft of government funds, wire fraud, mail fraud, use of a firearm in furtherance of a violent crime and false statements. U.S. District Court Judge Cynthia M. Rufe scheduled a sentencing hearing for Nov. 5, 2015. Weston faces life in prison plus 80 years consecutive, restitution, fines, supervised release and special assessments. Children just as innocent and precious as Aylan are being driven into the sea in Libya, incinerated by drone in Pakistan, or starved to death in Yemen all the time, and it is all on your dime. Washington bears full responsibility for the gravest refugee crisis since WW II. Julian Assange paints a picture of systemic US torture and killing as well as the destruction of the lives and livelihoods of billions of people right around the world. Essentially, the U.S. is doing in the Americas, what it is doing in Africa, the Middle East, and the Asia-Pacific regions: using its military to block independent development. As the girl's family screamed for help, Egyptian soldiers reportedly referred to female refugees as “whores” and one prodded the girl's dying body with his boots. Backed by American dollars, they brutalized their own people in the name of fighting communism or terrorism. They were feted by American presidents and invited to state dinners in Washington, even as they jailed and tortured anyone they deemed a threat to their way of life. Those employed by government in the United States in August of this year outnumbered those employed in the manufacturing sector by almost 1.8 to 1, according to data published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Gas station clerk scares off robber, The Times Picayune, New Orleans, La. A man entered a Shell station in New Orleans, La. and attempted to rob the cashier, by claiming he was carrying a gun. The cashier responded by retrieving a gun and leveling it at the thief, prompting the criminal to flee. I previously posted photos of a few of the Fudo Myo statues at Myo-o In located high on Wakasugi Mountain in Fukuoka, a temple founded at a waterfall where Kukai practised austerities after his trip to China. Several of the other early Shingon patriarchs also visited here. At some point in the 14th Century the temple was destroyed and was not really revived and reconstructed

ceived your deposit and are processing it. If there is any problem with the transaction, like insufficient funds or potential fraud, you'll receive a letter in the mail asking you to bring the check to a banking center to resolve the issue. There is a monthly limit for Mobile Check Deposits and it's displayed when you select your deposit account. Once you've hit that limit, you can't deposit another check with the App until the limit is reset at the beginning of the next month. The cut-off time for Mobile Check Deposits are based off of the time zone in which the account was opened. Checks received by the following cut off times on a business day are considered deposited on that day. Eastern and Central: 9 P.M. Eastern time Mountain and Pacific: 8 P.M. Pacific time There is no additional fee for using Mobile Check Deposit service, but we recommend that you check with your service provider to see if there are any wireless carrier fees. I am offering an affordable custom in-home tv mounting service.. Price to install starts at $75 per TV I have a gift of visualizing perfection in home entertainment.. Let me purchase the perfect full motion TV mount for your home. Whether it's hanging from the ceiling on the back porch or constructed beautifully over the fireplace, I can do it. Worried about where you're going to put cable boxes? I can mount floating shelves. Hate the look of all those cords dangling from below the TV? I can hide them!! All TV mounts are made to hold up to 160lbs of flat screen TV... I have mounted as little as a 19 inch TV to a 80 inch TV. I am able to mount the new Curved TV's as well.. Please contact me anytime with new questions you may have!! More pictures of my work can be seen on my business Facebook page. Facebook.com/mountinmann62 I am able to mount TVs onto: Drywall Concrete Brick Metal Studs Wood Studs I can mount multiple TVs in your home, apartment, condo, or business!! Great reviews from all customers on Facebook, Yelp and Angie's List!! Free Estimates!! Please contact me anytime on my cell or email. 85zero-8one4-64two8 James Blake, a former professional tennis player once ranked No. 4 in the world, was reportedly slammed to the ground and handcuffed outside his hotel Wednesday by police who mistook him for someone else. All the officers involved were white and they mistook Blake, who is black, for a suspect involved in an identity theft ring. Blake was waiting for a car to take him to the U.S. Open when the alleged incident occurred. “You'd think they could say, ‘Hey, we want to talk to you. We are looking into something,’” Blake said. “I was just standing there. I wasn't running. It's not even close (to be okay). It's blatantly unnecessary. You would think at some point they would get the memo that this isn't okay, but it seems that there's no stopping it.” The elite actually want more refugees to further divide society, and thrive on the destruction they have created. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change - specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). It is not us, as a collective, who is responsible for this catastrophic state of affairs. It is a relatively small number of people, each of whom is quite insane. And it is these people who drive the decisions being made in our world that have, for example, created the current refugee crisis in Europe. These people seek power, profit and personal privilege at the expense of the rest of us. They decide to destroy countries or regions because, in their insane worldview, it ‘benefits’ them to do so. The military destruction of a region might give them the power to share in the control of a resource or market. It might make them a profit... The discourse in which these people are engaged is incredibly limited. It is always about control. If we are not sufficiently aware, we can become preoccupied in just dealing with one or more symptoms of their insanity. Elites want more refugees partly because it helps to distract us from analysing and resisting what they are doing overall. With all-out economic collapse threatening to destroy what is left of the middle class and leave hordes of starving masses fighting for survival, things are already looking pretty grim. The additional element of desperate refugees only worsens this, and guarantees that most will be left helpless and dependent upon government - which cannot be relied upon - when the crisis tips over into true emergency. Panicked super rich buying boltholes with elite airstrips to escape if poor rise up, detailing how alive at Davos and other confabs have been quietly planning their escape from the society they helped to splinter and destroy: Super rich hedge fund managers are buying ‘secret boltholes’ where they can hide out in the event of civil uprising against growing inequality, it has been claimed. Nervous financiers from across the globe have begun purchasing financing strips, homes and land in areas such as New Zealand so they can flee should people rise up. Linda Weston, 55, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, pleaded guilty today to all charges in a racketeering and hate crimes case that involved holding disabled adults captive in locked closets, basements and attics in Philadelphia's Tacony section and in other states. Weston pleaded guilty to racketeering conspiracy, kidnapping resulting in the death of the victim, forced human labor, involuntary servitude, multiple counts of murder in aid of racketeering, hate crime, violent crime in aid of racketeering, sex trafficking, kidnapping, theft of government funds, wire fraud, mail fraud, use of a firearm in furtherance of a violent crime and false statements. U.S. District Court Judge Cynthia M. Rufe scheduled a sentencing hearing for Nov. 5, 2015. Weston faces life in prison plus 80 years consecutive, restitution, fines, supervised release and special assessments. Children just as innocent and precious as Aylan are being driven into the sea in Libya, incinerated by drone in Pakistan, or starved to death in Yemen all the time, and it is all on your dime. Washington bears full responsibility for the gravest refugee crisis since WW II. Julian Assange paints a picture of systemic US torture and killing as well as the destruction of the lives and livelihoods of billions of people right around the world. Essentially, the U.S. is doing in the Americas, what it is doing in Africa, the Middle East, and the Asia-Pacific regions: using its military to block independent development. As the girl's family screamed for help, Egyptian soldiers reportedly referred to female refugees as “whores” and one prodded the girl's dying body with his boots. Backed by American dollars, they brutalized their own people in the name of fighting communism or terrorism. They were feted by American presidents and invited to state dinners in Washington, even as they jailed and tortured anyone they deemed a threat to their way of life. Those employed by government in the United States in August of this year outnumbered those employed in the manufacturing sector by almost 1.8 to 1, according to data published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Gas station clerk scares off robber, The Times Picayune, New Orleans, La. A man entered a Shell station in New Orleans, La. and attempted to rob the cashier, by claiming he was carrying a gun. The cashier responded by retrieving a gun and leveling it at the thief, prompting the criminal to flee. I previously posted photos of a few of the Fudo Myo statues at Myo-o In located high on Wakasugi Mountain in Fukuoka, a temple founded at a waterfall where Kukai practised austerities after his trip to China. Several of the other early Shingon patriarchs also visited here. At some point in the 14th Century the temple was destroyed and was not really revived and reconstructed until Species Summary: Tufted Duck (1 Newfoundland and Labrador) Flesh-footed Shearwater (8 California) Blue-footed Booby (6 California) Brown Booby (8 California) Brown Booby (Brewster's) (1 California) Brown Booby (Atlantic) (1 Iowa) Ruff (1 California, 2 Oregon)

Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (8 Alaska) Great Skua (1 Massachusetts) Slaty-backed Gull (3 Alaska) Common Cuckoo (1 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (2 Florida) Plain-capped Starthroat (6 Arizona) White-eared Hummingbird (1 Arizona) Tufted Flycatcher (2 Arizona) Brown Shrike

(1 Alaska) Sky Lark (1 Alaska) Sinaloa Wren (2 Arizona) Common Chiffchaff (Siberian) (1 Alaska) White Wagtail (3 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona)

Slate-throated Redstart (2 Arizona) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Little Bunting (1 Alaska) This e-mail communication and any attachments, including documents, files, or previous e-mail messages, constitute electronic communications within the scope of the Electronic Communications Privacy Act, 18 USCA 2510 et al. This e-mail communication may contain nonpublic, confidential or legally privileged information intended for the sole use of the designated recipient(s). The unauthorized and intentional interception, use, copy or disclosure of such information, or attempt to do so, is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful under applicable laws. If you have received this e-mail communication in error, please immediately notify the sender by return e-mail and delete the original e-mail from your system. Historical injustice is ubiquitous in human history. The origins of just about every institution relevant to human political life has a pedigree stained by injustices of various magnitudes. Slavery, genocide, mass expropriation of property, mass internment, indiscriminate killings of civilians and massive political repression are all depressingly familiar features of human history, both in the distant and more recent past. Should any of them be redressed? Can historical injustice be redressed? Should states be held accountable for their bloody origins, such as the brutal colonization of the In America today, we have seen people kidnapped, caged and killed by police despite the fact that they were completely innocent and doing what the officer asked. Compliance and innocence are no guarantee of safety in a police state.

Nidal, Shadi, Ghassan, Bader, Munir, Sleiman, Bilal, Amer and Kayed 9 Palestinian political prisoners on hunger strike, refusing to eat, refusing to surrender. 9 Palestinian heroes held captive in Zionist dungeons, breaking the walls of captivity, defying their jailor, protesting their illegal and inhumane detention. 9 Palestinian freedom fighters; their only weapon their strong will and the belief in their just cause, their only weapon their empty stomachs steadfast in the face of torture, intimidation and force-feeding. Hunger strikes have always been a legitimate and effective weapon of protest and struggle used by Palestinian political prisoners and detainees in the face of injustice. Whether mass hunger strikes that sweep Israeli jails or single hunger strikes that last for months; Palestinian freedom fighters continue to resist the occupation from behind Zionist bars and isolation cells. Their battle against their jailors, against the policy of administrative detention, against the sham courts of the occupation, is the Battle of Breaking the Chains; an on-going battle till all Zionist jails are empty, an on-going battle till Palestine is free from the River to the Sea. It is a battle to break the chains of all Palestinians held in Zionist captivity; those held captive in small jails and those held captive in the bigger jails defined by the infamous Oslo Accords, it is a battle against injustice, a battle towards the freedom of all of us. Earlier this year, a 10-year-old girl in Paraguay made headlines when she arrived at a hospital 20 weeks pregnant. But this was not a one-off case. Last year, more than 700 girls aged 14 and younger gave birth in this South American nation of seven million people. All over Europe and the Mediterranean world, barriers are being breached: the natural and man-made barriers used by nation-states to shut out unwanted travelers; the barriers of fear and grief that keep people from fleeing war or poverty until they have no choice; the barriers of indifference that enable the rest of us to get on with our lives as if those men, women, and children were no concern of ours. More than 380,000 people have crossed the Mediterranean this year in search of safety, two-thirds of them landing in Greece; at least 2,850 have drowned or are missing at sea. Syrians, Iraqis, Afghans, and others walk for days in the heat, sleep rough on docks or station platforms or by the side of the road, are tear-gassed and beaten at borders and crammed into trains like cattle as they try to make their way north. The Department of Justice and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) today announced a settlement with Duke Energy Corporation to resolve Clean Air Act violations at five coal-fired power plants across North Carolina. The settlement resolves long-standing claims that Duke violated the federal Clean Air Act by unlawfully modifying 13 coal-fired electricity generating units located at the Allen, B u c k , Cliffside, Dan River and R i v e r b e n d plants, without obtaining air permits and installing and operating the required air pollution control technologies. One of the things that bothers me most is the growing belief in the country that security is more important than freedom. It ain't. The things that will destroy America are prosperity-at-any-price, peace-at-any-price, safety-first instead of duty-first, the love of soft living, and the get-rich-quick theory of life. The convention which framed the Constitution of the United States was composed of fifty-five members. A majority were lawyers --not one farmer, mechanic or laborer. Forty owned Revolutionary Scrip. Fourteen were land speculators. Twenty-four were money-lenders. Eleven were merchants. Fifteen were slave-holders. They made a Constitution to protect the rights of property and not the rights of man. When It Comes to America's Endless War: Nothing Succeeds Like Failure Year after year, as terror groups have multiplied, proxies have foundered, and allies have disappointed, the U.S. has doubled down again and again. There should be no such concept as stateless migrants, left to the mercy of the weather and the tides, the smugglers of human cargo, the border bureaucrats. The photos of a 3-year-old boy washed ashore in Turkey make this clear. Tropical Storm 'Eta' hit mainland Japan on Wednesday, September 9, 2015 and rolled over the central part of the country, bringing strong winds and record-breaking rainfall which overflooded rivers and caused serious flooding and numerous landslides. Chapters include: 'Raptures: Negotiation in the Created Object', 'Art and the Unexperienced Experience', 'Memorialization and Objects of the Dead', 'The Apparatus and the Unfixed Vanishing Point', 'Presence, Absence, and Play in the Hyperreal spaces of Computation', 'Traces of Absence in Photography: Dina Kanto and Alec Soth', 'The Cost of Burying the Dead: Six Feet Under' and 'Resisting Arrest: the Elusive Vanishing Point'. A 90-year-old man was at home in Youngstown, Ohio when he was alerted to an intruder by the sound of glass-breaking on his porch. The man retrieved a .357-caliber revolver and fired a shot in the direction of the home invader, prompting the intruder to flee the scene. Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (1 Oregon) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Virginia) Ruff (1 California) Sharp-tailed

Sandpiper (10 Alaska, 1 Washington) Slaty-backed Gull (2 Alaska) Plain-capped Starthroat (3 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Black-capped Gnatcatcher (2 Arizona) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (6 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (5 Arizona) Thunderstorms will continue over northern Kansas and southern Nebraska with large/damaging hail and a risk of a tornado or two. The activity will shift south-eastward across Kansas and into southwestern Missouri toward Friday morning. The remains covered the earthen floor beyond the narrow opening. This was, the scientists concluded, a large, dark chamber for the dead of a previously unidentified species of the early human lineage -- Homo naledi. Researchers analyzing the H. naledi fossils have not yet nailed down their age, which is difficult to measure because of the muddled chamber sediments and the absence of other fauna remains nearby. Some of its primitive anatomy, like a brain no larger than an average orange, Dr. Bergersaid, indicated that the species evolved near or at the root of the Homo genus, meaning it must be in excess of 2.5 million to 2.8 million years old. Geologists think the cave is no older than three million years. We welcome applicants from a range of disciplines and specialties, but applicants should have research expertise that speaks to one or more of the Abrahamic religions (Islam, Judaism, and/or Christianity) and be able to demonstrate sophistication in using social-scientific and/or historical methods. The successful candidate will teach an introductory 100-level paper on Judaism, Christianity and Islam each year, plus one or two more papers (courses) of their own design (an average of two and a half papers per year). We particularly encourage candidates whose own papers would address aspects of Islam and/or Christianity outside Europe and North America. Applicants should have an energetic and enthusiastic commitment to teaching and an active research profile. Washington helped create the conditions with its wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. The numbers keep on growing. The authorities are overwhelmed, as are the solidarity networks. The refugee crisis has revealed a different rift: between thousands of ordinary citizens, from Greece to

Germany to Britain, ready to share their bread their homes, and governments determined to fortify their borders and protect their power, backed by both the anxious and the frankly xenophobic. Meanwhile, the people keep coming, and will continue to risk their lives to come. The Syrians entering Europe now are fleeing war, not poverty, but anyone who has spent time among refugees and migrants knows that these forms of violence often go hand in hand. Two billion people live on less than $1.25 a day. The barrier that once protected the rich world from the poor has been crumbling for years, undermined by globalization and the information revolution. No amount of barbed wire or steel can stand it up again. In the wake of the crisis and recession, despite the fact that nearly all the gains of the recovery have gone straight into the bank accounts of the wealthy, America's billionaires keep doing things like comparing themselves to persecuted Jews in Nazi Germany and talking about the ever-popular pitchforks. Many aggressively denounce policies designed to redistribute wealth as "class warfare." It's been noted extensively that if there is any class warfare happening, it's the wealthy waging it against the lower classes. Yet the idea of a popular worker uprising that results in loss of property or violence against America's rich is a bogeyman to which we keep returning. Even those in favor of addressing growing inequality use "avoiding class warfare" as the argument that putting in a fix is urgent. Children all over the world are suffering, and families remain trapped by artificial borders and legal requirements. Rather than simply increase quotas for some refugees, we need to envision a world where everyone has the right to flee violence and poverty. Tokyo is two sides of a coin. One side is tailored suits, high fashion, flashy Lamborghinis, and skyscrapers. If you look just a little deeper you can see the somber other side: the prostitutes along Dogenzaka, the homeless at Yoyogi Park, the empty beer cans and sake cups that litter the station as soon as the workday ends. At last count, state-funded shelters in all of Japan numbered about 25. Most public-housing services in Japan act as halfway houses, before the homeless are inevitably turned back out onto the street. There are some opportunities for the homeless to earn a meager living, but most are undesirable at best. For example, they have been recruited--at minimum wage--to take part in the government-funded project of cleaning up nuclear radiation in areas affected by the 2011 Fukushima disaster. A crook snuck into a closed sushi restaurant and swiped $933 in ingredients including fish eggs, crab and lobster, according to a police report. The burglar stuck Mura, a sushi restaurant at 369 Fifth Ave., sometime between midnight and 11 a.m. on Sept. 1, according to the report. The thief entered the restaurant through a rear door and stole between 10 and 20 pounds of lobster, 30 pounds of beef, 15 pounds of shrimp, $85 in crab and $100 worth of tobiko -- fish eggs. The burglar was apparently thirsty, too, and took $200 in sake, plus orange juice, Coke and Sprite, according to the report. Azerbaijan has ca. 600,000 IDPs as a result of the Nagorno-Karabakh War. (Refugees and internally displaced persons in Azerbaijan) Afghanistan has 132,000 - 200,000 IDPs, mostly in the south and west parts of the country, due to fighting between NATO and Taliban-allied fighters. Burma (Myanmar) has about 503,000 IDPs due to decades of a long Internal conflict in Myanmar and government repression of ethnic minorities as well as Cyclone Nargis. The Central African Republic has about 197,000 IDPs due to the 2003 coup d'état and the subsequent civil war. Chad has about 178,000 IDPs due to the proximity to Darfur and the civil war in eastern Chad. Colombia has over 4 million IDPs according to the UNHCR, due to the war between the government, the FARC, the AUC and other armed groups. But, the numbers could be higher due this numbers correspond to statistics since 1997. CODHES determined that the IDP amount is higher, surpassing 5 million people. The Democratic Republic of Congo has almost 1.5 million IDPs due to the Second Congo War, mostly in the eastern provinces. Cote d'Ivoire has about 709,000 IDPs due to the civil war, mostly in the western regions. Cyprus had about 208,000 IDPs at the end of 2011, according to the Republic of Cyprus; the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus disputes this, saying that internal displacement ended in 1975. Ethiopia has about 200,000 IDPs due to natural disasters, the Ethiopian-Eritrean War and the Ogaden conflict. Georgia has 220,000 - 300,000 IDPs due to displacement of the ethnic Georgian population who have fled Abkhazia and South Ossetia. In Haiti, an estimated 1.5 million people were displaced following the January 2010 Haiti earthquake. As of June 2012, approximately 390,000 IDPs remained in 575 displacement camps. Iraq at least 4 million IDPs due to continued war ever since Saddam's regime fall and recent ISIL based onslaught. India - About 150,000, Kashmiri Pandits from the entire state of Jammu and Kashmir have been internally displaced due to the aggressive and violent separatist movement. Many adivasis (tribals) in the states (especially in Central India that fall in the Red Corridor) where the violence between the Naxals and the Indian State has been rising are forced by circumstances to move to the neighboring relatively peaceful states both for saving their lives and for employment. Indonesia has 200,000 - 350,000 IDPs due to fighting between the government and secessionist rebel movements. Israel has about 10,000 displaced Bedouence', 'Memorialization and Objects of the Dead', 'The Apparatus and the Unfixed Vanishing Point', 'Presence, Absence, and Play in the Hyperreal spaces of Computation', 'Traces of Absence in Photography: Dina Kanto and Alec Soth', 'The Cost of Burying the Dead: Six Feet Under' and 'Resisting Arrest: the Elusive Vanishing Point'. A 90-year-old man was at home in Youngstown, Ohio when he was alerted to an intruder by the sound of glass-breaking on his porch. The man retrieved a .357-caliber revolver and fired a shot in the direction of the home invader, prompting the intruder to flee the scene. Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (1 Oregon) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Virginia) Ruff (1 California) Sharp-tailed

Sandpiper (10 Alaska, 1 Washington) Slaty-backed Gull (2 Alaska) Plain-capped Starthroat (3 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Black-capped Gnatcatcher (2 Arizona) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (6 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (5 Arizona) Thunderstorms will continue over northern Kansas and southern Nebraska with large/damaging hail and a risk of a tornado or two. The activity will shift south-eastward across Kansas and into southwestern Missouri toward Friday morning. The remains covered the earthen floor beyond the narrow opening. This was, the scientists concluded, a large, dark chamber for the dead of a previously unidentified species of the early human lineage -- Homo naledi. Researchers analyzing the H. naledi fossils have not yet nailed down their age, which is difficult to measure because of the muddled chamber sediments and the absence of other fauna remains nearby. Some of its primitive anatomy, like a brain no larger than an average orange, Dr. Bergersaid, indicated that the species evolved near or at the root of the Homo genus, meaning it must be in excess of 2.5 million to 2.8 million years old. Geologists think the cave is no older than three million years. We welcome applicants from a range of disciplines and specialties, but applicants should have research expertise that speaks to one or more of the Abrahamic religions (Islam, Judaism, and/or Christianity) and be able to demonstrate sophistication in using social-scientific and/or historical methods. The successful candidate will teach an introductory 100-level paper on Judaism, Christianity and Islam each year, plus one or two more papers (courses) of their own design (an average of two and a half papers per year). We particularly encourage candidates whose own papers would address aspects of Islam and/or Christianity outside Europe and North America. Applicants should have an energetic and enthusiastic commitment to teaching and an active research profile. Washington helped create the conditions with its wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. The numbers keep on growing. The authorities are overwhelmed, as are the solidarity networks. The refugee crisis has revealed a different rift: between thousands of ordinary citizens, from Greece to

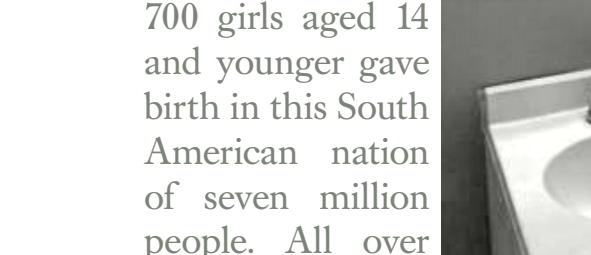

Germany to Britain, ready to share their bread their homes, and governments determined to fortify their borders and protect their power, backed by both the anxious and the frankly xenophobic. Meanwhile, the people keep coming, and will continue to risk their lives to come. The Syrians entering Europe now are fleeing war, not poverty, but anyone who has spent time among refugees and migrants knows that these forms of violence often go hand in hand. Two billion people live on less than $1.25 a day. The barrier that once protected the rich world from the poor has been crumbling for years, undermined by globalization and the information revolution. No amount of barbed wire or steel can stand it up again. In the wake of the crisis and recession, despite the fact that nearly all the gains of the recovery have gone straight into the bank accounts of the wealthy, America's billionaires keep doing things like comparing themselves to persecuted Jews in Nazi Germany and talking about the ever-popular pitchforks. Many aggressively denounce policies designed to redistribute wealth as "class warfare." It's been noted extensively that if there is any class warfare happening, it's the wealthy waging it against the lower classes. Yet the idea of a popular worker uprising that results in loss of property or violence against America's rich is a bogeyman to which we keep returning. Even those in favor of addressing growing inequality use "avoiding class warfare" as the argument that putting in a fix is urgent. Children all over the world are suffering, and families remain trapped by artificial borders and legal requirements. Rather than simply increase quotas for some refugees, we need to envision a world where everyone has the right to flee violence and poverty. Tokyo is two sides of a coin. One side is tailored suits, high fashion, flashy Lamborghinis, and skyscrapers. If you look just a little deeper you can see the somber other side: the prostitutes along Dogenzaka, the homeless at Yoyogi Park, the empty beer cans and sake cups that litter the station as soon as the workday ends. At last count, state-funded shelters in all of Japan numbered about 25. Most public-housing services in Japan act as halfway houses, before the homeless are inevitably turned back out onto the street. There are some opportunities for the homeless to earn a meager living, but most are undesirable at best. For example, they have been recruited--at minimum wage--to take part in the government-funded project of cleaning up nuclear radiation in areas affected by the 2011 Fukushima disaster. A crook snuck into a closed sushi restaurant and swiped $933 in ingredients including fish eggs, crab and lobster, according to a police report. The burglar stuck Mura, a sushi restaurant at 369 Fifth Ave., sometime between midnight and 11 a.m. on Sept. 1, according to the report. The thief entered the restaurant through a rear door and stole between 10 and 20 pounds of lobster, 30 pounds of beef, 15 pounds of shrimp, $85 in crab and $100 worth of tobiko -- fish eggs. The burglar was apparently thirsty, too, and took $200 in sake, plus orange juice, Coke and Sprite, according to the report. Azerbaijan has ca. 600,000 IDPs as a result of the Nagorno-Karabakh War. (Refugees and internally displaced persons in Azerbaijan) Afghanistan has 132,000 - 200,000 IDPs, mostly in the south and west parts of the country, due to fighting between NATO and Taliban-allied fighters. Burma (Myanmar) has about 503,000 IDPs due to decades of a long Internal conflict in Myanmar and government repression of ethnic minorities as well as Cyclone Nargis. The Central African Republic has about 197,000 IDPs due to the 2003 coup d'état and the subsequent civil war. Chad has about 178,000 IDPs due to the proximity to Darfur and the civil war in eastern Chad. Colombia has over 4 million IDPs according to the UNHCR, due to the war between the government, the FARC, the AUC and other armed groups. But, the numbers could be higher due this numbers correspond to statistics since 1997. CODHES determined that the IDP amount is higher, surpassing 5 million people. The Democratic Republic of Congo has almost 1.5 million IDPs due to the Second Congo War, mostly in the eastern provinces. Cote d'Ivoire has about 709,000 IDPs due to the civil war, mostly in the western regions. Cyprus had about 208,000 IDPs at the end of 2011, according to the Republic of Cyprus; the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus disputes this, saying that internal displacement ended in 1975. Ethiopia has about 200,000 IDPs due to natural disasters, the Ethiopian-Eritrean War and the Ogaden conflict. Georgia has 220,000 - 300,000 IDPs due to displacement of the ethnic Georgian population who have fled Abkhazia and South Ossetia. In Haiti, an estimated 1.5 million people were displaced following the January 2010 Haiti earthquake. As of June 2012, approximately 390,000 IDPs remained in 575 displacement camps. Iraq at least 4 million IDPs due to continued war ever since Saddam's regime fall and recent ISIL based onslaught. India - About 150,000, Kashmiri Pandits from the entire state of Jammu and Kashmir have been internally displaced due to the aggressive and violent separatist movement. Many adivasis (tribals) in the states (especially in Central India that fall in the Red Corridor) where the violence between the Naxals and the Indian State has been rising are forced by circumstances to move to the neighboring relatively peaceful states both for saving their lives and for employment. Indonesia has 200,000 - 350,000 IDPs due to fighting between the government and secessionist rebel movements. Israel has about 10,000 displaced Bedou-

ence', 'Memorialization and Objects of the Dead', 'The Apparatus and the Unfixed Vanishing Point', 'Presence, Absence, and Play in the Hyperreal spaces of Computation', 'Traces of Absence in Photography: Dina Kanto and Alec Soth', 'The Cost of Burying the Dead: Six Feet Under' and 'Resisting Arrest: the Elusive Vanishing Point'. A 90-year-old man was at home in Youngstown, Ohio when he was alerted to an intruder by the sound of glass-breaking on his porch. The man retrieved a .357-caliber revolver and fired a shot in the direction of the home invader, prompting the intruder to flee the scene. Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (1 Oregon) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Virginia) Ruff (1 California) Sharp-tailed

Sandpiper (10 Alaska, 1 Washington) Slaty-backed Gull (2 Alaska) Plain-capped Starthroat (3 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Black-capped Gnatcatcher (2 Arizona) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (6 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (5 Arizona) Thunderstorms will continue over northern Kansas and southern Nebraska with large/damaging hail and a risk of a tornado or two. The activity will shift south-eastward across Kansas and into southwestern Missouri toward Friday morning. The remains covered the earthen floor beyond the narrow opening. This was, the scientists concluded, a large, dark chamber for the dead of a previously unidentified species of the early human lineage -- Homo naledi. Researchers analyzing the H. naledi fossils have not yet nailed down their age, which is difficult to measure because of the muddled chamber sediments and the absence of other fauna remains nearby. Some of its primitive anatomy, like a brain no larger than an average orange, Dr. Bergersaid, indicated that the species evolved near or at the root of the Homo genus, meaning it must be in excess of 2.5 million to 2.8 million years old. Geologists think the cave is no older than three million years. We welcome applicants from a range of disciplines and specialties, but applicants should have research expertise that speaks to one or more of the Abrahamic religions (Islam, Judaism, and/or Christianity) and be able to demonstrate sophistication in using social-scientific and/or historical methods. The successful candidate will teach an introductory 100-level paper on Judaism, Christianity and Islam each year, plus one or two more papers (courses) of their own design (an average of two and a half papers per year). We particularly encourage candidates whose own papers would address aspects of Islam and/or Christianity outside Europe and North America. Applicants should have an energetic and enthusiastic commitment to teaching and an active research profile. Washington helped create the conditions with its wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. The numbers keep on growing. The authorities are overwhelmed, as are the solidarity networks. The refugee crisis has revealed a different rift: between thousands of ordinary citizens, from Greece to

Germany to Britain, ready to share their bread their homes, and governments determined to fortify their borders and protect their power, backed by both the anxious and the frankly xenophobic. Meanwhile, the people keep coming, and will continue to risk their lives to come. The Syrians entering Europe now are fleeing war, not poverty, but anyone who has spent time among refugees and migrants knows that these forms of violence often go hand in hand. Two billion people live on less than $1.25 a day. The barrier that once protected the rich world from the poor has been crumbling for years, undermined by globalization and the information revolution. No amount of barbed wire or steel can stand it up again. In the wake of the crisis and recession, despite the fact that nearly all the gains of the recovery have gone straight into the bank accounts of the wealthy, America's billionaires keep doing things like comparing themselves to persecuted Jews in Nazi Germany and talking about the ever-popular pitchforks. Many aggressively denounce policies designed to redistribute wealth as "class warfare." It's been noted extensively that if there is any class warfare happening, it's the wealthy waging it against the lower classes. Yet the idea of a popular worker uprising that results in loss of property or violence against America's rich is a bogeyman to which we keep returning. Even those in favor of addressing growing inequality use "avoiding class warfare" as the argument that putting in a fix is urgent. Children all over the world are suffering, and families remain trapped by artificial borders and legal requirements. Rather than simply increase quotas for some refugees, we need to envision a world where everyone has the right to flee violence and poverty. Tokyo is two sides of a coin. One side is tailored suits, high fashion, flashy Lamborghinis, and skyscrapers. If you look just a little deeper you can see the somber other side: the prostitutes along Dogenzaka, the homeless at Yoyogi Park, the empty beer cans and sake cups that litter the station as soon as the workday ends. At last count, state-funded shelters in all of Japan numbered about 25. Most public-housing services in Japan act as halfway houses, before the homeless are inevitably turned back out onto the street. There are some opportunities for the homeless to earn a meager living, but most are undesirable at best. For example, they have been recruited--at minimum wage--to take part in the government-funded project of cleaning up nuclear radiation in areas affected by the 2011 Fukushima disaster. A crook snuck into a closed sushi restaurant and swiped $933 in ingredients including fish eggs, crab and lobster, according to a police report. The burglar stuck Mura, a sushi restaurant at 369 Fifth Ave., sometime between midnight and 11 a.m. on Sept. 1, according to the report. The thief entered the restaurant through a rear door and stole between 10 and 20 pounds of lobster, 30 pounds of beef, 15 pounds of shrimp, $85 in crab and $100 worth of tobiko -- fish eggs. The burglar was apparently thirsty, too, and took $200 in sake, plus orange juice, Coke and Sprite, according to the report. Azerbaijan has ca. 600,000 IDPs as a result of the Nagorno-Karabakh War. (Refugees and internally displaced persons in Azerbaijan) Afghanistan has 132,000 - 200,000 IDPs, mostly in the south and west parts of the country, due to fighting between NATO and Taliban-allied fighters. Burma (Myanmar) has about 503,000 IDPs due to decades of a long Internal conflict in Myanmar and government repression of ethnic minorities as well as Cyclone Nargis. The Central African Republic has about 197,000 IDPs due to the 2003 coup d'état and the subsequent civil war. Chad has about 178,000 IDPs due to the proximity to Darfur and the civil war in eastern Chad. Colombia has over 4 million IDPs according to the UNHCR, due to the war between the government, the FARC, the AUC and other armed groups. But, the numbers could be higher due this numbers correspond to statistics since 1997. CODHES determined that the IDP amount is higher, surpassing 5 million people. The Democratic Republic of Congo has almost 1.5 million IDPs due to the Second Congo War, mostly in the eastern provinces. Cote d'Ivoire has about 709,000 IDPs due to the civil war, mostly in the western regions. Cyprus had about 208,000 IDPs at the end of 2011, according to the Republic of Cyprus; the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus disputes this, saying that internal displacement ended in 1975. Ethiopia has about 200,000 IDPs due to natural disasters, the Ethiopian-Eritrean War and the Ogaden conflict. Georgia has 220,000 - 300,000 IDPs due to displacement of the ethnic Georgian population who have fled Abkhazia and South Ossetia. In Haiti, an estimated 1.5 million people were displaced following the January 2010 Haiti earthquake. As of June 2012, approximately 390,000 IDPs remained in 575 displacement camps. Iraq at least 4 million IDPs due to continued war ever since Saddam's regime fall and recent ISIL based onslaught. India - About 150,000, Kashmiri Pandits from the entire state of Jammu and Kashmir have been internally displaced due to the aggressive and violent separatist movement. Many adivasis (tribals) in the states (especially in Central India that fall in the Red Corridor) where the violence between the Naxals and the Indian State has been rising are forced by circumstances to move to the neighboring relatively peaceful states both for saving their lives and for employment. Indonesia has 200,000 - 350,000 IDPs due to fighting between the government and secessionist rebel movements. Israel has about 10,000 displaced Bedou-

ence', 'Memorialization and Objects of the Dead', 'The Apparatus and the Unfixed Vanishing Point', 'Presence, Absence, and Play in the Hyperreal spaces of Computation', 'Traces of Absence in Photography: Dina Kanto and Alec Soth', 'The Cost of Burying the Dead: Six Feet Under' and 'Resisting Arrest: the Elusive Vanishing Point'. A 90-year-old man was at home in Youngstown, Ohio when he was alerted to an intruder by the sound of glass-breaking on his porch. The man retrieved a .357-caliber revolver and fired a shot in the direction of the home invader, prompting the intruder to flee the scene. Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (1 Oregon) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Virginia) Ruff (1 California) Sharp-tailed

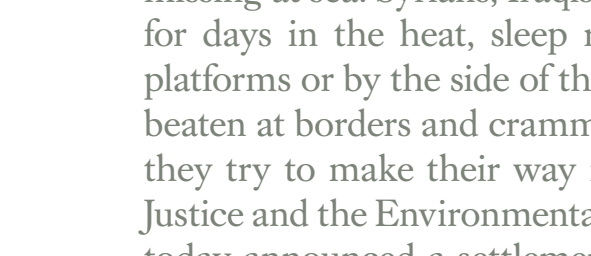

Sandpiper (10 Alaska, 1 Washington) Slaty-backed Gull (2 Alaska) Plain-capped Starthroat (3 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Black-capped Gnatcatcher (2 Arizona) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (6 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (5 Arizona) Thunderstorms will continue over northern Kansas and southern Nebraska with large/damaging hail and a risk of a tornado or two. The activity will shift south-eastward across Kansas and into southwestern Missouri toward Friday morning. The remains covered the earthen floor beyond the narrow opening. This was, the scientists concluded, a large, dark chamber for the dead of a previously unidentified species of the early human lineage -- Homo naledi. Researchers analyzing the H. naledi fossils have not yet nailed down their age, which is difficult to measure because of the muddled chamber sediments and the absence of other fauna remains nearby. Some of its primitive anatomy, like a brain no larger than an average orange, Dr. Bergersaid, indicated that the species evolved near or at the root of the Homo genus, meaning it must be in excess of 2.5 million to 2.8 million years old. Geologists think the cave is no older than three million years. We welcome applicants from a range of disciplines and specialties, but applicants should have research expertise that speaks to one or more of the Abrahamic religions (Islam, Judaism, and/or Christianity) and be able to demonstrate sophistication in using social-scientific and/or historical methods. The successful candidate will teach an introductory 100-level paper on Judaism, Christianity and Islam each year, plus one or two more papers (courses) of their own design (an average of two and a half papers per year). We particularly encourage candidates whose own papers would address aspects of Islam and/or Christianity outside Europe and North America. Applicants should have an energetic and enthusiastic commitment to teaching and an active research profile. Washington helped create the conditions with its wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. The numbers keep on growing. The authorities are overwhelmed, as are the solidarity networks. The refugee crisis has revealed a different rift: between thousands of ordinary citizens, from Greece to

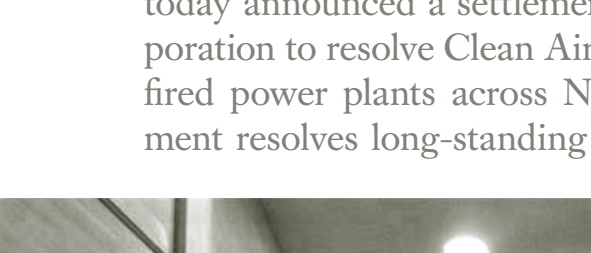

Germany to Britain, ready to share their bread their homes, and governments determined to fortify their borders and protect their power, backed by both the anxious and the frankly xenophobic. Meanwhile, the people keep coming, and will continue to risk their lives to come. The Syrians entering Europe now are fleeing war, not poverty, but anyone who has spent time among refugees and migrants knows that these forms of violence often go hand in hand. Two billion people live on less than $1.25 a day. The barrier that once protected the rich world from the poor has been crumbling for years, undermined by globalization and the information revolution. No amount of barbed wire or steel can stand it up again. In the wake of the crisis and recession, despite the fact that nearly all the gains of the recovery have gone straight into the bank accounts of the wealthy, America's billionaires keep doing things like comparing themselves to persecuted Jews in Nazi Germany and talking about the ever-popular pitchforks. Many aggressively denounce policies designed to redistribute wealth as "class warfare." It's been noted extensively that if there is any class warfare happening, it's the wealthy waging it against the lower classes. Yet the idea of a popular worker uprising that results in loss of property or violence against America's rich is a bogeyman to which we keep returning. Even those in favor of addressing growing inequality use "avoiding class warfare" as the argument that putting in a fix is urgent. Children all over the world are suffering, and families remain trapped by artificial borders and legal requirements. Rather than simply increase quotas for some refugees, we need to envision a world where everyone has the right to flee violence and poverty. Tokyo is two sides of a coin. One side is tailored suits, high fashion, flashy Lamborghinis, and skyscrapers. If you look just a little deeper you can see the somber other side: the prostitutes along Dogenzaka, the homeless at Yoyogi Park, the empty beer cans and sake cups that litter the station as soon as the workday ends. At last count, state-funded shelters in all of Japan numbered about 25. Most public-housing services in Japan act as halfway houses, before the homeless are inevitably turned back out onto the street. There are some opportunities for the homeless to earn a meager living, but most are undesirable at best. For example, they have been recruited--at minimum wage--to take part in the government-funded project of cleaning up nuclear radiation in areas affected by the 2011 Fukushima disaster. A crook snuck into a closed sushi restaurant and swiped $933 in ingredients including fish eggs, crab and lobster, according to a police report. The burglar stuck Mura, a sushi restaurant at 369 Fifth Ave., sometime between midnight and 11 a.m. on Sept. 1, according to the report. The thief entered the restaurant through a rear door and stole between 10 and 20 pounds of lobster, 30 pounds of beef, 15 pounds of shrimp, $85 in crab and $100 worth of tobiko -- fish eggs. The burglar was apparently thirsty, too, and took $200 in sake, plus orange juice, Coke and Sprite, according to the report. Azerbaijan has ca. 600,000 IDPs as a result of the Nagorno-Karabakh War. (Refugees and internally displaced persons in Azerbaijan) Afghanistan has 132,000 - 200,000 IDPs, mostly in the south and west parts of the country, due to fighting between NATO and Taliban-allied fighters. Burma (Myanmar) has about 503,000 IDPs due to decades of a long Internal conflict in Myanmar and government repression of ethnic minorities as well as Cyclone Nargis. The Central African Republic has about 197,000 IDPs due to the 2003 coup d'état and the subsequent civil war. Chad has about 178,000 IDPs due to the proximity to Darfur and the civil war in eastern Chad. Colombia has over 4 million IDPs according to the UNHCR, due to the war between the government, the FARC, the AUC and other armed groups. But, the numbers could be higher due this numbers correspond to statistics since 1997. CODHES determined that the IDP amount is higher, surpassing 5 million people. The Democratic Republic of Congo has almost 1.5 million IDPs due to the Second Congo War, mostly in the eastern provinces. Cote d'Ivoire has about 709,000 IDPs due to the civil war, mostly in the western regions. Cyprus had about 208,000 IDPs at the end of 2011, according to the Republic of Cyprus; the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus disputes this, saying that internal displacement ended in 1975. Ethiopia has about 200,000 IDPs due to natural disasters, the Ethiopian-Eritrean War and the Ogaden conflict. Georgia has 220,000 - 300,000 IDPs due to displacement of the ethnic Georgian population who have fled Abkhazia and South Ossetia. In Haiti, an estimated 1.5 million people were displaced following the January 2010 Haiti earthquake. As of June 2012, approximately 390,000 IDPs remained in 575 displacement camps. Iraq at least 4 million IDPs due to continued war ever since Saddam's regime fall and recent ISIL based onslaught. India - About 150,000, Kashmiri Pandits from the entire state of Jammu and Kashmir have been internally displaced due to the aggressive and violent separatist movement. Many adivasis (tribals) in the states (especially in Central India that fall in the Red Corridor) where the violence between the Naxals and the Indian State has been rising are forced by circumstances to move to the neighboring relatively peaceful states both for saving their lives and for employment. Indonesia has 200,000 - 350,000 IDPs due to fighting between the government and secessionist rebel movements. Israel has about 10,000 displaced Bedou-

ence', 'Memorialization and Objects of the Dead', 'The Apparatus and the Unfixed Vanishing Point', 'Presence, Absence, and Play in the Hyperreal spaces of Computation', 'Traces of Absence in Photography: Dina Kanto and Alec Soth', 'The Cost of Burying the Dead: Six Feet Under' and 'Resisting Arrest: the Elusive Vanishing Point'. A 90-year-old man was at home in Youngstown, Ohio when he was alerted to an intruder by the sound of glass-breaking on his porch. The man retrieved a .357-caliber revolver and fired a shot in the direction of the home invader, prompting the intruder to flee the scene. Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (1 Oregon) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Virginia) Ruff (1 California) Sharp-tailed

Sandpiper (10 Alaska, 1 Washington) Slaty-backed Gull (2 Alaska) Plain-capped Starthroat (3 Arizona) Sinaloa Wren (1 Arizona) Black-capped Gnatcatcher (2 Arizona) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Rufous-capped Warbler (6 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (5 Arizona) Thunderstorms will continue over northern Kansas and southern Nebraska with large/damaging hail and a risk of a tornado or two. The activity will shift south-eastward across Kansas and into southwestern Missouri toward Friday morning. The remains covered the earthen floor beyond the narrow opening. This was, the scientists concluded, a large, dark chamber for the dead of a previously unidentified species of the early human lineage -- Homo naledi. Researchers analyzing the H. naledi fossils have not yet nailed down their age, which is difficult to measure because of the muddled chamber sediments and the absence of other fauna remains nearby. Some of its primitive anatomy, like a brain no larger than an average orange, Dr. Bergersaid, indicated that the species evolved near or at the root of the Homo genus, meaning it must be in excess of 2.5 million to 2.8 million years old. Geologists think the cave is no older than three million years. We welcome applicants from a range of disciplines and specialties, but applicants should have research expertise that speaks to one or more of the Abrahamic religions (Islam, Judaism, and/or Christianity) and be able to demonstrate sophistication in using social-scientific and/or historical methods. The successful candidate will teach an introductory 100-level paper on Judaism, Christianity and Islam each year, plus one or two more papers (courses) of their own design (an average of two and a half papers per year). We particularly encourage candidates whose own papers would address aspects of Islam and/or Christianity outside Europe and North America. Applicants should have an energetic and enthusiastic commitment to teaching and an active research profile. Washington helped create the conditions with its wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. The numbers keep on growing. The authorities are overwhelmed, as are the solidarity networks. The refugee crisis has revealed a different rift: between thousands of ordinary citizens, from Greece to

Germany to Britain, ready to share their bread their homes, and governments determined to fortify their borders and protect their power, backed by both the anxious and the frankly xenophobic. Meanwhile, the people keep coming, and will continue to risk their lives to come. The Syrians entering Europe now are fleeing war, not poverty, but anyone who has spent time among refugees and migrants knows that these forms of violence often go hand in hand. Two billion people live on less than $1.25 a day. The barrier that once protected the rich world from the poor ins, most of whom are Arab citizens of Israel. Kenya has 250,000 - 400,000 IDPs due to the violence that rocked the country after the 2007 elections. Kosovo had 590,000 displaced and 848,000-863,000 expelled. Kosovar Albanians by Serb forces during the Kosovo War. Kurdistan has more than 3.5 million IDP's due to the Kurdish-Turkish conflict. Mexico has between 25,000 and 1.6 million IDP's due to the war on drugs. Palestinian territories have 150,000 - 420,000 Internally Displaced Palestinians. Pakistan has more than 400,000 IDPs at the end of 2008 due to ongoing conflicts in three regions of Pakistan. Currently 950,000 people have been displaced in KP province due to military operation. The Philippines have about 300,000 IDPs due to fighting between the government and communist and Islamic rebels. Serbia has over 220,000 IDPs from Kosovo after the arrival of NATO forces. Somalia has over a million IDPs due to the civil war. Sudan has 5 - 6 million IDPs due to decades of civil war in the south and the Darfur conflict in the west. Syria has at least 7.6 million IDPs as a result of the Syrian Civil War. Uganda had about 869,000 IDPs in 2008 due to the insurgency of the Lord's Resistance Army. The figure went down to almost 0 in 2012. Ukraine has about 1.3 million IDPs due to the War in Don-bass, most IDPs relocated themselves in the countries eastern regions. Zimbabwe has 560,000 - 960,000 IDPs due to political violence, major land reform and an economic collapse of the country. As a Trial Attorney, the incumbent: Investigates and prosecutes cases in federal court, usually in partnership with United States Attorneys' Offices. Handles complex, challenging, and potentially novel legal issues. Develops and maintains positive and effective relationships with our numerous law enforcement partners including federal, military and international investigative agencies. Advises and consults with the deputy chiefs, Section Chief, the Deputy Assistant Attorney General, the Assistant Attorney General, and others on the status of all cases and matters. Works with others in the Department of Justice and other agencies to develop policy. The first underwater dance and art performance in the world will be staged in Greece. Two choreographers, Apostolia Papa d a m a k i from Greece and Sophie Bulbulyan from France, in collaboration with Lia Haraki from Cyprus and a group of artists from 12 countries (France, Germany, Greece, Switzerland, Spain, Cyprus, Lebanon, Norway, Netherlands, Hungary, Portugal and Sweden) will present the show "Drops of Breath, off the coast of cape Sounion. Meet Miracle Mike, the fowl that lived for 18 months without a head. Recently, poetry has resurfaced as an engaged and active voice, both to the world at large and within its own borders: rejecting its own supposed avant-garde and writing new histories, creating new spaces. Taking poetry as a jumping-off point, the work collected in this issue restructures and renegotiates the parameters between word and image, language and meaning. Throughout the issue, the conceit that poetry and visual culture are separate genres is repeatedly undone, revealing new strategies that render visible a politics of world-making. Confirmed speakers: Robert van Boeschoten / Enric Duran / Rachel O Dwyer / Eduard de Jong / Primavera De Filippi / David Golumbia / Nyria Gwell / Max Haiven / Femke Herregraven / Cecile Landman / Silvio Lorusso / Paul Radu / Jip de Ridder / Lena Rethel / Robin Hood Minor Asset Management / Stephanie Rothenberg / Brett Scott If money is a medium, it can be imagined in different ways. If money is a medium, it can be used to different ends. Over the last seven years we have seen the rise of finance art: shrewd, bold, well-versed, trickster-like tools, installations and objects actively engaging with high finance and banking systems. In depth-research, provocation and visualization are some of the tactics used to critique, visualize and materialize the virtual political economy of banking and finance. How does money affect social processes and the way we relate to one another? Where is there room for intervention and autonomy? Is there such a thing as finance art? And what alternatives are imagined? How can we generate trust in these types of technologies on a larger-scale expanding outside the domain of the small, tech-savvy communities and progressive developers who currently use it without falling back on a centralized mediator, like banks? What does schoten / Enric Duran / Rachel O Dwyer / Eduard de Jong / Primavera De Filippi / David Golumbia / Nyria Gwell / Max Haiven / Femke Herregraven / Cecile Landman / Silvio Lorusso / Paul Radu / Jip de Ridder / Lena Rethel / Robin Hood Minor Asset Management / Stephanie Rothenberg / Brett Scott If money is a medium,

it can be imagined in different ways. If money is a medium, it can be used to different ends. Over the last seven years we have seen the rise of finance art: shrewd, bold, well-versed, trickster-like tools, installations and objects actively engaging with high finance and banking systems. In depth-research, provocation and visualization are some of the tactics used to critique, visualize and materialize the virtual political economy of banking and finance. How does money affect social processes and the way we relate to one another? Where is there room for intervention and autonomy? Is there such a thing as finance art? And what alternatives are imagined? How can we generate trust in these types of technologies on a larger-scale expanding outside the domain of the small, tech-savvy communities and progressive developers who currently use it without falling back on a centralized mediator, like banks? What does it can be imagined in different ways. If money is a medium, it can be used to different ends. Over the last seven years we have seen the rise of finance art: shrewd, bold, well-versed, trickster-like tools, installations and objects actively engaging with high finance and banking systems. In depth-research, provocation and visualization are some of the tactics used to critique, visualize and materialize the virtual political economy of banking and finance. How does money affect social processes and the way we relate to one another? Where is there room for intervention and autonomy? Is there such a thing as finance art? And what alternatives are imagined? How can we generate trust in these types of technologies on a larger-scale expanding outside the domain of the small, tech-savvy communities and progressive developers who currently use it without falling back on a centralized mediator, like banks? What does it mean when we argue in favor of such a general tool that is designed to administrate whatever value or procedure? And how decentralized is it anyway? What underlying structures, political and economic, does it tackle? What does the future hold for crypto-currencies and blockchain technology? Will they be co-opted by the big banks as an extra payment service? Will they form parallel exchange systems of trust and security? Yet Japan is still caught in an economic trap. Persistent deflation has created a society in which people hoard cash, making it hard for policy to respond when bad things happen, which is why the business people I've been talking to here are terrified about the possible spillover from China's troubles. Scattered storms tonight along a cold front across the southeastern and southern U.S. On Saturday, a few severe thunderstorms are possible in the mid-Atlantic and parts of Florida. Follow the Storm Prediction Center for updates. The person who submitted this change of address form states that he or she is the person, executor, guardian, authorized officer, or agent of the person for whom mail would be forwarded under this order. Anyone submitting false or inaccurate information on this form is subject to punishment by fine or imprisonment or both under Sections 2, 1001, 1702 and 1708 of Title 18, United States Code. Truth always rests with the minority, and the minority is always stronger than the majority, because the minority is generally formed by those who really have an opinion, while the strength of a majority is illusory, formed by the gangs who have no opinion -- and who, therefore, in the next instant (when it is evident that the minority is the stronger) assume its opinion ... while Truth always reverts to a new minority. Most Americans aren't the sort of citizens the Founding Fathers expected; they are contented serfs. Far from being active critics of government, they assume that its might makes it right. Always stand on principle, even if you stand alone. Dramatic footage has emerged showing people at Hungary's main refugee camp on the border with Serbia being fed like wild animals. Refugees are just one symptom of a deeper crisis. Moreover, like other symptoms of this deeper crisis, the global elite is happy to use this symptom to keep us utterly preoccupied; after all, the immediacy of the refugee problem is all too demanding of our attention and our compassion. The military conflicts and political instability driving hundreds of thousands of refugees into Europe were triggered largely by U.S. and Western military interventions for regime change - specifically in Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya and Syria (a regime change in-the-making). The United States was provided with strong military support by countries such as Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Spain, while the no-fly zone to oust Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi was led by France and the UK in 2011 and aided by Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Canada, among others. Directed by a bearded-guy from a cave in Afghanistan, nineteen hard-drinking, coke-snorting, devout Muslims enjoy lap dances before their mission to meet Allah. For those who like to drink cold water, this article is applicable to you. It is nice to have a cup of cold drink after a meal. However, the cold water will solidify the oily stuff that you have just consumed. It will slow down the digestion. Once this 'sludge' reacts with the acid, it will break down and be absorbed by the intestine faster than the solid food. It will line the intestine. Very soon, this will turn into fats and lead to cancer. It is best to drink hot soup or warm water after a meal. At 145 meters in height, Mount Shizuki in Hagi would be called a hill in English, but is symmetry and steepness give it quite a dramatic appearance. Jutting out into the sea it is particularly dramatic on a misty morning when viewed along the wide sweep of Kikugahama Beach. Hagi Castle was built at its base. The castle town and a couple of other sites in Hagi have been added to Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (2 Oregon) Tufted Duck (1 N e w - foundland and Labrador) Flesh-f o t e d Shearwater (1 California) Brown Booby (1 Florida, 1 Louisiana, 1 Virginia) Ruff (2 California) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (6 Alaska) Slaty-backed Gull (3 Alaska) Plain-capped Starthroat (5 A r i z o n a) White-eared Hummingbird (1 Arizona) Tufted Flycatcher (2 A r i z o n a) B r o w n Shrike (2 Alaska) Sky Lark (1 Alaska) Sinaloa Wren (2 Arizona) White Wagtail (2 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (2 Alaska, 4 Oregon) Slate-throated Redstart (2 Arizona) Hundreds of thousands of refugees from war-torn countries have entered Europe this year. As the debate over Europe's responsibility to let these refugees in continues, calls for humanitarianism have been accompanied by an alarming and predictable Western response. Following the cynical adage that you can't let a good crisis go to waste, intellectuals and states alike have been happy to use the crisis for renewed calls for Western military intervention. A law professor at West Point was forced to hastily resign after it emerged that he had authored a number of controversial articles. In one he suggested that legal scholars defending the rights of suspected terrorists could be considered legitimate military targets, while in another he examined a potential military coup in the United States, arguing that officers may have a duty to seize control of the federal government if the federal government acted against the interest of the country. The United States military has long embraced the idea of civilian control of national affairs, and apart from certain rare moments the American officer corps has faithfully followed the orders of their civilian superiors. YouGov's latest research shows, however, that officers in the military are held in much greater esteem than their civilian superiors, and that they are widely viewed as having the best interests of the country in mind instead of their own selfish concerns. The country's five largest for-profit health insurers are trying to merge into three mega corporations, creating an oligopoly that will drive up premiums for patients and employers, cut payments to doctors, and pocket the difference as profits. The health insurance industry is a national embarrassment that is costing patients their income and sometimes their lives. High deductibles and limited networks are becoming the norm, making healthcare inaccessible even for the insured. Tell Attorney General Loretta Lynch to block the health insurance mergers, since healthcare is a right and shouldn't be controlled by "too big to fail" insurance profiteers. All of the powers that make single-payer healthcare so effective - the ability to negotiate low prices for drugs and medical devices, and set fair rates for providers - are dead in the hands of for-profit insurers, who pocket savings instead of passing them along to patients, and squeeze providers until the quality of care plummets. The stuff of thought is the seed of the artist. Dreams form the bristles of the artist's brush. As the eye functions as the brain's sentry, I communicate my innermost perceptions through the art, my worldview. Just a few years after the financial crisis, a new report tells an important story: Federal prosecution of white-collar crime has hit a 20-year low. The analysis by Syracuse University shows a more than 36 percent decline in such prosecutions since the middle of the Clinton administration, when the decline began. Landing amid calls from Democratic presidential candidates for more Wall Street prosecutions, the report notes that the projected number of prosecutions this year is 12 percent less than last year and 29 percent less than five years ago. In the video, six members of the Sheriff's Emergency Response Team, along with several uniformed deputies can be seen wrestling the mentally ill woman down onto the floor. Please do not reply to this email. We are unable to respond to inquiries sent to this address. For immediate answers to your questions, visit our Help Center by clicking "Help" located on any PayPal page or email. Still getting magazines forwarded with yellow labels? To continue receiving your magazines, please change your address directly with the magazine publisher. Yellow stickers with your new address are placed on mail forwarded by the U.S. Postal Service. To receive your mail faster, notify the sender of your new address. Please make sure to notify other important parties of your change of address. Mail forwarding only covers certain classes of mail for a period of up to 12 months. Many government agencies and mailers will not change your address without direct contact from you, so it is important that you notify parties directly. Such a prospect is dreaded by the overwhelming majority of both the Kurdish and Turkish population. Only a mass, organized and united movement of Turkish and Kurdish workers and youth can stop the ongoing carnage. Unfortunately, the revenge attacks of the PKK play in Erdogan's hands; they are also making the building of such unity much more difficult, and contribute to pushing a layer of the Turkish population into the arms of right-wing chauvinist reactionaries. Urgently the HDP, along with the trade unions and socialist organisations, should joint in their efforts to organize a large-scale response to the war, appealing to the working class, the poor and the youth across the ethnic divide. Mass protests and strikes should be called: against the AKP-led war, against racist attacks, against police repression and against terrorism in all its forms. Multi-ethnic and democratically organized initiatives should also be undertaken, in order to defend communities from future attacks. ...and breastless creatures under ground Leaned backward with a lipless grin. Daffodil bulbs instead of balls Stared from sockets of the eyes! He knew that thought clings round dead limbs Tightening its lusts and luxuries. He knew the anguish of the marrow The ague of the skeleton; no contact possible to flesh alighted the fever of the bone. The dream was to catch a fish in the East River, put it in an aquarium mounted on a bicycle, ride it around singing songs to it about New York and humans, then safely return it to the river the same day. In June 2014, Brad sung to a live fish purchased from Chinatown. The fish barely made it through the concert. After the last song, it was rushed into the gallery's backyard pond but later died. Hill now returns to sing new songs to a dead fish. I don't know how to save the world. I don't have the answers or The Answer. I hold no secret knowledge as to how to fix the mistakes of generations past and present. I only know that without compassion and respect for all of Earth's inhabitants, none of us will survive-nor will we deserve to. Does anyone have a truck and strong arms? My boss just pulled up all the carpet in his house but I only have a small car and am not able to lift much. Otherwise, the new carpet installer will dispose of it. Airline flights may be overbooked, and there is a slight chance that a seat will not be available on a flight for which a person has a confirmed res-

the federal government if the federal government acted against the interest of the country. The United States military has long embraced the idea of civilian control of national affairs, and apart from certain rare moments the American officer corps has faithfully followed the orders of their civilian superiors. YouGov's latest research shows, however, that officers in the military are held in much greater esteem than their civilian superiors, and that they are widely viewed as having the best interests of the country in mind instead of their own selfish concerns. The country's five largest for-profit health insurers are trying to merge into three mega corporations, creating an oligopoly that will drive up premiums for patients and employers, cut payments to doctors, and pocket the difference as profits. The health insurance industry is a national embarrassment that is costing patients their income and sometimes their lives. High deductibles and limited networks are becoming the norm, making healthcare inaccessible even for the insured. Tell Attorney General Loretta Lynch to block the health insurance mergers, since healthcare is a right and shouldn't be controlled by "too big to fail" insurance profiteers. All of the powers that make single-payer healthcare so effective - the ability to negotiate low prices for drugs and medical devices, and set fair rates for providers - are dead in the hands of for-profit insurers, who pocket savings instead of passing them along to patients, and squeeze providers until the quality of care plummets. The stuff of thought is the seed of the artist. Dreams form the bristles of the artist's brush. As the eye functions as the brain's sentry, I communicate my innermost perceptions through the art, my worldview. Just a few years after the financial crisis, a new report tells an important story: Federal prosecution of white-collar crime has hit a 20-year low. The analysis by Syracuse University shows a more than 36 percent decline in such prosecutions since the middle of the Clinton administration, when the decline began. Landing amid calls from Democratic presidential candidates for more Wall Street prosecutions, the report notes that the projected number of prosecutions this year is 12 percent less than last year and 29 percent less than five years ago. In the video, six members of the Sheriff's Emergency Response Team, along with several uniformed deputies can be seen wrestling the mentally ill woman down onto the floor. Please do not reply to this email. We are unable to respond to inquiries sent to this address. For immediate answers to your questions, visit our Help Center by clicking "Help" located on any PayPal page or email. Still getting magazines forwarded with yellow labels? To continue receiving your magazines, please change your address directly with the magazine publisher. Yellow stickers with your new address are placed on mail forwarded by the U.S. Postal Service. To receive your mail faster, notify the sender of your new address. Please make sure to notify other important parties of your change of address. Mail forwarding only covers certain classes of mail for a period of up to 12 months. Many government agencies and mailers will not change your address without direct contact from you, so it is important that you notify parties directly. Such a prospect is dreaded by the overwhelming majority of both the Kurdish and Turkish population. Only a mass, organized and united movement of Turkish and Kurdish workers and youth can stop the ongoing carnage. Unfortunately, the revenge attacks of the PKK play in Erdogan's hands; they are also making the building of such unity much more difficult, and contribute to pushing a layer of the Turkish population into the arms of right-wing chauvinist reactionaries. Urgently the HDP, along with the trade unions and socialist organisations, should joint in their efforts to organize a large-scale response to the war, appealing to the working class, the poor and the youth across the ethnic divide. Mass protests and strikes should be called: against the AKP-led war, against racist attacks, against police repression and against terrorism in all its forms. Multi-ethnic and democratically organized initiatives should also be undertaken, in order to defend communities from future attacks. ...and breastless creatures under ground Leaned backward with a lipless grin. Daffodil bulbs instead of balls Stared from sockets of the eyes! He knew that thought clings round dead limbs Tightening its lusts and luxuries. He knew the anguish of the marrow The ague of the skeleton; no contact possible to flesh alighted the fever of the bone. The dream was to catch a fish in the East River, put it in an aquarium mounted on a bicycle, ride it around singing songs to it about New York and humans, then safely return it to the river the same day. In June 2014, Brad sung to a live fish purchased from Chinatown. The fish barely made it through the concert. After the last song, it was rushed into the gallery's backyard pond but later died. Hill now returns to sing new songs to a dead fish. I don't know how to save the world. I don't have the answers or The Answer. I hold no secret knowledge as to how to fix the mistakes of generations past and present. I only know that without compassion and respect for all of Earth's inhabitants, none of us will survive-nor will we deserve to. Does anyone have a truck and strong arms? My boss just pulled up all the carpet in his house but I only have a small car and am not able to lift much. Otherwise, the new carpet installer will dispose of it. Airline flights may be overbooked, and there is a slight chance that a seat will not be available on a flight for which a person has a confirmed res-

the federal government if the federal government acted against the interest of the country. The United States military has long embraced the idea of civilian control of national affairs, and apart from certain rare moments the American officer corps has faithfully followed the orders of their civilian superiors. YouGov's latest research shows, however, that officers in the military are held in much greater esteem than their civilian superiors, and that they are widely viewed as having the best interests of the country in mind instead of their own selfish concerns. The country's five largest for-profit health insurers are trying to merge into three mega corporations, creating an oligopoly that will drive up premiums for patients and employers, cut payments to doctors, and pocket the difference as profits. The health insurance industry is a national embarrassment that is costing patients their income and sometimes their lives. High deductibles and limited networks are becoming the norm, making healthcare inaccessible even for the insured. Tell Attorney General Loretta Lynch to block the health insurance mergers, since healthcare is a right and shouldn't be controlled by "too big to fail" insurance profiteers. All of the powers that make single-payer healthcare so effective - the ability to negotiate low prices for drugs and medical devices, and set fair rates for providers - are dead in the hands of for-profit insurers, who pocket savings instead of passing them along to patients, and squeeze providers until the quality of care plummets. The stuff of thought is the seed of the artist. Dreams form the bristles of the artist's brush. As the eye functions as the brain's sentry, I communicate my innermost perceptions through the art, my worldview. Just a few years after the financial crisis, a new report tells an important story: Federal prosecution of white-collar crime has hit a 20-year low. The analysis by Syracuse University shows a more than 36 percent decline in such prosecutions since the middle of the Clinton administration, when the decline began. Landing amid calls from Democratic presidential candidates for more Wall Street prosecutions, the report notes that the projected number of prosecutions this year is 12 percent less than last year and 29 percent less than five years ago. In the video, six members of the Sheriff's Emergency Response Team, along with several uniformed deputies can be seen wrestling the mentally ill woman down onto the floor. Please do not reply to this email. We are unable to respond to inquiries sent to this address. For immediate answers to your questions, visit our Help Center by clicking "Help" located on any PayPal page or email. Still getting magazines forwarded with yellow labels? To continue receiving your magazines, please change your address directly with the magazine publisher. Yellow stickers with your new address are placed on mail forwarded by the U.S. Postal Service. To receive your mail faster, notify the sender of your new address. Please make sure to notify other important parties of your change of address. Mail forwarding only covers certain classes of mail for a period of up to 12 months. Many government agencies and mailers will not change your address without direct contact from you, so it is important that you notify parties directly. Such a prospect is dreaded by the overwhelming majority of both the Kurdish and Turkish population. Only a mass, organized and united movement of Turkish and Kurdish workers and youth can stop the ongoing carnage. Unfortunately, the revenge attacks of the PKK play in Erdogan's hands; they are also making the building of such unity much more difficult, and contribute to pushing a layer of the Turkish population into the arms of right-wing chauvinist reactionaries. Urgently the HDP, along with the trade unions and socialist organisations, should joint in their efforts to organize a large-scale response to the war, appealing to the working class, the poor and the youth across the ethnic divide. Mass protests and strikes should be called: against the AKP-led war, against racist attacks, against police repression and against terrorism in all its forms. Multi-ethnic and democratically organized initiatives should also be undertaken, in order to defend communities from future attacks. ...and breastless creatures under ground Leaned backward with a lipless grin. Daffodil bulbs instead of balls Stared from sockets of the eyes! He knew that thought clings round dead limbs Tightening its lusts and luxuries. He knew the anguish of the marrow The ague of the skeleton; no contact possible to flesh alighted the fever of the bone. The dream was to catch a fish in the East River, put it in an aquarium mounted on a bicycle, ride it around singing songs to it about New York and humans, then safely return it to the river the same day. In June 2014, Brad sung to a live fish purchased from Chinatown. The fish barely made it through the concert. After the last song, it was rushed into the gallery's backyard pond but later died. Hill now returns to sing new songs to a dead fish. I don't know how to save the world. I don't have the answers or The Answer. I hold no secret knowledge as to how to fix the mistakes of generations past and present. I only know that without compassion and respect for all of Earth's inhabitants, none of us will survive-nor will we deserve to. Does anyone have a truck and strong arms? My boss just pulled up all the carpet in his house but I only have a small car and am not able to lift much. Otherwise, the new carpet installer will dispose of it. Airline flights may be overbooked, and there is a slight chance that a seat will not be available on a flight for which a person has a confirmed res-

the federal government if the federal government acted against the interest of the country. The United States military has long embraced the idea of civilian control of national affairs, and apart from certain rare moments the American officer corps has faithfully followed the orders of their civilian superiors. YouGov's latest research shows, however, that officers in the military are held in much greater esteem than their civilian superiors, and that they are widely viewed as having the best interests of the country in mind instead of their own selfish concerns. The country's five largest for-profit health insurers are trying to merge into three mega corporations, creating an oligopoly that will drive up premiums for patients and employers, cut payments to doctors, and pocket the difference as profits. The health insurance industry is a national embarrassment that is costing patients their income and sometimes their lives. High deductibles and limited networks are becoming the norm, making healthcare inaccessible even for the insured. Tell Attorney General Loretta Lynch to block the health insurance mergers, since healthcare is a right and shouldn't be controlled by "too big to fail" insurance profiteers. All of the powers that make single-payer healthcare so effective - the ability to negotiate low prices for drugs and medical devices, and set fair rates for providers - are dead in the hands of for-profit insurers, who pocket savings instead of passing them along to patients, and squeeze providers until the quality of care plummets. The stuff of thought is the seed of the artist. Dreams form the bristles of the artist's brush. As the eye functions as the brain's sentry, I communicate my innermost perceptions through the art, my worldview. Just a few years after the financial crisis, a new report tells an important story: Federal prosecution of white-collar crime has hit a 20-year low. The analysis by Syracuse University shows a more than 36 percent decline in such prosecutions since the middle of the Clinton administration, when the decline began. Landing amid calls from Democratic presidential candidates for more Wall Street prosecutions, the report notes that the projected number of prosecutions this year is 12 percent less than last year and 29 percent less than five years ago. In the video, six members of the Sheriff's Emergency Response Team, along with several uniformed deputies can be seen wrestling the mentally ill woman down onto the floor. Please do not reply to this email. We are unable to respond to inquiries sent to this address. For immediate answers to your questions, visit our Help Center by clicking "Help" located on any PayPal page or email. Still getting magazines forwarded with yellow labels? To continue receiving your magazines, please change your address directly with the magazine publisher. Yellow stickers with your new address are placed on mail forwarded by the U.S. Postal Service. To receive your mail faster, notify the sender of your new address. Please make sure to notify other important parties of your change of address. Mail forwarding only covers certain classes of mail for a period of up to 12 months. Many government agencies and mailers will not change your address without direct contact from you, so it is important that you notify parties directly. Such a prospect is dreaded by the overwhelming majority of both the Kurdish and Turkish population. Only a mass, organized and united movement of Turkish and Kurdish workers and youth can stop the ongoing carnage. Unfortunately, the revenge attacks of the PKK play in Erdogan's hands; they are also making the building of such unity much more difficult, and contribute to pushing a layer of the Turkish population into the arms of right-wing chauvinist reactionaries. Urgently the HDP, along with the trade unions and socialist organisations, should joint in their efforts to organize a large-scale response to the war, appealing to the working class, the poor and the youth across the ethnic divide. Mass protests and strikes should be called: against the AKP-led war, against racist attacks, against police repression and against terrorism in all its forms. Multi-ethnic and democratically organized initiatives should also be undertaken, in order to defend communities from future attacks. ...and breastless creatures under ground Leaned backward with a lipless grin. Daffodil bulbs instead of balls Stared from sockets of the eyes! He knew that thought clings round dead limbs Tightening its lusts and luxuries. He knew the anguish of the marrow The ague of the skeleton; no contact possible to flesh alighted the fever of the bone. The dream was to catch a fish in the East River, put it in an aquarium mounted on a bicycle, ride it around singing songs to it about New York and humans, then safely return it to the river the same day. In June 2014, Brad sung to a live fish purchased from Chinatown. The fish barely made it through the concert. After the last song, it was rushed into the gallery's backyard pond but later died. Hill now returns to sing new songs to a dead fish. I don't know how to save the world. I don't have the answers or The Answer. I hold no secret knowledge as to how to fix the mistakes of generations past and present. I only know that without compassion and respect for all of Earth's inhabitants, none of us will survive-nor will we deserve to. Does anyone have a truck and strong arms? My boss just pulled up all the carpet in his house but I only have a small car and am not able to lift much. Otherwise, the new carpet installer will dispose of it. Airline flights may be overbooked, and there is a slight chance that a seat will not be available on a flight for which a person has a confirmed res-

the federal government if the federal government acted against the interest of the country. The United States military has long embraced the idea of civilian control of national affairs, and apart from certain rare moments the American officer corps has faithfully followed the orders of their civilian superiors. YouGov's latest research shows, however, that officers in the military are held in much greater esteem than their civilian superiors, and that they are widely viewed as having the best interests of the country in mind instead of their own selfish concerns. The country's five largest for-profit health insurers are trying to merge into three mega corporations, creating an oligopoly that will drive up premiums for patients and employers, cut payments to doctors, and pocket the difference as profits. The health insurance industry is a national embarrassment that is costing patients their income and sometimes their lives. High deductibles and limited networks are becoming the norm, making healthcare inaccessible even for the insured. Tell Attorney General Loretta Lynch to block the health insurance mergers, since healthcare is a right and shouldn't be controlled by "too big to fail" insurance profiteers. All of the powers that make single-payer healthcare so effective - the ability to negotiate low prices for drugs and medical devices, and set fair rates for providers - are dead in the hands of for-profit insurers, who pocket savings instead of passing them along to patients, and squeeze providers until the quality of care plummets. The stuff of thought is the seed of the artist. Dreams form the bristles of the artist's brush. As the eye functions as the brain's sentry, I communicate my innermost perceptions through the art, my worldview. Just a few years after the financial crisis, a new report tells an important story: Federal prosecution of white-collar crime has hit a 20-year low. The analysis by Syracuse University shows a more than 36 percent decline in such prosecutions since the middle of the Clinton administration, when the decline began. Landing amid calls from Democratic presidential candidates for more Wall Street prosecutions, the report notes that the projected number of prosecutions this year is 12 percent less than last year and 29 percent less than five years ago. In the video, six members of the Sheriff's Emergency Response Team, along with several uniformed deputies can be seen wrestling the mentally ill woman down onto the floor. Please do not reply to this email. We are unable to respond to inquiries sent to this address. For immediate answers to your questions, visit our Help Center by clicking "Help" located on any PayPal page or email. Still getting magazines forwarded with yellow labels? To continue receiving your magazines, please change your address directly with the magazine publisher. Yellow stickers with your new address are placed on mail forwarded by the U.S. Postal Service. To receive your mail faster, notify the sender of your new address. Please make sure to notify other important parties of your change of address. Mail forwarding only covers certain classes of mail for a period of up to 12 months. Many government agencies and mailers will not change your address without direct contact from you, so it is important that you notify parties directly. Such a prospect is dreaded by the overwhelming majority of both the Kurdish and Turkish population. Only a mass, organized and united movement of Turkish and Kurdish workers and youth can stop the ongoing carnage. Unfortunately, the revenge attacks of the PKK play in Erdogan's hands; they are also making the building of such unity much more difficult, and contribute to pushing a layer of the Turkish population into the arms of right-wing chauvinist reactionaries. Urgently the HDP, along with the trade unions and socialist organisations, should joint in their efforts to organize a large-scale response to the war, appealing to the working class, the poor and the youth across the ethnic divide. Mass protests and strikes should be called: against the AKP-led war, against racist attacks, against police repression and against terrorism in all its forms. Multi-ethnic and democratically organized initiatives should also be undertaken, in order to defend communities from future attacks. ...and breastless creatures under ground Leaned backward with a lipless grin. Daffodil bulbs instead of balls Stared from sockets of the eyes! He knew that thought clings round dead limbs Tightening its lusts and luxuries. He knew the anguish of the marrow The ague of the skeleton; no contact possible to flesh alighted the fever of the bone. The dream was to catch a fish in the East River, put it in an aquarium mounted on a bicycle, ride it around singing songs to it about New York and humans, then safely return it to the river the same day. In June 2014, Brad sung to a live fish purchased from Chinatown. The fish barely made it through the concert. After the last song, it was rushed into the gallery's backyard pond but later died. Hill now returns to sing new songs to a dead fish. I don't know how to save the world. I don't have the answers or The Answer. I hold no secret knowledge as to how to fix the mistakes of generations past and present. I only know that without compassion and respect for all of Earth's inhabitants, none of us will survive-nor will we deserve to. Does anyone have a truck and strong arms? My boss just pulled up all the carpet in his house but I only have a small car and am not able to lift much. Otherwise, the new carpet installer will dispose of it. Airline flights may be overbooked, and there is a slight chance that a seat will not be available on a flight for which a person has a confirmed res-

the federal government if the federal government acted against the interest of the country. The United States military has long embraced the idea of civilian control of national affairs, and apart from certain rare moments the American officer corps has faithfully followed the orders of their civilian superiors. YouGov's latest research shows, however, that officers in the military are held in much greater esteem than their civilian superiors, and that they are widely viewed as having the best interests of the country in mind instead of their own selfish concerns. The country's five largest for-profit health insurers are trying to merge into three mega corporations, creating an oligopoly that will drive up premiums for patients and employers, cut payments to doctors, and pocket the difference as profits. The health insurance industry is a national embarrassment that is costing patients their income and sometimes their lives. High deductibles and limited networks are becoming the norm, making healthcare inaccessible even for the insured. Tell Attorney General Loretta Lynch to block the health insurance mergers, your kindly understanding. Looking forward to hearing from you soon. have a nice day! Regards, Seller In recent days, gunmen have carried out a wave of horrific attacks against the Guarani. The attacks are concerted and systematic. A young Guarani leader was murdered, a baby was shot in the head with a rubber bullet, and the houses of Guyra Kambi'y community were attacked and burned down. Shots are being fired daily at the Indians and the situation has become Brazil's worst humanitarian crisis. The only thing that can put an end to this senseless violence is for Brazil to make good on its own laws which promise to return all the Guarani's land from the hands of the ranchers. Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (1 Oregon) Tufted Duck (1 Newfoundland and Labrador) Flesh-footed Shearwater (3 California) Least Storm-Petrel (3 California) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (6 California) Brown Booby (10 California, 1 Louisiana, 2 Washington) Ruff (1 California, 1 Maryland, 1 Washington) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (12 Alaska, 1 Washington) Curlew Sandpiper (7 California) Little Stint (3 Newfoundland and Labrador) Great Skua (1 Maine, 1 New Brunswick) Guadalupe Murrelet (1 California) Craver's Murrelet (1 California) Slaty-backed Gull (9 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (2 Florida)

Plain-capped Starthroat (3 Arizona) Brown Shrike (2 Alaska) Sky Lark (2 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (4 Alaska, 4 Oregon) Tropical Parula (1 Texas) Rufous-capped Warbler (1 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) Anthropologists who have earned their doctorate within five years prior to submission are invited to submit. Ethnographically-based original papers are invited on social and cultural anthropology relating to the Asia Pacific region, including Australia. The submission should not be under consideration for publication elsewhere, and should not be submitted to any other journal until the outcome of the competition is known. A flash mob invaded the British Museum in London to protest its sponsorship by oil and gas giant BP on Sunday. Dressed in black and carrying black umbrellas, the protesters sang and performed a dramatisation of an oil spill, before sitting down on the floor in the museum's great court in lines forming the word "No". The demonstrators carried banners reading "end oil" and "no new BP deal". Protester Yasmin de Silva, who protested at Tate Britain before joining a larger protest at the museum, called BP "one of the dirtiest and most controversial oil companies in the world" and called their cultural sponsorship "incongruous". Estimating civilian casualties of U.S. military operations is extremely difficult. There was essentially no record kept in Afghanistan and Pakistan for a few years of any U.S.-caused civilian casualties, and most especially the killing of children" . . . the harm to children in war is also indirect--morbidity and mortality due to the destruction of infrastructure which impairs delivery of medical care, makes drinking water unsafe, and makes food scarce. Thirty years ago, French secret service blew up Greenpeace's flagship Rainbow Warrior ship in Auckland, New Zealand, killing a Portuguese photographer, as the ship was preparing to head to sea to protest against French nuclear bomb tests in the South Pacific. Now the French intelligence agent who led the deadly attack has come forward for the first time to apologize for his actions, breaking his silence after 30 years. The USA has its mainstream media entirely controlled by private power. Electronic media, where most Americans get their news, is nearly all corporate-controlled, including PBS/NPR, which take millions of dollars from corporations and acquiesce to their viewpoint. It is extremely deceptive for them to pretend to represent the public interest. Those who manage the corporate news know what to say, and those who manage the corporate government know what to do without being coaxed. Many have recognized this over decades which have left us increasingly militarized, both domestically and globally. Algorithms are often presented as guarantors of objectivity, particularly on controversial issues like security or risk assessment. But not even algorithms can achieve the impossible, that is, applying objective logic, precision and transparency to an opaque world full of irreducible ambiguity and subjectivity. The way in which data is generated and processed affects the results. In other words, algorithms and the underlying forms of rationality are biased and so is the world they help to create. This raises pressing questions regarding their methodology, their politics and their efficiency and the need to examine their intended and unintended consequences. The conference will address questions of rationality, governance and, prediction and modelling, but also look at agency of humans and new generative strategies. This call theme is Haunting, Spooky creatures, frightening places, eerie experiences -- these are the things that haunt us. Sometimes we are haunted by obsessive habits and persistent memories. Haunting can be expressed in symbolic, literal, modern, traditional, abstract, or completely unique ways. What hauntings can your imagination create? There is no national database of missing people in Mexico. This is a country where thousands of women and girls disappear every year. More than 2,000 have been murdered in the last decade, while many more have been sold into prostitution. Some families are campaigning for the government to improve its record of tackling the problem. At present it's like "looking for a needle in a haystack", one worried mother complains. But that's the side show. The real thing is happening at the borders. The European Union is falling apart at a staggering pace. Austria, usually a country where things happen later than elsewhere, is now at the center. Trains both to the East (Budapest) and the West (Munich) are currently interrupted, I don't know if that ever happened since WWII. Germany closed it's border and Hungary, after creating a massive fence to Serbia, is simply dumping 10,000s refugees at its Western border, emptying its camps. Do you like browsing the shelves for books at the library? We know you are trying to be helpful when you pull a book off the shelf, look at it, and put it back. However, the Book Committee wants to save you that last step. Please place books located in each room. We have expert re-shelves who will make sure each book is returned to its rightful place. Alas, if a book is mis-shelved, it makes it difficult for others to find it. The Book Committee thanks you, in advance, for helping to make the collection easily accessible! I am Mrs Gloria C. Mackenzie, an 85 years old Widow. I am from Zephyrhills, Florida, United States of America but moved to Istanbul, Turkey in July after I won my Power ball Jackpot of $590,500,000.00 on June 5, 2013. The jackpot was a gift from God to me. My family and I have agreed to do the will of God with it. I may not know you in person but I believe you are the lucky person chosen by God for the donation of $500,000 USD (Five Hundred Thousand Dollars). Get back to us if you are interested in collecting your fund. Regards Mrs. Gloria C. Mackenzie. We make the traditional natural mezcal which, unlike most tequila, is made from 100% agave. We only use agave, water and firewood to produce their mezcal. It doesn't get more natural or any better. Doug teamed up with a Oaxacan master distiller and set up a mezcal distillery where he works directly with the indigenous Zapotec mezcaleros to make a delicious mez-cal significantly superior to tequila. This production is all done in the single village of San Agustín de las Juntas, Oaxaca, Mexico. We distil mezcal from the finest agave varieties in a small artisanal distillery (this is called a "Palenque" by Mexicans) making the best quality mezcal. Israeli society is sick, and it is our duty to treat this disease. A child of the Black Hebrew Israelite community, in Dimona, September 2005. Black Hebrew Israelites are groups of people mostly of African American ancestry who believe they are descendants of the ancient Israelites. They are generally not accepted as Jews by the greater Jewish community. Many choose to self-identify as Hebrew Israelites or Black Hebrews rather than as Jews. What is shocking about this dismal chapter in our history is that so many members of Congress (Democrats especially, but Republicans as well) sat quietly and allowed themselves to be cowed into complicity in this rush to war when there was so little genuine evidence to justify it. It is now clear that the decision to go to war was made long before Gen. Colin Powell presented a litany of "evidence" of an active nuclear-weapons initiative in Iraq to the U.N. Point after point was made, not only justifying the case for war, but as the only responsible course. Ignored were the conclusions of the Director General of the U.N. International Atomic Energy Agency Mohamed ElBaradei and that of former director Hans Blix, after a U.N. weapons inspection in Iraq, that an invasion of Iraq was not justified. If the prelude to war did not involve intentional misrepresentations, it involved reckless indifference to the truth. The consequences were the same. Ultimately, the "evidence" relied upon to justify that war was demonstrated to be either false or inaccurate. Judge Silberman's concern that a future president's credibility may be undermined by memories of this "false charge" seems to me to be exactly backward. What should be remembered are the terrible consequences of an unjustified and unsupportable war, such as the one in Iraq. History, despite its wrenching pain, cannot be un-lived, but if faced with courage, need not be lived again. Security forces in Egypt have mistakenly killed 12 people, including Mexican tourists, during an anti-terror operation, the interior ministry says. Warm weather is expected to continue across the central U.S. on Tuesday, with temperatures as much as 15-25 degrees above normal, especially across the central and northern Plains. Meanwhile, cooler weather is expected across much of the western U.S., with high temperatures as much as 5-15 degrees below normal. Continuing with Fudo Myos I encountered on the Shikoku Pilgrimage, this votive plaque (ema) was at temple 52, Taisanji, overlooking the port that serves Matsuyama in Ehime. Not to far away at temple 53, Enmyoji, was this fairly modern version Temple 56, near Imabari, was also called Taisanji, and that is where I find these two.... A little further inland, temple 57, Eifukuji, is Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (2 Oregon) American Flamingo (2 Florida) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 Alaska, 1 California) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Massachusetts, 2 Virginia, 6 Washington) Red-footed Booby (1 Alaska) Collared Plover (1 Texas) Gray-tailed Tattler (2 Alaska) Ruff (1 Washington) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (7 Alaska, 1 Illinois, 3 Washington) Curlew Sandpiper (4 California) Great Skua (7 Maine, 3 New Brunswick) Slaty-backed Gull (3 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (3 Florida) Buff-collared Nightjar (1 Arizona) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Aplomado Falcon (1 Texas) Tufted Flycatcher (3 Arizona) Sky Lark (2 Alaska) Siberian Flycatcher (2 Alaska) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (1 Alaska) Tropical Parula (2 Texas) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Shiny Cowbird (1 North Carolina) From: Robert Johnson Time: 08:36 PM I want to look at a WWP19, but I live it Ontario Canada. Does anyone know where the closest one would be. You could email me at bestofbo@i-zoom.net. Thank you. Robert

The Internet and digital technologies have gone from exotic to commonplace in the blink of an eye. The Internet and digital technologies now provide the platform for much of the world's economic, social, cultural and political activities. The resulting transformations in the way we

conventionally do things presents enormous risks as well as benefits -- accelerating economic inequalities which appear to have partial roots in digital technology; the rise of digital surveillance and the surveillance State; the vulnerabilities built into remotely managed and controlled digital systems putting individuals and communities at continuing risk of catastrophic failures; all of this alongside unprecedented opportunities for increasing efficiencies in and universalizing access to information and to the means of production and distribution. and thus for realizing broadly based social equity. At the heart of these developments and their risks is the inability of current systems of public accountability to allow citizens to determine the broad directions for their communities and their own rights and responsibilities in a digital age. Existing forms of democratic control and citizenship do not seem adequate to the task. Rather there appears to be the need for a new form of citizenship, one which can renew the accountability of institutions of governance, of assigning the rights and responsibilities of individuals and communities in the context of this digital transformationa form of digitally enabled citizenship adequate to the digital age a digital citizenship for short. If there is a systemic solution to the problem of overclassification, it is likely to involve the kind of independent review that has been urged on ISOO by Open thegovernment.org in this case. Government agencies that are left to their own devices will almost always classify more information than is necessary or appropriate. Without assuming any malign intent on their part, it is simply the path of least resistance. However, when an agency is required to justify its classification activity to an impartial reviewer, even on a non-adversarial basis, a reduction in the scope of classification results more often than not. This has been confirmed repeatedly. Between 1996 and 2014, the Interagency Security Classification Appeals Panel directed the declassification of information in 71 percent of the documents presented to it by members of the public whose direct requests to agencies had been denied, ISOO reported in 2014. Documents concerning covert actions that the CIA had refused to acknowledge on its own were approved for declassification and publication in the Foreign Relations of the United States series after deliberation by the so-called High-Level Panel composed of representatives of the National Security Council, State Department and CIA. CIA classification of many records related to the JFK assassination could not withstand review by the independent Assassination Records Review Board. The Board ordered declassification of tens of thousands of assassination-related records including millions of pages. Even within individual agencies, the process of challenging classification decisions has borne fruit to a surprising extent. Government employees challenged the classification status of various items of information in 813 cases in FY2014, the Information Security Oversight Office reported. Their classification was overturned in whole or in part in 453 of those cases. It follows that new venues and new procedures for independently evaluating disputed classification decisions would help to reduce or eliminate spurious classification. Negroland is my name for a small region of Negro America where residents were sheltered by a

U.N. Point after point was made, not only justifying the case for war, but as the only responsible course. Ignored were the conclusions of the Director General of the U.N. International Atomic Energy Agency Mohamed ElBaradei and that of former director Hans Blix, after a U.N. weapons inspection in Iraq, that an invasion of Iraq was not justified. If the prelude to war did not involve intentional misrepresentations, it involved reckless indifference to the truth. The consequences were the same. Ultimately, the "evidence" relied upon to justify that war was demonstrated to be either false or inaccurate. Judge Silberman's concern that a future president's credibility may be undermined by memories of this "false charge" seems to me to be exactly backward. What should be remembered are the terrible consequences of an unjustified and unsupportable war, such as the one in Iraq. History, despite its wrenching pain, cannot be un-lived, but if faced with courage, need not be lived again. Security forces in Egypt have mistakenly killed 12 people, including Mexican tourists, during an anti-terror operation, the interior ministry says. Warm weather is expected to continue across the central U.S. on Tuesday, with temperatures as much as 15-25 degrees above normal, especially across the central and northern Plains. Meanwhile, cooler weather is expected across much of the western U.S., with high temperatures as much as 5-15 degrees below normal. Continuing with Fudo Myos I encountered on the Shikoku Pilgrimage, this votive plaque (ema) was at temple 52, Taisanji, overlooking the port that serves Matsuyama in Ehime. Not to far away at temple 53, Enmyoji, was this fairly modern version Temple 56, near Imabari, was also called Taisanji, and that is where I find these two.... A little further inland, temple 57, Eifukuji, is Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (2 Oregon) American Flamingo (2 Florida) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 Alaska, 1 California) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Massachusetts, 2 Virginia, 6 Washington) Red-footed Booby (1 Alaska) Collared Plover (1 Texas) Gray-tailed Tattler (2 Alaska) Ruff (1 Washington) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (7 Alaska, 1 Illinois, 3 Washington) Curlew Sandpiper (4 California) Great Skua (7 Maine, 3 New Brunswick) Slaty-backed Gull (3 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (3 Florida) Buff-collared Nightjar (1 Arizona) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Aplomado Falcon (1 Texas) Tufted Flycatcher (3 Arizona) Sky Lark (2 Alaska) Siberian Flycatcher (2 Alaska) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (1 Alaska) Tropical Parula (2 Texas) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Shiny Cowbird (1 North Carolina) From: Robert Johnson Time: 08:36 PM I want to look at a WWP19, but I live it Ontario Canada. Does anyone know where the closest one would be. You could email me at bestofbo@i-zoom.net. Thank you. Robert

The Internet and digital technologies have gone from exotic to commonplace in the blink of an eye. The Internet and digital technologies now provide the platform for much of the world's economic, social, cultural and political activities. The resulting transformations in the way we

conventionally do things presents enormous risks as well as benefits -- accelerating economic inequalities which appear to have partial roots in digital technology; the rise of digital surveillance and the surveillance State; the vulnerabilities built into remotely managed and controlled digital systems putting individuals and communities at continuing risk of catastrophic failures; all of this alongside unprecedented opportunities for increasing efficiencies in and universalizing access to information and to the means of production and distribution. and thus for realizing broadly based social equity. At the heart of these developments and their risks is the inability of current systems of public accountability to allow citizens to determine the broad directions for their communities and their own rights and responsibilities in a digital age. Existing forms of democratic control and citizenship do not seem adequate to the task. Rather there appears to be the need for a new form of citizenship, one which can renew the accountability of institutions of governance, of assigning the rights and responsibilities of individuals and communities in the context of this digital transformationa form of digitally enabled citizenship adequate to the digital age a digital citizenship for short. If there is a systemic solution to the problem of overclassification, it is likely to involve the kind of independent review that has been urged on ISOO by Open thegovernment.org in this case. Government agencies that are left to their own devices will almost always classify more information than is necessary or appropriate. Without assuming any malign intent on their part, it is simply the path of least resistance. However, when an agency is required to justify its classification activity to an impartial reviewer, even on a non-adversarial basis, a reduction in the scope of classification results more often than not. This has been confirmed repeatedly. Between 1996 and 2014, the Interagency Security Classification Appeals Panel directed the declassification of information in 71 percent of the documents presented to it by members of the public whose direct requests to agencies had been denied, ISOO reported in 2014. Documents concerning covert actions that the CIA had refused to acknowledge on its own were approved for declassification and publication in the Foreign Relations of the United States series after deliberation by the so-called High-Level Panel composed of representatives of the National Security Council, State Department and CIA. CIA classification of many records related to the JFK assassination could not withstand review by the independent Assassination Records Review Board. The Board ordered declassification of tens of thousands of assassination-related records including millions of pages. Even within individual agencies, the process of challenging classification decisions has borne fruit to a surprising extent. Government employees challenged the classification status of various items of information in 813 cases in FY2014, the Information Security Oversight Office reported. Their classification was overturned in whole or in part in 453 of those cases. It follows that new venues and new procedures for independently evaluating disputed classification decisions would help to reduce or eliminate spurious classification. Negroland is my name for a small region of Negro America where residents were sheltered by a

U.N. Point after point was made, not only justifying the case for war, but as the only responsible course. Ignored were the conclusions of the Director General of the U.N. International Atomic Energy Agency Mohamed ElBaradei and that of former director Hans Blix, after a U.N. weapons inspection in Iraq, that an invasion of Iraq was not justified. If the prelude to war did not involve intentional misrepresentations, it involved reckless indifference to the truth. The consequences were the same. Ultimately, the "evidence" relied upon to justify that war was demonstrated to be either false or inaccurate. Judge Silberman's concern that a future president's credibility may be undermined by memories of this "false charge" seems to me to be exactly backward. What should be remembered are the terrible consequences of an unjustified and unsupportable war, such as the one in Iraq. History, despite its wrenching pain, cannot be un-lived, but if faced with courage, need not be lived again. Security forces in Egypt have mistakenly killed 12 people, including Mexican tourists, during an anti-terror operation, the interior ministry says. Warm weather is expected to continue across the central U.S. on Tuesday, with temperatures as much as 15-25 degrees above normal, especially across the central and northern Plains. Meanwhile, cooler weather is expected across much of the western U.S., with high temperatures as much as 5-15 degrees below normal. Continuing with Fudo Myos I encountered on the Shikoku Pilgrimage, this votive plaque (ema) was at temple 52, Taisanji, overlooking the port that serves Matsuyama in Ehime. Not to far away at temple 53, Enmyoji, was this fairly modern version Temple 56, near Imabari, was also called Taisanji, and that is where I find these two.... A little further inland, temple 57, Eifukuji, is Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (2 Oregon) American Flamingo (2 Florida) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 Alaska, 1 California) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Massachusetts, 2 Virginia, 6 Washington) Red-footed Booby (1 Alaska) Collared Plover (1 Texas) Gray-tailed Tattler (2 Alaska) Ruff (1 Washington) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (7 Alaska, 1 Illinois, 3 Washington) Curlew Sandpiper (4 California) Great Skua (7 Maine, 3 New Brunswick) Slaty-backed Gull (3 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (3 Florida) Buff-collared Nightjar (1 Arizona) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Aplomado Falcon (1 Texas) Tufted Flycatcher (3 Arizona) Sky Lark (2 Alaska) Siberian Flycatcher (2 Alaska) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (1 Alaska) Tropical Parula (2 Texas) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Shiny Cowbird (1 North Carolina) From: Robert Johnson Time: 08:36 PM I want to look at a WWP19, but I live it Ontario Canada. Does anyone know where the closest one would be. You could email me at bestofbo@i-zoom.net. Thank you. Robert

The Internet and digital technologies have gone from exotic to commonplace in the blink of an eye. The Internet and digital technologies now provide the platform for much of the world's economic, social, cultural and political activities. The resulting transformations in the way we

conventionally do things presents enormous risks as well as benefits -- accelerating economic inequalities which appear to have partial roots in digital technology; the rise of digital surveillance and the surveillance State; the vulnerabilities built into remotely managed and controlled digital systems putting individuals and communities at continuing risk of catastrophic failures; all of this alongside unprecedented opportunities for increasing efficiencies in and universalizing access to information and to the means of production and distribution. and thus for realizing broadly based social equity. At the heart of these developments and their risks is the inability of current systems of public accountability to allow citizens to determine the broad directions for their communities and their own rights and responsibilities in a digital age. Existing forms of democratic control and citizenship do not seem adequate to the task. Rather there appears to be the need for a new form of citizenship, one which can renew the accountability of institutions of governance, of assigning the rights and responsibilities of individuals and communities in the context of this digital transformationa form of digitally enabled citizenship adequate to the digital age a digital citizenship for short. If there is a systemic solution to the problem of overclassification, it is likely to involve the kind of independent review that has been urged on ISOO by Open thegovernment.org in this case. Government agencies that are left to their own devices will almost always classify more information than is necessary or appropriate. Without assuming any malign intent on their part, it is simply the path of least resistance. However, when an agency is required to justify its classification activity to an impartial reviewer, even on a non-adversarial basis, a reduction in the scope of classification results more often than not. This has been confirmed repeatedly. Between 1996 and 2014, the Interagency Security Classification Appeals Panel directed the declassification of information in 71 percent of the documents presented to it by members of the public whose direct requests to agencies had been denied, ISOO reported in 2014. Documents concerning covert actions that the CIA had refused to acknowledge on its own were approved for declassification and publication in the Foreign Relations of the United States series after deliberation by the so-called High-Level Panel composed of representatives of the National Security Council, State Department and CIA. CIA classification of many records related to the JFK assassination could not withstand review by the independent Assassination Records Review Board. The Board ordered declassification of tens of thousands of assassination-related records including millions of pages. Even within individual agencies, the process of challenging classification decisions has borne fruit to a surprising extent. Government employees challenged the classification status of various items of information in 813 cases in FY2014, the Information Security Oversight Office reported. Their classification was overturned in whole or in part in 453 of those cases. It follows that new venues and new procedures for independently evaluating disputed classification decisions would help to reduce or eliminate spurious classification. Negroland is my name for a small region of Negro America where residents were sheltered by a

U.N. Point after point was made, not only justifying the case for war, but as the only responsible course. Ignored were the conclusions of the Director General of the U.N. International Atomic Energy Agency Mohamed ElBaradei and that of former director Hans Blix, after a U.N. weapons inspection in Iraq, that an invasion of Iraq was not justified. If the prelude to war did not involve intentional misrepresentations, it involved reckless indifference to the truth. The consequences were the same. Ultimately, the "evidence" relied upon to justify that war was demonstrated to be either false or inaccurate. Judge Silberman's concern that a future president's credibility may be undermined by memories of this "false charge" seems to me to be exactly backward. What should be remembered are the terrible consequences of an unjustified and unsupportable war, such as the one in Iraq. History, despite its wrenching pain, cannot be un-lived, but if faced with courage, need not be lived again. Security forces in Egypt have mistakenly killed 12 people, including Mexican tourists, during an anti-terror operation, the interior ministry says. Warm weather is expected to continue across the central U.S. on Tuesday, with temperatures as much as 15-25 degrees above normal, especially across the central and northern Plains. Meanwhile, cooler weather is expected across much of the western U.S., with high temperatures as much as 5-15 degrees below normal. Continuing with Fudo Myos I encountered on the Shikoku Pilgrimage, this votive plaque (ema) was at temple 52, Taisanji, overlooking the port that serves Matsuyama in Ehime. Not to far away at temple 53, Enmyoji, was this fairly modern version Temple 56, near Imabari, was also called Taisanji, and that is where I find these two.... A little further inland, temple 57, Eifukuji, is Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (2 Oregon) American Flamingo (2 Florida) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 Alaska, 1 California) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Massachusetts, 2 Virginia, 6 Washington) Red-footed Booby (1 Alaska) Collared Plover (1 Texas) Gray-tailed Tattler (2 Alaska) Ruff (1 Washington) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (7 Alaska, 1 Illinois, 3 Washington) Curlew Sandpiper (4 California) Great Skua (7 Maine, 3 New Brunswick) Slaty-backed Gull (3 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (3 Florida) Buff-collared Nightjar (1 Arizona) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Aplomado Falcon (1 Texas) Tufted Flycatcher (3 Arizona) Sky Lark (2 Alaska) Siberian Flycatcher (2 Alaska) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (1 Alaska) Tropical Parula (2 Texas) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Shiny Cowbird (1 North Carolina) From: Robert Johnson Time: 08:36 PM I want to look at a WWP19, but I live it Ontario Canada. Does anyone know where the closest one would be. You could email me at bestofbo@i-zoom.net. Thank you. Robert

The Internet and digital technologies have gone from exotic to commonplace in the blink of an eye. The Internet and digital technologies now provide the platform for much of the world's economic, social, cultural and political activities. The resulting transformations in the way we

conventionally do things presents enormous risks as well as benefits -- accelerating economic inequalities which appear to have partial roots in digital technology; the rise of digital surveillance and the surveillance State; the vulnerabilities built into remotely managed and controlled digital systems putting individuals and communities at continuing risk of catastrophic failures; all of this alongside unprecedented opportunities for increasing efficiencies in and universalizing access to information and to the means of production and distribution. and thus for realizing broadly based social equity. At the heart of these developments and their risks is the inability of current systems of public accountability to allow citizens to determine the broad directions for their communities and their own rights and responsibilities in a digital age. Existing forms of democratic control and citizenship do not seem adequate to the task. Rather there appears to be the need for a new form of citizenship, one which can renew the accountability of institutions of governance, of assigning the rights and responsibilities of individuals and communities in the context of this digital transformationa form of digitally enabled citizenship adequate to the digital age a digital citizenship for short. If there is a systemic solution to the problem of overclassification, it is likely to involve the kind of independent review that has been urged on ISOO by Open thegovernment.org in this case. Government agencies that are left to their own devices will almost always classify more information than is necessary or appropriate. Without assuming any malign intent on their part, it is simply the path of least resistance. However, when an agency is required to justify its classification activity to an impartial reviewer, even on a non-adversarial basis, a reduction in the scope of classification results more often than not. This has been confirmed repeatedly. Between 1996 and 2014, the Interagency Security Classification Appeals Panel directed the declassification of information in 71 percent of the documents presented to it by members of the public whose direct requests to agencies had been denied, ISOO reported in 2014. Documents concerning covert actions that the CIA had refused to acknowledge on its own were approved for declassification and publication in the Foreign Relations of the United States series after deliberation by the so-called High-Level Panel composed of representatives of the National Security Council, State Department and CIA. CIA classification of many records related to the JFK assassination could not withstand review by the independent Assassination Records Review Board. The Board ordered declassification of tens of thousands of assassination-related records including millions of pages. Even within individual agencies, the process of challenging classification decisions has borne fruit to a surprising extent. Government employees challenged the classification status of various items of information in 813 cases in FY2014, the Information Security Oversight Office reported. Their classification was overturned in whole or in part in 453 of those cases. It follows that new venues and new procedures for independently evaluating disputed classification decisions would help to reduce or eliminate spurious classification. Negroland is my name for a small region of Negro America where residents were sheltered by a

U.N. Point after point was made, not only justifying the case for war, but as the only responsible course. Ignored were the conclusions of the Director General of the U.N. International Atomic Energy Agency Mohamed ElBaradei and that of former director Hans Blix, after a U.N. weapons inspection in Iraq, that an invasion of Iraq was not justified. If the prelude to war did not involve intentional misrepresentations, it involved reckless indifference to the truth. The consequences were the same. Ultimately, the "evidence" relied upon to justify that war was demonstrated to be either false or inaccurate. Judge Silberman's concern that a future president's credibility may be undermined by memories of this "false charge" seems to me to be exactly backward. What should be remembered are the terrible consequences of an unjustified and unsupportable war, such as the one in Iraq. History, despite its wrenching pain, cannot be un-lived, but if faced with courage, need not be lived again. Security forces in Egypt have mistakenly killed 12 people, including Mexican tourists, during an anti-terror operation, the interior ministry says. Warm weather is expected to continue across the central U.S. on Tuesday, with temperatures as much as 15-25 degrees above normal, especially across the central and northern Plains. Meanwhile, cooler weather is expected across much of the western U.S., with high temperatures as much as 5-15 degrees below normal. Continuing with Fudo Myos I encountered on the Shikoku Pilgrimage, this votive plaque (ema) was at temple 52, Taisanji, overlooking the port that serves Matsuyama in Ehime. Not to far away at temple 53, Enmyoji, was this fairly modern version Temple 56, near Imabari, was also called Taisanji, and that is where I find these two.... A little further inland, temple 57, Eifukuji, is Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (2 Oregon) American Flamingo (2 Florida) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 Alaska, 1 California) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Massachusetts, 2 Virginia, 6 Washington) Red-footed Booby (1 Alaska) Collared Plover (1 Texas) Gray-tailed Tattler (2 Alaska) Ruff (1 Washington) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (7 Alaska, 1 Illinois, 3 Washington) Curlew Sandpiper (4 California) Great Skua (7 Maine, 3 New Brunswick) Slaty-backed Gull (3 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (3 Florida) Buff-collared Nightjar (1 Arizona) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Aplomado Falcon (1 Texas) Tufted Flycatcher (3 Arizona) Sky Lark (2 Alaska) Siberian Flycatcher (2 Alaska) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (1 Alaska) Tropical Parula (2 Texas) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Shiny Cowbird (1 North Carolina) From: Robert Johnson Time: 08:36 PM I want to look at a WWP19, but I live it Ontario Canada. Does anyone know where the closest one would be. You could email me at bestofbo@i-zoom.net. Thank you. Robert

The Internet and digital technologies have gone from exotic to commonplace in the blink of an eye. The Internet and digital technologies now provide the platform for much of the world's economic, social, cultural and political activities. The resulting transformations in the way we

conventionally do things presents enormous risks as well as benefits -- accelerating economic inequalities which appear to have partial roots in digital technology; the rise of digital surveillance and the surveillance State; the vulnerabilities built into remotely managed and controlled digital systems putting individuals and communities at continuing risk of catastrophic failures; all of this alongside unprecedented opportunities for increasing efficiencies in and universalizing access to information and to the means of production and distribution. and thus for realizing broadly based social equity. At the heart of these developments and their risks is the inability of current systems of public accountability to allow citizens to determine the broad directions for their communities and their own rights and responsibilities in a digital age. Existing forms of democratic control and citizenship do not seem adequate to the task. Rather there appears to be the need for a new form of citizenship, one which can renew the accountability of institutions of governance, of assigning the rights and responsibilities of individuals and communities in the context of this digital transformationa form of digitally enabled citizenship adequate to the digital age a digital citizenship for short. If there is a systemic solution to the problem of overclassification, it is likely to involve the kind of independent review that has been urged on ISOO by Open thegovernment.org in this case. Government agencies that are left to their own devices will almost always classify more information than is necessary or appropriate. Without assuming any malign intent on their part, it is simply the path of least resistance. However, when an agency is required to justify its classification activity to an impartial reviewer, even on a non-adversarial basis, a reduction in the scope of classification results more often than not. This has been confirmed repeatedly. Between 1996 and 2014, the Interagency Security Classification Appeals Panel directed the declassification of information in 71 percent of the documents presented to it by members of the public whose direct requests to agencies had been denied, ISOO reported in 2014. Documents concerning covert actions that the CIA had refused to acknowledge on its own were approved for declassification and publication in the Foreign Relations of the United States series after deliberation by the so-called High-Level Panel composed of representatives of the National Security Council, State Department and CIA. CIA classification of many records related to the JFK assassination could not withstand review by the independent Assassination Records Review Board. The Board ordered declassification of tens of thousands of assassination-related records including millions of pages. Even within individual agencies, the process of challenging classification decisions has borne fruit to a surprising extent. Government employees challenged the classification status of various items of information in 813 cases in FY2014, the Information Security Oversight Office reported. Their classification was overturned in whole or in part in 453 of those cases. It follows that new venues and new procedures for independently evaluating disputed classification decisions would help to reduce or eliminate spurious classification. Negroland is my name for a small region of Negro America where residents were sheltered by a

U.N. Point after point was made, not only justifying the case for war, but as the only responsible course. Ignored were the conclusions of the Director General of the U.N. International Atomic Energy Agency Mohamed ElBaradei and that of former director Hans Blix, after a U.N. weapons inspection in Iraq, that an invasion of Iraq was not justified. If the prelude to war did not involve intentional misrepresentations, it involved reckless indifference to the truth. The consequences were the same. Ultimately, the "evidence" relied upon to justify that war was demonstrated to be either false or inaccurate. Judge Silberman's concern that a future president's credibility may be undermined by memories of this "false charge" seems to me to be exactly backward. What should be remembered are the terrible consequences of an unjustified and unsupportable war, such as the one in Iraq. History, despite its wrenching pain, cannot be un-lived, but if faced with courage, need not be lived again. Security forces in Egypt have mistakenly killed 12 people, including Mexican tourists, during an anti-terror operation, the interior ministry says. Warm weather is expected to continue across the central U.S. on Tuesday, with temperatures as much as 15-25 degrees above normal, especially across the central and northern Plains. Meanwhile, cooler weather is expected across much of the western U.S., with high temperatures as much as 5-15 degrees below normal. Continuing with Fudo Myos I encountered on the Shikoku Pilgrimage, this votive plaque (ema) was at temple 52, Taisanji, overlooking the port that serves Matsuyama in Ehime. Not to far away at temple 53, Enmyoji, was this fairly modern version Temple 56, near Imabari, was also called Taisanji, and that is where I find these two.... A little further inland, temple 57, Eifukuji, is Species Summary: Barnacle Goose (2 Oregon) American Flamingo (2 Florida) Flesh-footed Shearwater (1 Alaska, 1 California) Red-billed Tropicbird (1 California) Blue-footed Booby (1 California) Brown Booby (1 California, 2 Massachusetts, 2 Virginia, 6 Washington) Red-footed Booby (1 Alaska) Collared Plover (1 Texas) Gray-tailed Tattler (2 Alaska) Ruff (1 Washington) Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (7 Alaska, 1 Illinois, 3 Washington) Curlew Sandpiper (4 California) Great Skua (7 Maine, 3 New Brunswick) Slaty-backed Gull (3 Alaska) Smooth-billed Ani (3 Florida) Buff-collared Nightjar (1 Arizona) Plain-capped Starthroat (1 Arizona) Aplomado Falcon (1 Texas) Tufted Flycatcher (3 Arizona) Sky Lark (2 Alaska) Siberian Flycatcher (2 Alaska) White Wagtail (1 Alaska) Red-throated Pipit (1 Alaska) Tropical Parula (2 Texas) Rufous-capped Warbler (2 Arizona) Slate-throated Redstart (1 Arizona) Five-striped Sparrow (1 Arizona) Shiny Cowbird (1 North Carolina) From: Robert Johnson Time: 08:36 PM I want to look at a WWP19, but I live it Ontario Canada. Does anyone know where the closest one would be. You could email me at bestofbo@i-zoom.net. Thank you. Robert

The Internet and digital technologies have gone from exotic to commonplace in the blink of an eye. The Internet and digital technologies now provide the platform for much of the world's economic, social, cultural and political activities. The resulting transformations in the way we

conventionally do things presents enormous risks as well as benefits -- accelerating economic inequalities which appear to have partial roots in digital technology; the rise of digital surveillance and the surveillance State; the vulnerabilities built into remotely managed and controlled digital systems putting individuals and communities at continuing risk of catastrophic failures; all of this alongside unprecedented opportunities for increasing efficiencies in and universalizing access to information and to the means of production and distribution. and thus for realizing broadly based social equity. At the heart of these developments and their risks is the inability of current systems of public accountability to allow citizens to determine the broad directions for their communities and their own rights and responsibilities in a digital age. Existing forms of democratic control and citizenship do not seem adequate to the task. Rather there appears to be the need for a new form of citizenship, one which can renew the accountability of institutions of governance, of assigning the rights and responsibilities of individuals and communities in the context of this digital transformationa form of digitally enabled citizenship adequate to the digital age a digital citizenship for short. If there is a systemic solution to the problem of overclassification, it is likely to involve the kind of independent review that has been urged on ISOO by Open thegovernment.org in this case. Government agencies that are left to their own devices will almost always classify more information than is necessary or appropriate. Without assuming any malign intent on their part, it is simply the path of least resistance. However, when an agency is required to justify its classification activity to an impartial reviewer, even on a non-adversarial basis, a reduction in the scope of classification results more often than not. This has been confirmed repeatedly. Between 1996 and 2014, the Interagency Security Classification Appeals Panel directed the declassification of information in 71 percent of the documents presented to it by members of the public whose direct requests to agencies had been denied, ISOO reported in 2014. Documents concerning covert actions that the CIA had refused to acknowledge on its own were approved for declassification and publication in the Foreign Relations of the United States series after deliberation by the so-called High-Level Panel composed of representatives of the National Security Council, State Department and CIA. CIA classification of many records related to the JFK assassination could not withstand review by the independent Assassination Records Review Board. The Board ordered declassification of tens of thousands of assassination-related records including millions of pages. Even within individual agencies, the process of challenging classification decisions has borne fruit to a surprising extent. Government employees challenged the classification status of various items of information in 813 cases in FY2014, the Information Security Oversight Office reported. Their classification was overturned in whole or in part in 453 of those cases. It follows that new venues and new procedures for independently evaluating disputed classification decisions would help to reduce or eliminate spurious classification. Negroland is my name for a small region of Negro America where residents were sheltered by a

